Even Donnelly Withdraws His Protest to the Protest.

SOME IMPORTANT BILLS ENTERED.

To Legalize Lakeside Assessments; Other Legislative Doings of the Day.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 13.—[Special to The Herald.]—In the senate this morning, Mr. Donnelly withdrew his appeal from the decision of the chair in refusing to strike out portions of the now famous protest against the apportionment of senate committees, and the journal was approved. Messrs. Stevens, Daugherty, Leavitt, McMillan and Donnelly were appointed a committee on manufactures. Messrs. Lineaux, Day, Dedon, Haupe and Bell were appointed a committee to investigate the beet sugar industry in Minnesota. J. W. Patterson introduced a bill for a board of veterinary surgeon examiners to be appointed by the governor; Sevastian, a bill repealing the board of steam boiler inspectors. Among the bills offered were also these: Regulating travel on street cars in the state; passengers entitled to seats if fare is collected; bill amending general laws of 1878 making a bushel fifty pounds of buckwheat in place of forty-eight; bill requiring railroads corporations and companies to equip engines and cars with safety automatic couplers and brakes. Donnelly announced the meeting of the democratic and alliance senators to meet at once. Adjourned. In the house: House files 1 and 2 repealing police commission of Minneapolis were recalled from the senate on account of being defective. A good deal of valuable time was then wasted over the appointment of a reading clerk and after discussion his compensation was fixed at $5 per day.

A LAKESIDE BILL.

To Legalize Improvement Assessments Made There; Other Doings.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 15.—[Special to The Herald.]—Speaker Champin said last evening to The Herald representative that he would not announce the house standing committees for two or three days. It is fully understood, however, that the committees of the house will be as follows:

Democrat—Railroads, banking and banks; public lands, incorporations; ways and means; temperance, towns and counties; prison labor; public accounts and expenses; emigration; agriculture; schools; public buildings; emigration; mines; logs and lumber; state public schools; rules and judiciary. Alliance—Grain and warehouses; appropriations; state prison; insurance; culture; roads and bridges; hospital of insane; elections; education; parks; engineering; soldiers home; military; defalcations; commerce; stock; library; claims; forestry; legislative expenses; and labor. Republican—Whatever is left.

The following bill by Senator F. B. Daugherty, of Duluth, was offered yesterday afternoon, entitled "An act to confirm, legalize and validate assessments for local improvements made by the village council of Lakeside" during 1890. "All assessments for local improvements levied by the village council of Lakeside during 1890, be and are hereby confirmed as fully as if the same had been previously fully authorized by law, and all proceedings in reference to the imposition and levy of such assessments had been had in conformity to law."

Senator Daugherty asked for the suspension of the rules, that the bill might have a final reading and acted upon. The bill was passed and will go into effect at once. Senator Sanborn, of Ramsey, introduced a joint resolution protesting against the guarantee by the general government of the night of Nov. 24. Richardson was on his way home at a late hour, accompanied by his wife, when a gang of hoodlums insulted his wife and then assaulted him. Richardson drew a knife and stabbed Costigan, who died of his injury.

Frisco Train Wrecked.

RICHMOND, Mo., Jan. 15.—The East-bound express on the Frisco line, was wrecked a mile west of here at 12:30 this morning. The train consisted of eight cars, including mail, baggage and express cars and one sleeper. The train left the track while rounding a sharp curve running at a high rate of speed. Several of the train men and one passenger sustained slight injuries. No cause is given for the accident.

Government Property Burned.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 15.—The Richmond Locomotive and Machine works were partially destroyed by fire last night. The property destroyed included the armament of the battleship Texas, now under construction at the Gosport navy yard. The loss is estimated at $125,000, fully insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

KOCH EXPLAINS.

He Tells What the Famous Lymph is and How It is Produced by Himself.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Professor Koch in his communication to a medical journal making known the composition of the famous curative lymph says: "So far as I have been able to review the many statements published and communications received, my expectations have been fully and completely confirmed. The general consensus of the opinions thus expressed is that the remedy has a specific effect upon the tubercular tissue, and is therefore applicable as a very delicate and sure reagent for the discovery of latent, and the diagnosis of doubtful, tubercular processes. Most of the reports received agree that many of the patients have shown more or less pronounced improvement. In a few cases even a cure has been effected." Continuing, the professor says that standing quite alone is the assertion that the remedy may not be only dangerous in cases which have advanced too far before its application—an assertion which may be conceded, but the allegation is also made that it actually promotes the tubercular process being, therefore, injurious. Prof. Koch then says that during the past six weeks of his experience he has applied it to about 150 persons suffering from tuberculosis in varied types. Everything developed in that respect, and nothing had transpired to make necessary a modification of what he has heretofore reported. The possible application of the principle underlying the discovery to the treatment of other diseases than those of a tuberculous nature demands on the part of the operator a full knowledge of the character of the remedy.

The professor, continuing, says: I therefore consider that the time has arrived when the requisite indications in the direction shall be made. This is done in what follows: "Before going into the remedy itself I deem it necessary, for the better understanding of its mode of operation, to state briefly the way by which I arrived at the discovery. If a healthy guinea pig be inoculated with the pure cultivation of German Kultur of tubercle bacilli, the wound caused by the inoculation mostly closes over with a sticky matter and appears in its early days, to heal. Only after ten to fourteen days a hard nodule presents itself, which, soon breaking, forms an ulcerating sore, which continues until the animal dies. Quite a different condition of things occurs when a guinea pig already suffering from tuberculosis is inoculated. An animal successfully inoculated from four to six weeks before is best adapted for such a purpose. In such an animal it becomes manifest that the skin thus charged is necrotic, finally falling off. Thus the injected tubercular bacilli, after quite differently the skin of a healthy guinea pig from one affected with tuberculosis."

Operators Mean Business.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The threatened strike of the station agents and operators of the Milwaukee & St. Paul road has ceased to be a matter of doubt. Last night 400 men tendered their resignations, to take effect immediately. From the reports received late last night it seems probable that the strike will be a prolonged and determined one, for the men say they intend to fight to the bitter end.

In Defense of His Wife.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Frank H. Richardson was acquitted in court in Jersey City yesterday for killing John Costigan on his way home at a late hour, accompanied by his wife, when a gang of hoodlums insulted his wife and then assaulted him. Richardson drew a knife and stabbed Costigan, who died of his injury.

Freedom of the Press.

MIDDLETOWN, Ky., Jan. 15.—The Daily News yesterday contained a caustic article on the management of the postoffice and on A. H. Robinson, the assistant postmaster. Yesterday afternoon young Winslow Robinson, brother of the official, entered the news office and assaulted Thomas H. Arnold, the editor. A fierce fight ensued. Many threats are made on both sides and sensational developments are promised.

Found Dead.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Jan. 15.—The bodies of Walter and Miles Adams, brothers, between the ages of 20 and 25 years, were found dead near San Diego Tuesday. Now by a partly butchered cow, and it is thought the young men were killed by thieves to cover up their crime, the brothers having detected them in the act of stealing the animal.

PULLING LION'S TAIL.

Morgan Proceeds to do so in an Approved Manner.

THE SILVER BILL IN THE HOUSE.

Where it Will Meet its Defeat; Live Washington Topics of the Day.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In the senate today Mr. Morgan introduced a concurrent resolution condemning the action of Great Britain in bringing the Bering sea controversy before the supreme court. The resolution is as follows: That the action of Great Britain authorizing and approving presentation to the supreme court is without precedent, prejudicial to comity and to the usual and amicable conduct of international relations, and is not in consonance with the dignity of the government and people of the United States and the respect due to the President of the United States; that the President communicate a copy of this resolution to the government of her Britannic majesty, if in his judgment, such communication be not inconsistent with the public interests.

The resolution was referred to the committee on foreign relations. At 5:45 yesterday afternoon a vote was taken on the adoption of Mr. Stewart's free coinage amendment, resulting: Yeas, 42; nays, 30. The fourth section, providing for the issue of $200,000,000 of 2 per cent bonds, was struck out; also the first section, for the purchase of 13,000,000 ounces of silver at the market prices; also the second section limiting the compulsory requirement of deposit of bonds by national banks to $1000.

Means Free Coinage.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The silver bill, as passed by the senate last night, is a measure pure and simple, free from all national bank and bond legislation or of the financial bill.

The Election Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—At 2 o'clock the election bill was taken up in the senate and Mr. Evans opened the debate.

In the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The free coinage bill was received in the house this afternoon and its reception was greeted with applause from the democratic side. It now goes to the speaker's table.

Directors Have an Idea.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—World's fair directors have reached the conclusion that the World's fair act empowers them to use any part of the lake front. Accordingly architects have been instructed to prepare plans for five buildings there. If abutting property owners object, they can go into court to get redress.

A Scourge Discovered.

MARSHALL, Ill., Jan. 15.—T. R. Cornwell, the newly elected county treasurer, took charge of that office yesterday. On examining the books of his predecessor a shortage of $700 was discovered. The outgoing treasurer promises to make good the money.

A Scourge in Siberia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 15.—A dispatch from Tobolsk says a terrible scourge known as "black death," has reached Tobolsk, the capital of West Siberia. The whole of Asiatic Russia is suffering from the scourge. Thousands are dying near the mouth of the Obi, owing to lack of physicians.

THE NICKEL MINES.

Work of the Duluth and other Companies in the Soudary District.

Robert Forbes returned yesterday from a trip to the mineral regions of Spanish river. He reports that capital is pouring into that country from England and the United States. He brought back some of the very richest specimens of nickel quartz from Victoria township two and one quarter miles from Spanish river and one-half mile from the Sault Branch or the Canadian Pacific road.

In one quarter section in this township the Duluth company, which Mr. Forbes represents, have got large crews at work building camps, cutting out roads and developing. The specimens brought back contain nickel, silver and traces of gold. There are at present over twenty Duluthians interested in mineral properties north of Georgian bay and near Spanish river.

Stock piles will be accumulated this winter and the company expect to begin shipping by railroad to Lake Superior and market by next August.

As the developments are not but a short distance from the railroad the company has agreed to put in spur tracks. The company expect to incorporate in Duluth within a week or two. Among the incorporators will be W. F. Draper, George N. Stevenson and Robert Forbes.

Attention Knights.

All members of Agate Lodge, No. 31, Knights of Pythias, are requested to meet at Castle hall, Hayes block, this evening at 8 o'clock sharp to assist in entertaining the grand chancellor. By order of Wm. Swain, C. C.

A $50,000 Fire.

PHOENIA, Ill., Jan. 15.—At about 5:30 this morning fire broke out in the new 5-story brick block at 214 and 216 South Adams street, owned by Dickinson and Sandmeyer, and occupied by W. H. THE INJUNS.

A Council for Immediate Surrender; To Take Chiefs to Washington to Confer; Some Hungry Bucks.

PINE RIDGE, Jan. 15.—At the council all the chiefs except Short Bull were present, and terms for a surrender were made conditional on the ability of the chiefs to influence their young men to obedience. The Brules wanted to remain at this agency and Gen. Miles told them he would permit them to do so until he could communicate with Washington. It is not believed that the Indians will give up any good guns. Most of them have been searched. Standing Bear promised to accede to Gen. Miles' council and left to council his people. This morning the hostile broke camp early and took the positions designated by Gen. Miles. There was no demonstration. Everything went along smoothly. They are all peaceful but hungry. This will end the trouble.

THE INDIAN PROBLEM.

Indian Rights Association Evolves a Few Ideas.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—The executive committee of the Indian Rights association has adopted an appeal to the citizens of the United States in behalf of the Indians. It says: "The first and most important request is a single, responsible, competent head for management of Indian affairs and charged with that duty only, who shall report directly to the President; an Indian service wholly free from the interference of partisan politics."

"While we do not advocate complete transfers of Indian management to the war department we believe that all advantages which accrue from that plan desired are to be obtained by old and experienced army officers to serve as Indian agents."

WILL GO EAST.

Hostiles Will Accompany Miles to Washington to Talk Peace.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—A dispatch was received at the war department today from Gen. Miles, asking permission to come to Washington with a delegation of hostile chiefs, who want to treat for terms of peace. The request will probably be granted. Secretary Proctor has directed Gen. Miles to send the delegation to Washington.

At the Seat of Peace.

PINE RIDGE, Jan. 15.—Rev. J. F. Hansen, of Mount Vernon, S. D., of the American Abolition and Peace society, the object of which is the attainment of universal peace, called on Gen. Miles yesterday and will investigate the trouble.

Should the hostiles come near the agency today it will necessitate the moving in this direction of Gen. Brooke's command, detailed elsewhere. Private Elliott, of Troop K, Seventh cavalry, died Tuesday night. A detachment of the Sixth cavalry arrived last night.

Indians Coming In.

PINE RIDGE, S. D., Jan. 15.—The Indians are coming in at this writing, noon. They string along the west bank of the White Clay creek for a distance of two miles.

Hostiles' Demands.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Jan. 15.—The train which arrived from Gen. Brooke's camp for supplies, passed the hostile camp without molestation. A number of facts were ascertained regarding the big talk with Gen. Miles. The Indians demanded the abolition of one more general agency and the selection of Pine Ridge as such agency. The reason they advanced for this radical move was the fact that the Indians were continually moving from one agency to another, contrasting the methods of each.

The Illinois Senator.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 15.—Senator Farwell's name will be presented to the republican caucus this evening. Whether he or Governor Oglesby will be renominated or whether there will be any nomination is still an open question.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas M. Pelton celebrated their golden wedding last evening at their residence at 813 West Fourth street, and their numerous friends gathered in honor of the event. Under the arch with the figures 1841-1891 upon it the repetition of the marriage was conducted by Rev. George H. Kemp—the questions and the answers eliciting much amusement. Rev. C. H. Stocking offered prayer. At its conclusion an elegant supper was served and amusements followed. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Pelton were the recipients of numerous valuable and useful presents, which were exhibited to their guests. Amongst those present were the following: Rev. and Mrs. C. H. The new officers of the Gate City lodge, Knights of Pythias, were publicly installed last evening. They are: E. A. Egery, P. C.; D. J. Sinclair, C. C.; William McKee, V. C.; F. C. Daner, P.; H. L. Sleser, K. R. S.; B. Matlocks, Jr., M. A.; John H. Crawford, I. G.; L. S. Notte, O. G. The ceremonies were led by Grand Chancellor Hunt, of Mankato, assisted by Capt. Strayer, Col. Radcliffe, Past Chancellors Cromwell T. Hudson and George T. Hughes of Duluth. Miss Tiny Burns of St. Paul recited "The Martyr" and also sang sweetly the pathetic song entitled "The Flower from My Dear Old Mother." B. Matlocks also recited. Miss Annie Carroll of this city sang Scanlan's "Rose Song."

Grand Chancellor Hunt made a brief address, saying it was the first time he had ever enjoyed an opportunity to really see Duluth. He was proud of the place, for it was the banner Pythian city in the United States. Past Commander Egery congratulated the order upon its progress, and referred to the large amount of money spent for the relief of brothers in adversity and the maintenance of widows and orphans of deceased brothers.

Afterward Knights and their invited guests indulged in dancing until midnight. About fifty couples took part.

The Kennan Lecture.

A letter received this morning announced that the coming Kennan lecture would be "An East Siberian Convict Mine." He will wear the chains, garb and leg fetters of a Siberian "political." This lecture is to be the first of a series under charge of the Epworth league. It is understood that Dr. Dunn, late pastor of the Methodist church, will deliver the second address. They will be given in the church.

Social Notes.

The third annual ball of the Duluth Typographical union will be held at the Hotel St. Louis tomorrow evening. Elaborate preparations have been made for the event, and it is the intention of the printers of the city to eclipse any previous party they have given.

The Ladies' Missionary society of Pilgrim congregational church held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon. The ladies reported $208 given for foreign missions and $175 for home missions. Officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. M. J. Carpenter; vice-president, Mrs. C. H. Clague; secretary, Mrs. Dr. Sherwin; treasurer, Mrs. E. D. Field.

Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Lottie M. Robertson to James Thomas. The wedding will take place at the pro cathedral on Tuesday, Jan. 20, at 8:30 p. m.

The Lakeside Presbyterian church give a social at the residence of Thurlow Abell, Friday evening, to which all are cordially invited.

The Lester Park Social club, recently organized, will give a party at the Lester Park hotel Friday evening.

The chorus for the May festival will meet Professor Myers Wednesday evening next. Already 100 have enrolled their names, and the necessary books have been sent for. The "Mosaic" will doubtless be well given and the affair will be the first concert in the Lyceum.

The installation of officers of Zenith lodge Knights of Pythias, took place last evening and was very enjoyable. The following are the officers: C. C., C. J. Marshall; V. C., Ed. Sherwood; P., James Pilkey; M. A., Charles McLean; K. R. S., W. M. Hillis.

Judge Ensign gave a farewell party last evening to his friends. About sixty people were present. Progressive card playing and refreshments were indulged in. Mrs. G. V. I. Brown won first prize for the ladies. Judge Ensign will leave shortly for a Pacific coast tour.

Amusement Notes.

"Faust" was played before a fair audience last night. Maggie Mitchell—Mrs. Charles Abbott—appears in the city tomorrow night, after an absence of two years. Her initial presentation will be "Ray," with "Fanchon" Saturday matinee and evening. Miss Mitchell is probably the best known star in the United States, and her advent is always the occasion for the turning out to see her of those who seldom visit the theater. She is supported by her husband and an excellent company.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

There has been a noon day prayer meeting organized which is held in the association parlors, upstairs. They have a topic every day. The topic for today was "Beginning." All young men are cordially invited to come and join the meeting. If he cannot stay through the entire meeting he can stay for five minutes and have a word of prayer.

The three medals to be awarded to the best three all round men in the series of three contests held in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, are now on exhibition at Andrew Jackson's jewelry store. The second contest will come off on Feb. 2. A similar series will be held by the junior department, the first contest occurring on the last Friday evening of this month. Three silver medals will be awarded to the best three all round boys of these contests.

Mineral Leases on the West Range. State Auditor Bierman, who also acts as state land commissioner, yesterday issued twenty-two mineral leases to the Cowan-Baker-Bradley syndicate, who lately opened the Buckeye mine near Grand Rapids and La Prairie, allowing them to explore and prospect in the west Mesabi iron range, situated in the western part of St. Louis and in Itasca counties, for one year. The fees paid on the leases amounted to $550.

RAIL NOTES.

Jay's Fine Handwork on the Union Pacific; a Chicago Meeting; Southwest-ern Rates.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 15.—The fine handwork of Jay Gould upon the machinery of the Union Pacific became apparent today in numerous changes in the management. The system of five general managers was abolished. The St. Joseph and Grand Island division is abolished and the lines comprising it are now divided between the Kansas and Nebraska divisions, these in turn being composed of the Kansas and Missouri river divisions. There are also numerous changes in the assignments of the general officers. J. O. Brinkerhoff, formerly general manager of the Missouri river division, is now general superintendent of the Kansas division. Robert Blickensderfer, superintendent of the Nebraska division, is made acting general superintendent.

The general superintendency of the Gulf division is vested in R. J. Duncan, who succeeds General Manager Meek. General Manager Ressegue of the mountain division is superseded by W. H. Bancroft, who is made general superintendent, while E. McNeil, hitherto general manager of the Pacific division, is general superintendent.

Old President Resigns.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago City railroad is in progress today. President Homes, has tendered his resignation after fifteen years' service, but it is possible that he may be induced to reconsider.

Rate Committee Will Wrestle.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—An important meeting of the rate committee of the Southwestern Railway and Steamship association is being held here today. Rates will be fixed on grain from Colorado and Kansas points, and the present rates from St. Louis, New Orleans and Galveston to Colorado and Utah points will be readjusted. The question of cotton insurance from New York, New Orleans and Galveston, to Liverpool will also be dealt with.

New W. C. T. U. Headquarters.

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 15.—The new national headquarters of the Women's Christian Temperance Union were formally opened today. The headquarters were formerly located in Chicago, but have been removed to this place for the convenience of Miss Frances Willard, who is the general secretary. This evening the quarters will be dedicated with appropriate religious services, after which there will be a reception.

Investigating an International Case. TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 15.—Governor Leon Abbott is today holding an investigation of the arrest of a number of German citizens on the German steamship Elbe, last October, while the vessel was at anchor off Hoboken. The arrests were made by the Hoboken police and were the result of severe fights between the officers and crew. A complaint of the action of the police was made to Count Arco Valley, the German minister at Washington. Secretary Blaine has transmitted a copy of all the diplomatic correspondence to Governor Abbott, hence the investigation.

John McCaul Very Feeble.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 15.—Col. John McCaul, the once great impresario, is now a hopeless invalid. His illness dates back to a couple of years ago when he slipped on a frozen pavement in Chicago. Save the royalty which he receives from the McCaul Opera company he has no outside resources. He absolutely refuses to accept any benefits or other evidences of popular appreciation.

Academy of Music, Ingalls block. Piano instruction. Class and private lessons. GERARD TONNING.

A "Specimen Brick."

The above expression was common enough a few years ago, but has now been relegated to a back seat by some of the newer slang. But few people know how much of a "chestnut" the phrase really is—supposing it to have been born in the days of their fathers. Its real age is not less than three thousand years, for an old Greek writer of fables and parables uses it in a short story. A man wished to sell a brick house. The purchaser not being able to go and look at the property, the owner dug a single brick out of the wall, and carried it to his customer, that he might judge what sort of a house he was trading for. "Specimen Bricks" from "The Burlington" are speed safety, sure connections, courteous attention, solid comfort, living up to promises—in short, all those things that make a perfect railroad. Ticket, time tables, and any information needed can be obtained from the local agents of this or connecting lines, or by addressing W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, Chicago, Burlington & Northern railroad, St. Paul, Minn.

UPHELD BY THE LAW.

The Assistant Judgeship Cannot be Voted On.

EXPLORING ON THE MESABI RANGE.

Great Activity There Now; General Local News of the Day.

City Clerk Charles Budden has gotten out the election notices for the coming municipal election to be held Feb. 3. The special municipal judgeship does not appear upon the list of offices to be filled. The reason for this omission appears to be valid and good law, no matter what the attorney general's opinion may be as interpreted by Mr. Wessenberg. It would seem that the special judge knows what he is about and does not propose to give the electors the chance of choosing his successor. Judge Davies took the oath of office as assistant or deputy county attorney Jan. 6, 1891. Therefore by due process of law the special municipal judgeship could not be delayed vacant before Jan. 6. But as will be seen from the constitutional provisions below the office has not been vacant thirty days before an election takes place. There are not thirty days between Jan. 6 and Feb. 3, the date of the election.

In view of these facts an election of the special judge cannot be had before another year and Governor Merriam will have to make an appointment to fill the vacancy. The point is conclusively settled by sections 9 and 10 of article 6 of the state constitution appended below:

"Section 9. All judges other than those provided for in this constitution shall be elected by the electors of the judicial district, county or city, for which they shall be created, not for a longer period than seven years.

"Section 10. In case the office of any judge shall become vacant before the expiration of the regular term for which he was elected, the vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the governor until a successor is elected and qualified. And such successor shall be elected at the first annual election that occurs more than thirty days after the vacancy shall have happened. The point involved has been decided in the following cases: State vs. Black, 22 Minn., 336; State vs. Brown, 22 Minn., 484; Crowell vs. Lambert, 9 Minn., 283."

MESABI'S OUTLOOK.

Exploring Very Brisk in the Vermilion Iron Range.

Capt. Hubbard returned from Mesabi yesterday. He states that the road from Mesabi to the Stone Iron mine, 18-53-14, has been completed. A trench, cross-cutting the vein of ore, has been dug striking the ore at five feet in depth. The width of the vein is fifty four feet. A curious fact is noted that in every place where the crews have attempted to dig wells they have struck the solid ore bed. The camp will be completed this week and the work of accumulating a stock pile will go on all winter and next season the mine will become a regular producer.

Mr. Hubbard states that there is more exploring and developing being done now notwithstanding the hindrances of winter and snow than ever before in any season on the Mesabi. "I tell you," said he, "that the outlook for great activity on the Mesabi next year is very bright. Even now there are more people getting on and off the trains at Mesabi than any other station on the road, after you leave Lakeside and Lester Park."

A BIG INCREASE.

Banking Capital and Surplus of Duluth Reaches Nearly $3,000,000.

As noted, the meeting of the American Exchange bank was held last evening. Also as was stated would be the case the bank put $40,000 to its surplus fund making it $235,000 and declared its usual semi-annual dividend. The bank also, most important matter of all, decided to increase its capital stock to $500,000, a jump of $175,000 from the present capital, and thus giving it a total working of $765,000.

Directors and officers were elected as follows: Directors: H. M. Peyton, J. H. Upham, George Spencer, J. D. Ensing, M. J. Forbes, A. R. Macfarlane and James C. Hunter. Officers: H. M. Peyton, president; A. R. Macfarlane, manager; James C. Hunter, cashier; David R. Forgan, assistant cashier.

The total banking capital and surplus of Duluth banks, when the changes and additions outlined in The Herald's article yesterday are made, will reach the splendid figure of $2,730,000. While this may be reduced by developments of this next week or two, and of which The Herald is not yet at liberty to speak, by $25,000, it will probably be increased in a month by $300,000, on the starting of the new national bank, making a grand total of $3,055,000.

All Would Lead.

There is said to be a slight hitch in the organization of the new national bank. The money, $300,000, is practically raised, but there the matter rests. A telegram was received this morning from St. Joseph, Mo., stating that a certain business man of that city would take $50,000 stock. One Eastern capitalist has placed $125,000, while two others have signified their willingness to subscribe $25,000 and $50,000 respectively. But the rub is said to come in making up the official personnel. All the heavier outside subscribers want to be president.

An Oil Mill Tale.

The National Lined Oil company has made no movement in regard to the establishment of its proposed mill in this city. Some time ago The Herald mentioned the fact that an Illinois company had begun negotiations for a Duluth location, and this paper is pleased to say that these negotiations are said by those interested, likely to prove successful, in fact, the deal is claimed to be nearly closed. The plant proposed will cost something like $100,000.

CITY BRIEFS.

Several hundred dollars of good Duluth money changed hands on the result of the Dempsey-Fitzsimmons fight. Odds, unhappily, were on Dempsey.

The following variations in temperature were recorded at Pioneer Fuel company's office, Hotel St. Louis, 336 Superior street: 12 m., 1° above; 3 p. m., 4° above; 6 p. m., 5° above; 9 p. m., 6° above; 7 a. m., 2° above; 9 a. m., 2° below; 12 m., 3° below. Maximum, 6° above; minimum, 3° below; daily range, 9°.

Manager Toie of the Spalding billiard room, will get up an amateur pool tournament.

CLARK & CROSSLY, 402 Palladio building.

The Reason Why.

Many inquiries have been made as to the reason why M. S. Burrows & Co. should start in a removal sale at this early day, not expecting to move into their new store until summer. The answer is very simple. The present stock consists of heavy-weight clothing which must be sold in the winter season, and as Burrows & Co. have determined to open up with nothing but a new stock they have put their prices at a figure that will clean out everything before the season for such goods is over.

You Were Once Beautiful, Madam. But your glass tells you that you are no longer. Why is this? It is because you are suffering from functional derangement. It cures all those weaknesses, backaching, bearing-down pains peculiar to your sex. An Equivalent for Suicide.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide? Scarcely. For example, the deadly progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly swift in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is the simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication is specially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is shorn at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow and anticipate the worst. The Bitters which annihilates these growing troubles also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malaria and liver complaints. Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

NEWS FROM OVERSEA.

KOCH ANNOUNCES HIS LYMPH.

For Financial Reasons the Czar Will Cease Jewish Persecutions.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—As was announced would be the case, the composition of Prof. Koch's curative lymph was today made public by authority. The lymph consists of a glycerine extract obtained by the pure cultivation of tuberculosis bacilli.

IN FAR INDIA

And Where the Arabian Slave Trade Flourishes.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Advices from India state that an expedition is being prepared to advance against the notorious Black mountain chief, Hasam Ali, who refuses to submit to British authority. In an answer to a message from the viceroy demanding submission, Hasam Ali sent word that he never would recognize the "infidel queen."

Eastern advices show that slave hunting in the countries bordering the Red sea is increasing despite the efforts of civilized nations to cause the extinction of the traffic.

INTELLIGENCE FROM FRANCE.

Death of an Aged Spanish Hero is Announced.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Palais de Justice, which was partially destroyed by fire at Rouen yesterday, was one of the most interesting monuments of art in France. It was perhaps the finest example of renaissance architecture extant. It is hoped that the ruined portions of the building may be restored, but many of its most beautiful features can hardly be reproduced by modern workmanship.

From Portugal comes the news of the death, at the age of 93, of Joaquin Schios, who saved the lives of many shipwrecked persons and was decorated by numerous societies. A short time ago, owing to the feeling against Great Britain in Portugal, he returned three British medals to the societies that presented them.

FROM BERLIN.

Misery and Suffering: Proposed Invasion in African Soil.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Rescuing parties have succeeded in reaching the land of Syll, off the coast of Schleswig, where the utmost misery has existed owing to the ice blockade. Many of the people were without food or fire.

Advices from Constantinople state that word has been received of a proposed French expedition against Ghadamah, lying between Tripoli and the Soudan, and claimed to be within the territory of the sultan. The sultan is prepared to protest vigorously should such a movement be undertaken.

Many crews of vessels ice bound in the Elbe have deserted their posts, fearing that the vessels will be crushed and sunk. Heavy snow storms are again prevalent in East Prussia, and have caused a general suspension of railway traffic.

Regarding Russian Persecution.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 15.—Not much confidence as yet is reposed in the rumor that the minister of finance has persuaded the czar to cease for the time the persecution of the Jews. It is a fact, however, that Russia will soon need an enormous amount of money to undertake the construction of the Siberia railway, of which M. Vishnegradski is a powerful advocate, and an appeal will have to be made to British and German as well as French money centers, in all of which the Jews have much influence.

Czar's Peace Offering.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 15.—The czar has presented the shah of Persia thirty Khirgiz horses of the finest breed, which have been shipped from Baku. Several Cossacks are accompanying the horses to Teheran, where they will be formed into an artillery battery on the European model. The four steel cannon with which this battery will be equipped are also a present from the czar.

Dan Rice in Trouble.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The case of Dan Rice, the veteran showman, charged with the larceny of manuscript from Marvin Clarke, the blind journalist, is again before the Tombs police court. Rice employed Clarke to write a play, giving him no salary, but a share of the profits. Subsequently, during an interview between the two men at the Press club, Rice, it is alleged, appropriated a satchel containing the papers.

As to Colorado's Display.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 15.—A special meeting of the board of trade is being held today to formulate the views of the commercial interests regarding an adequate display of Colorado at the World's fair. Vice President Bryan, of the Chicago directory, is present for the purpose of enlightening the gathering.

Post Office Robbed.

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 15.—The safe in the postoffice here was blown open and robbed yesterday. The thieves secured $2300, besides the contents of twenty-four registered letters. The amount of money in the latter is supposed to be large. H. Heifer of Barnwell, S. C., has been arrested on suspicion.

Operators' Salaries Advanced.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 15.—Several weeks ago the telegraph operators employed on the Nickel Plate road, between Chicago and Cleveland, signed a petition asking for an increase of salaries. The petition was presented to General Manager Williams at Cleveland. The result of the matter is that the men were yesterday notified that hereafter they will receive an advance of $5 per month all round.

Electric Light Company Embarrassed. NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The sheriff has levied upon the office furniture of the United Electric Traction company, whose factory is at Marion, N. J. Three attachments have been entered against the company aggregating $1000 and there is a judgment for $804 against it. The total amount of indebtedness is $150,000. The company was incorporated in March, 1890, under New Jersey laws with an authorized stock of $7,000,000. Lately the business of equipping electric railways tied up a good deal of money and collections have been poor.

Mail Carrier Snow Bound.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 15.—Samuel Henchman, a mail carrier in Randolph county, failed to put in his regular appearance on the day after the terrible snow storm about three weeks ago. A search was made for him a few days since and he was found alive, but snow bound in a small shanty in the mountains.

WHAT THE BIG 'UN SAYS.

Sullivan, Actor, on the Fitzsimmons-Dempsey Scrap.

DEMPSEY NOT IN IT ANYWHERE.

And Fitz Walks Home $16,000 Richer; A Match For Any one.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The Chicago sports who backed Dempsey last night, outnumbered the Fitzsimmons men ten to one. And when the news of Dempsey's defeat arrived it had a marvelous effect. The enthusiastic Dempsey worshippers at first could hardly believe the report. A prominent resort on Monroe street was crowded until the result of the fight was known, and in less than half an hour later only a few stragglers remained. The manager was kept busy at the telephone answering inquiries from Elgin, the Town of Lake, Englewood and elsewhere. Everybody seemed to have bet on the nonpareil and up to the time the result became known bets were running 100 to ninety on Dempsey.

John L. Sullivan could scarcely realize that Dempsey had been beaten. He said: "Poor fellow! I did not believe anyone near his weight could do him with or without gloves. If the fight was on his merits all the way through Fitzsimmons must be a whirlwind."

"Did you have much money on him, John?" was asked.

"Oh! a few hundred or so. But it isn't that that breaks me up. It's the fact that Jack was done up; see? I admired Dempsey as a fighter and a gentleman. I always regarded him as one of my best friends. Then, again, I considered him the best middle-weight on earth, and although I did not overlook the fact that he was bound to run against a man sooner or later, I never dreamed that a man of Fitzsimmons' caliber would give him any bother."

"How do you account for it?"

"How do I account for it? You might as well ask me to account for the spots on the sun. It is one of those things that can't be accounted for. I understood that Dempsey was not in it at any stage. That makes it all the harder, as he must have been in condition. It may be like this: Dempsey has trained too often and it is not the actual fighting but the training that breaks a man up. All Jack's fights have been at weight, or close to it, and he always had to train for them. When La Blanche whipped him I thought it was the merest accident and I think so yet. I think also that nobody knew that better than the man himself. Well, I guess it's all up with Dempsey now." and the big fellow heaved a four horse-power sigh. "He'll never recover from his licking. The poor fellow's heart must be broken."

THE FIGHT.

How Easily Fitzsimmons Wound up His One-Time Rival.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 15.—In last night's fight the Oregon man was clearly outclassed from the start, but he stuck to it until nature would no longer exert herself. Fitzsimmons fought fair, and even the most chagrined friends of the vanquished are forced to admit that he is the most humane fighter that has ever done battle in the ring. At the same time he had no business in the arena with Dempsey. He is simply a heavy-weight sweated out and trained down to a requisite figure. He is as tall as Sullivan and with a longer reach. Fed up to 130 and he would give the Boston boy the hardest time he has yet experienced. He could play with Kilrain like a child. Muldoon says that with twenty pounds more of muscle Fitzsimmons could fight any man living, Sullivan not barred.

As a result of the fight it is not unlikely that the question of height and reach will hereafter cut as important a figure in the making of matches as that of weight. This matter is in the mouth of every loser this morning. It is said that no less than ten women were in the audience in male attire.

Budd Renaud, the noted sporting authority of this city, won $40,000 for himself and $150,000 for people in a score of places East and West who had sent him money to bet. Parson Davies, of Chicago, is another heavy winner.

The greatest crowds on record gathered last evening to witness the Dempsey-Fitzsimmons match. At 5 o'clock the amphitheater was fairly besieged with a throng that clamored for admission, and when the doors were opened fully 3,000 people pressed in, leaving nearly half that number on the outside. It was a hard fought battle and came to a close without any trouble or disturbance.

Bob Fitzsimmons, the Australian wonder, bears the title of middleweight champion of the world, and when he left the rooms of the Olympic to meet his wife in his apartments on Royal street, a certified check for $11,000 was presented to him. Tomorrow his backers will receive another check for $500 additional, making a total of $16,000 for his night's work. Dempsey has received his coup. He did his best, but he was not in it. At the opening both men sparred cautiously. Fitzsimmons led out with a right giving Dempsey a resounding whack in the left jaw. Dempsey responded with a right, reaching Fitzsimmons' face lightly. With heavy right and left handers Fitz drove Dempsey to the ropes when the latter clinched. Dempsey caught his opponent fully in the mouth, following it up by a hard blow. Dempsey returned with a heavy body blow and time was called.

The second and third were similar to the first, but it became evident that Dempsey was weakening. He fought well, however, until the Australian drove him to his corner and with a heavy breast blow sent him sprawling on the ground. Dempsey jumped up quickly, but was groggy, and his adversary punched him around the ring.

It was plain that the Australian had the best of it. His blows, if anything, grew harder and his opponent was repeatedly sent to his knees. The eleventh round was a fair sample of the latter half of the fight. Fitz crowded Jack and landed two lefts.

Jack fell on the ropes. Bob landed a terrific left and Dempsey staggered. Dempsey led for the stomach and Bob landed a terrific left and floored Dempsey. Bob knocked him down again, let him get up and landed a terrific right and left.

The thirteenth was the last. Dempsey staggered to the center. He clinched at the first attempt of Fitz to strike. The Australian pushed him away, let out with a short arm which barely touched him. He fell to the ground. Twice he essayed to rise but rolled over and over. Time was called and failing to respond the fight was awarded to Fitzsimmons.

From all appearances Fitz could have done the fight over again without leaving a ring. Dempsey was taken in a carriage to his boarding house, while Fitz put on his clothes and walked home with his seconds. The fight lasted forty-nine minutes.

Local Pugilists.

While Dempsey and Fitzsimmons were getting ready for their fight at New Orleans, Duluth was not without a sporting event. The other night two well-known young men of this city met in the ring to settle a dispute with gloves. The fight is said to have been the culmination of a love affair. The battle took place in an uptown office, in the presence of two seconds and a time keeper, Marquis of Queensbury rules. In the first round honors were even, but in the second there was a clean knockout.

How to Break Up a Severe Cold.

From the Virginia City, Mont., Mailer: When we find a medicine we know to possess genuine merit, we consider it a duty, and we take pleasure in selling the public what it is. Such a medicine we found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. By the use of this syrup we have relieved, in a few hours, severe colds, and in the course of two or three days, entirely broken them up, as have several of our friends to whom we have recommended it. It is all it is represented to be by the manufacturers. If you have a cough and want to stop it, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will do the work. For sale by druggists.

EXTENDING THE CITY.

The council committee revising the city charter reports this evening, on the work thus far done, and its report will command general interest. A signal feature in it is the proposed extension of the boundaries of the city. This is a concern that touches all now living or who will live along the head of the lakes, and is of the utmost consequence to the future of Duluth. It is a question of growing urgency whether there shall be one harmonious and great plan of development of the foundations lined along the lake and river shore, or a patchwork of local development restricted, incongruous and jarring. If the outlying fringe of settlements were simply suburban dependencies or were content to be so, the question of inclusion might be deferred until they fell, one after another, into the expanding bosom of the central city, in the natural sequence of growth. This has been the story of the development of Chicago, Boston and the cities of the country at large.

But Duluth's position and the conditions at the head of the lakes are exceptional if not unique. The expansion of the city so far is chiefly confined to narrow lines at the base of the hill range, running from the Lester river to Fond du Lac, now dotted with independent and competing settlements. If each is left to follow out what it deems its own special interests, in disregard of what others are doing and in possible conflict with the common interest, we shall see a row of little cities with swelling throats, like the frog in the fable, so intent on puffing themselves up that they do not see the folly and the injury to all of their self-assertion and separation. The danger that the rivals on the line will grow apart in feeling and action instead of growing together, and lose the credit and power of union is one of the strongest reasons against the continuance of the present state of things. The extension of the bounds of the city to include all would be for the common credit of all included, beyond any which individuals could hope for, and permit a systematic and grand development of the head of the lakes in one great Duluth. That is the ideal city which The Herald wants to see and every judicious advance to this end it is glad to support. But with the present deficiencies of communication, thinness of settlement and other objections stand against the extraordinary extension proposed for the present, and urge the confinement of its scope to the nearer suburbs. We want to take in the whole, but for the day we do not want to see Duluth bite off more than she can chew.

THAT STATE PARK.

The urgent suggestion of State Geologist Winchell favoring a state park in the region near Duluth seems to meet great favor. Leading journals of the Twin cities, who might not be supposed to look on the project with favor, say that the legislature ought to memorialize congress to transfer to the state sufficient government land, timbered, to make a state park and stream preserver. In an argument for a park the Minneapolis Journal says that a chief reason for a state park in this section is that "the preservation of a large body of the standing timber in our Northern counties is absolutely necessary for the main tenance of our rivers and tributaries having their sources in that region. If such reservation is not made the standing pine, or all that is merchantable of it, will be hacked down and converted into lumber, leaving a denuded country with the usual result of the elimination of moisture and the injurious effect of that process upon agriculture."

Professor Winchell urges the setting apart of a reservation of forest land for scientific reasons lying within his own domain of investigation only. The geology, mineralogy, and botany; the flora and fauna of this region, he rightly adjudges valuable fields of research and original investigation. That there are other and cogent reasons any one may see. A strong pull and a pull together, both at the state legislature and the general government, both of whom are in a position to grant lands in the section desired, ought to be successful, and The Herald is glad, not only that public attention is drawn to the subject just at this opportune time, but that efforts are now being made before one of these legislative bodies to bring about its co-operation in the enterprise.

WARNING A CITY.

Mayor Collins, of Lawrence, Mass., has just been notified by the state board of health to warn the people of that city against using the water of the Merrimac river for drinking purposes without first boiling it for at least fifteen minutes, and not to use the ice cut from the river this year. The board says that the results of weeks of investigation made by them show that the prevalence of typhoid fever and kindred diseases in Lawrence is due to the water. By this warning example Duluth may profit.

We do not say that there is a deadly parallel here. The facts so far at hand warrant no such positive assertion. Some cases of sickness here are reported of persons who did not use the city's water supply for drinking, and others of persons who took all needed precautions in its use. But we do say that the experience of Lawrence gives an additional shove to the investigation here, which should be pressed to an assured conclusion, covering not only the water supply, but all other possible causes of typhoid fever. It is encouraging to note that no new cases of fever have been reported during the week and no deaths from this cause, but this abatement should not be taken as a reason for not urging the investigation. The city is so exceptionally healthy as a rule, that a break in its record is peculiarly unfortunate and ought not to be suffered, if it can be avoided, and we have no question that it can be, as soon as its cause is determined.

Henry Watterson says "the vital principle of a newspaper is news, the giving tomorrow the history of today." What's the matter with giving it today. Tomorrow it's old. That Duluth people appreciate this point The Herald's circulation books show. Four thousand copies sold daily, and its books are open to prove it.

The increase of Duluth's bank capital and surplus to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars is particularly notable at this time, in the face of the commercial stringency still existing and the bank suspensions that have taken place. It is a remarkable showing of the financial strength of Duluth, and with the addition of the new bank now in process of formation the city can point to the increase of its banking capital and surplus to $3,000,000 in round numbers, a gain of 25 per cent within six months, a phenomenal record that any city may well be proud of.

The cheapening of the cost of producing aluminum is making possible the introduction of that valuable metal in the industrial arts. The Michigan Stove company, of Detroit, is making hesters and ranges out of iron with which aluminum has been mixed. A parlor stove made of the composition ought to be as ornamental as a piece of bric-a-brac. The Cowles Aluminum company, of Pittsburgh has in the last few days sent out circulars announcing that it will retail the metal at $1.40 a pound. If this constant cutting of corners in the price of aluminum goes on much longer newspaper men will be able to look at it.

All the world may be gratified, for the result cannot fail to be widespread, at the really magnificent result of the French subscription a day or two ago. France desired a loan of about $174,000,000 of perpetual 3s, issued so that they will pay 3¼ per cent interest. Inasmuch as France has a debt of $9,000,000,000, the largest in the aggregate and in relation to the population of any nation that ever existed, the outcome was watched with world-wide interest. Far more than the amount needed was subscribed in France, but 210,000,000 francs, or nearly one-quarter of the whole loan, was subscribed in London. That Englishmen should feel such confidence is a greater compliment to France than the most signal victories which she ever won on the field of battle, and that the English should subscribe so largely to a 3¼ loan at this time is a proof of how clear the financial sky has become over there.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

United States Deputy Marshall Beaulieu: The Indians on White Earth are very much interested in the Sioux revolt, and eagerly listen to all that the papers have on that subject. Those who can, read to those who cannot, and they are quite well posted on the Indian troubles. They are holding their women's dance, but are all quiet and orderly and not at all likely to become excited.

Secretary Hart: The board of corrections and charities will make some suggestions in the way of legislation this winter. They will pay their respects to some matters in connection with some of the state institutions and touch upon a few county affairs. One thing is the continuance of the practice of short sentences to the workhouse from city courts. They feel that this is a heavy expense to the city and does no good.

M. S. Burrows: Even this slight fall of snow and few days of cold weather has made business better, particularly, of course, in heavy clothing.

A republican: Whatever may be brought to Zeke Kondall's door no one can say he is not as earnest a worker for Duluth and her interests, as any one who ever represented this city.

E. L. Emery: Every manufacturing establishment at New Duluth, St. Louis and the other new townships want to use the St. Louis water power.

John T. Langton: There is an unusually large number of strangers in the city this week.

BOOKS MAKING FOR THE WINTER.

"Savonarola: His Life and Times," by Professor William Clark, of Trinity college, Toronto, is published by McClurg. "The Mechanic's Complete Library" is a handbook compiled by Thomas F. Edison and Charles J. Westinghouse.

The steady demand for Margaret Sidney's "Five Little Peppers Midway" has already exhausted six editions of the book and a seventh is now out.

Vol. 39 of "The Works of Hubert Howe Bancroft" closes the narrative portion of the great author's historical series.

Dr. Mary Taylor Bassell says women are the ones who need to be informed upon the subject of household sanitary regulation, and she addresses to them her pamphlet, "Household Hygiene," in the "Which and Thedy Papers."

Mrs. Margaret L. Woods, the author of that remarkable tale, "A Village Tragedy," has written a long novel whose title, "Ester Vanomrigh," is also the name of its heroine. Its basis is historical and Swift and Lord Peterborough appear among the characters.

D. Lothrop company publish "Songs of the Southland," by Miss S. F. Price, "Songs of Life," by Francis E. Marston, and the new edition of Aunson Phelps' book, "The Still Hour," with a new closing chapter added by Prof. Phelps just before his death, and an introduction by Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps.

"From Snatching by Modern Methods" will be the subject of the February article in the American Industries series now running in the Popular Science Monthly. Every man who wishes to understand the progress of the great industries that have made the wealth and prosperity of the United States should read this series. The Monthly will also contain the conclusion of Dr. White's paper "From Babel to Comparative Philology," also that of Professor Huxley's discussion of "The Aryan Question and Prehistoric Man."

A new edition of "The Evolution of Man and Christianity," by Rev. Howard MacQuary, will be published immediately by the Appleton Co. The general interest shown in the ecclesiastical trial of Mr. MacQuary, now taking place in Cleveland will direct special attention to this new and enlarged edition of the book which is the cause of this controversy. In the new preface Dr. MacQuary answers his critics.

The strife between protection and free-trade theories, which occupies so much of the attention of the people of today, is perhaps one of the oldest controversies in the political arena of our nation. In the forthcoming "Journal of William Macley," (Senator from Pennsylvania 1789-91,) it is shown that this question occupied a large share of the attention of those days.

Harpers for February will be remarkable for the number and excellence of its illustrated articles. Among these there will be two papers on Finland, with twenty-four illustrations; an article by Bishop Hurst on "English Writers in India," with four illustrations; Theodore Child's South American paper, "Smyth's Child and the Strait of Magellan," with fifteen illustrations; Charles Dudley Warner's "The Heart of the Desert," with twelve illustrations; and twelve original drawings by W. M. Thackeray—now published for the first time—illustrating "The Heroic Adventures of M. Boudin."

Harpers Bazar, published tomorrow, will contain an amusing farce, entitled "The Secretary's Murderer," written by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps and Herbert Ward, and illustrated. The same number will contain an attractive article by Alice B. Ormsbee on "Young Women's Christian Associations," with illustrations by Irving R. Wiley; also a short story, "His New Clothes," by Rose Terry Cooke.

The "First Crossing of Greenland" by Dr. Nansen is an account of the first scientific expedition to cross the tabular lands of that berg maker, Greenland. It is translated from the original Norwegian book of last year, the expedition having been undertaken in 1893, by Hubert Majendie Gepp, of the University of Upsala. It has twelve full-page plates and 157 illustrations, and is to be issued by Longmans, Green & Co. in two large volumes.

Yes, That's a Good Deal Better.

Superior Leader: The Duluth Herald patronizingly remarks, and the Mining Journal gratefully accepts its blarney, that "none of the Lake Superior cities need feel ashamed of Marquette." Well, we should say not. Though perhaps not altogether enterprising, Marquette is the neatest, handsomest city not on Lake Superior alone, but in the whole United States for that matter. That she is awakening from her many years of lethargy and proposes now to enter the race for industrial supremacy is a matter upon which her citizens are to be congratulated. If The Herald had said that Marquette is a city of which her citizens have every reason to feel exceedingly proud it would have come much nearer hitting the nail square on the head.

Another County Heard From.

Ashland Press: In a circular recently issued by the Superior collector, are found many interesting figures, collected for the purpose of showing that Superior is the largest port on Lake Superior. One of the distinctive motives is to outdo Duluth. That is all right, but in trying to establish his claim he ignores Ashland, because if he gave the figures of this port it would entirely explode Superior's claim as the most important commercial port on Lake Superior. This is a position the collector cannot claim. The Press has claimed that distinction for Ashland several years past and is prepared to prove it.

A Card to the Public.

There is an announcement made in the public press to the effect that "the First addition to St. Louis will be placed on the market Monday, Jan. 19," and this announcement has resulted in confusing in the public mind this so-called "First addition" with the bona fide townsite of St. Louis.

The St. Louis Land Improvement company hereby warns the public that the so-called "First addition" to St. Louis is no way related to the townsite of St. Louis, that the owners are unknown to this company. The St. Louis Land Improvement company has no "addition" to its townsite, but on Tuesday, Jan. 27, 1891, will put upon the market a portion of the First division of St. Louis. Any other time or other property this company knows nothing about.

The Sewers of Paris
Are one of the modern wonders of the world. That marvelous network of underground streams, over which the tourist can travel by rail and in boats, constitutes the bowels of the great capital. This labyrinth of streams is kept with scrupulous care; for any obstruction in the flow of the sewage would be attended with serious results to the health of the inhabitants of the city above. The sewers of the human system are the liver and bowels, and in order to keep disease out of the wonderful city of which they are a part, they must be kept always free and unobstructed. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets are the best laxative and cathartic known for the purpose. Tiny, sugar coated granules, in vials, always fresh.

So great is its popularity that for years it has had the LARGEST CIRCULATION of any Chicago weekly newspaper.

THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT of the paper is excellent, and has among its contributors some of the MOST POPULAR WRITERS of the day.

THE FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC CORRESPONDENCE, SERIAL AND SHORT STORIES are the equal of those of any similar publication in the country.

The Youth's Department, * Curiosity Shop, * Woman's Kingdom, * and * The Home

PERSONAL.

Mrs. R. S. Munger is visiting friends in St. Paul for a short time.

Capt. Thomas H. Hizar, First Delaware infantry, United States volunteers, was last night received at the regular session of the Loyal Legion, at St. Paul. Capt. Hizar is a well known Duluth resident and after approval admitted to the organization.

W. J. Hoover has gone to Chicago to take a position with one of the large life insurance companies as general agent. He has Illinois for his territory.

Dr. H. H. Chase, of Geneva, Ill., who will move here, left last night for his home in order to make final arrangements to bring his family here.

Miss Lizzie Kidd, who was reported some time ago as being ill with fever, is convalescent.

Mr. E. Zugler, stenographer for the Duluth & Iron Range railway, who has been ill for some time, was released from the hospital Tuesday and will soon be able to resume his duties.

Mr. T. B. Alcock's little girl is very ill with measles.

R. H. Harris, who has been in Chicago since Monday, has returned. He was accompanied by Mrs. J. A. Haldeman, sister to Mrs. Harris, who will be her guest for several days.

Mr. Thomas, of Sooy Smith & Co., has returned from the East.

S. M. Carson, Indianapolis and G. B. White, Chicago, are at the St. Louis.

C. E. Dickerman is at the Spaulding.

H. C. Renny, New York, is registered at the Merchants.

George Cox, an Omaha civil engineer, is stopping at the Merchants.

G. G. Hartley and A. S. Chase left on this afternoon's Omaha for the East.

Cast. De Witt has gone to St. Paul to attend the annual convention of the Minnesota National guards, which began this morning. He is said to be on the program for a paper.

J. G. Porter has arrived in the city from Oconto. Mr. Porter is making arrangements to improve his Mexican silver mine, and expects to leave soon for the South.

W. H. Curtis, of the firm of Wiggins & Curtis, leaves this evening for a trip through North Dakota.

Mrs. William Cannon, of Schoolcraft, and Mrs. George Reedy, of Three Rivers, Mich., mother and sister of Mrs. Harry Mason, arrived in Duluth this morning for an extended visit with the latter, who is recovering from a very severe illness.

TO MEET THE FOOLISH FOE.

President Walmesley, of the Bridge Company, Starts for Washington Today.

W. H. Walmesley, general manager of the Duluth, Red Wing & Southern, left today for Washington to look after the interests of the Wisconsin and Minnesota Bridge company, of which he is president, in congress.

Mr. Walmesley goes armed with letters from the owners of all the property bordering St. Louis river between Duluth and Northern Pacific Junction, protesting against the passage of the Superior bridge bill, now before congress, in so far as it militates against the passage of the St. Louis bill. He will try to have both bills passed, as two bridges are needed.

The action of the opponents of this bridge can be characterized by no other figure than that of hogishness. They are pursuing a dog-in-the-manger policy, for they are not willing the Wisconsin and Minnesota company should build at all, while they do not themselves guarantee building. On the contrary, the Wisconsin and Minnesota company guarantee to build and does not want exclusive rights.

News of the Grain Markets Decidedly Bullish.

THE YEAR'S LOCAL FLOUR OUTPUT.

Duluth Has a Bull Feeling but a Scarcity of Offerings; Trade
Notes.

The market ruled weaker today, the early trades in May wheat being made at 1/2c off from yesterday's closing prices. The excellent demand for car sample wheat for milling purposes continued. New York and Chicago showed a weaker market with downward tendencies, while stocks and securities ruled weaker at lower prices, followed by a slight rally and dullness. There was no disposition here today to trade in futures and apparently no outside interest.

Cash No. 1 hard wheat in store sold early at 91c and closed at the same figure steady. Cash No. 2 northern in store closed at 82c, sales having been made early at 82 1/2c. Cash car lots No. 1 Northern sold by sample at 90 1/2c for No. 1 northern grade and 12 cars No. 1 northern cash to arrive sold in one lot at 89 1/2c. Cash No. 1 northern wheat in store closed without sales at 87c. May wheat ruled very dull and weaker. Early sales in No. 1 hard were made at 98 1/2c. The close for that grade was at 98 1/2c bid. May No. 1 northern closed without transactions at 93 1/2c nominal. No sales were made on January wheat. The closing prices today were as follows:

	Cash	Jan. 1	May
No. 1 hard	91	91 1/2	98 1/2
No. 1 northern	87	87	93 1/2
No. 2 northern	82	82	87

Cars on track: Wheat, 12; flax, 2; last year, 38. Receipts: Wheat, 20,760 bu; flax, 594 bu. Shipments: Wheat, 3,805 bu. Inspection: Cash No. 1 hard, 2; No. 1 northern, 5; No. 2 northern, 4; No. 1 white winter wheat, 3; total, 14.

Chicago Live Stock.

UNION STOCK YARDS, Ill., Jan. 15.—Cattle: Receipts, 11,000; strong, 10c higher. Hogs: Receipts, 30,000; strong and 10 to 15c higher; heavy, $3.50@ $3.70; mixed and medium, $3.45@ $3.70; light, $3.35@ $3.65. Sheep: Receipts, 9,000; easy.

New York Money and Stocks.

New York, Jan. 15.—Money on call was easy today and loaned at 3 3/4 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates $45@48; actual rates, 48 3/4@49 1/4 for sixty days, and 49 3/4@49 1/2 for demand. Government's steady; currency, $1.09 1/2 bid; 1/4, coupon, $1.20 bid; 1/2, do, $1.03 bid.

Stocks were fairly active. The general market opened fractionally lower, while Union Pacific was exceptionally weak and dropped 1 1/2 per cent and sugar trust 1. The passage of the new silver bill, of course, made the silver certificates an object of interest. They opened unchanged, but almost immediately began to decline under heavy sales. The price dropped within a short time from 107 1/2 to 105 1/2. Among the railroad stocks, New York & New England was the feature. It was very strong and prominent with exception to the general weakness at the opening. A subsequent buying of some of the stocks unloaded in the first sales caused a recovery to the early decline and in some cases an advance.

Chicago Money.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The clearings were $12,861,500. Foreign exchange was firm at 48 1/2 for sixty days, and 48 1/2 sight drafts. Exchange on New York opened at par.

Following is the close: Wheat: May, 96 1/2; July, 91 1/2. Corn: May, 52 1/2; Oats: May, 45 1/2. Pork: January, $10.40; May, $10.97 1/2. Lard: May, $6.30. Ribs: January, $5.07 1/2; May, $5.52 1/2.

IN THE COURT.

Jury Still Examining the Records and is Making it Warm.

The grand jury of the January term, 1891, bids fair to be a "jute celerbre," as one of the officials but it today. It is still busy examining the county records and may be so employed for a week or more. That the case is important is plainly shown by the fact that today the county auditor was subpoenaed to appear and by the additional fact that several matters were up that "were of great interest to the public but couldn't be given out."

It is six or seven years since the grand jury has examined the county books, and it is stated that of all these years not one has shown such gross errors in management and excesses in personal expenditures as has the one for the control of the commissioners of 1890.

The case of E. Falconer against M. McAuley, suing for $2500 on an agreement to pay for securing an iron land claim, lots 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, 31-63-11, was decided by a verdict of $1900 for plaintiff. A stay was given. In case 202, C. P. Craig against B. Lummens, plaintiff got $315.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, prostration, nervous dyspepsia, dullness, blues cured by Dr. Miles' Nerve. Samples free at Max Wirth's.

MAY BE MURDER.

A Body Found Floating Today About Which There Hangs a Mystery; Perhaps a Murder.

This morning the canal ferryman was surprised to see floating out to sea with the running ice in the canal the body of a man. Chase was given at once and the body recovered and brought to shore. The body was not recognized. It was roughly clad, and had evidently been in the water five or six days.

An examination of the body conduces to the belief that murder has been done. No one has yet identified the remains, neither were there any papers on the corpse to tell who the man was.

An inquest may be held tomorrow, although that has not yet been decided upon. The head reveals the best evidence of the committal of a crime. In one or two places the skull is smashed in, as though from an iron instrument or club. The body also bears bruises, such as kicks would give. The authorities think it a case of murder.

The Council.

The city council will hold an adjourned meeting to discuss the revision of the charter. The revision committee has completed ten chapters, which will be submitted. The committee is in favor of a boundary extension which will cover all the present suburbs and all that are likely to spring up on this side of the bay. The revision also contains provisions that payments for street assessments, etc., shall be extended over a period of five years and will be vested in the city comptroller and city treasurer. Other proposed changes have been already noted extensively.

Board of Trade.

A caucus of the members of the board of trade will be held tomorrow for the purpose of placing officers and committees in nomination for the ensuing year.

The "People" in the Sixth.

A dozen or fifteen met at Ald. Kennedy's hall in the Sixth ward, last evening and fixed up a pretty little scheme whereby a "people's meeting" is to be called for some evening early next week, when or Hart's aldermanic aspirations for the Fifth ward are to be formally launched. At last night's meeting Anderson, not unknown to police court fame, seemed to be the leading spirit and principal orator.

After Lymph.

Dr. Tufts of the west end left last evening on the trip to Berlin, of which he announced his inclination a few days ago. He carries letters from Gov. Merriam to American consuls and dignitaries there and elsewhere and fully expects to bring back some lymph, especially so as he is intimately acquainted with some of Koch's assistants and leading north of Europe medical. He sails to Havre, thence to Paris and Berlin.

TO DETACH LAKE COUNTY.

Our Young Neighbor Wants Courts of its Own.

AMONG NATIONAL LAW MAKERS.

The Elections Bill; Money for Oregon; The Silver Pool; Live Washington Topics.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16. (Special to The Herald.)—Contrary to the expectation of the legislators the proceedings of the morning session passed quietly in both houses.

Passed: Each member of the house was allowed twenty-cents per day for newspapers; members of the senate were allowed thirty-five cents a day each. Referred: Bills for Two Harbors water works bonds, Lake county bonds for county roads; the municipal court act for Tower was passed, as was that legalizing assessments for Lakeside.

A bill to detach Lake county from St. Louis for judicial purposes was introduced, as was one to legalize assessments in West Duluth. Senator Daugherty will spend Sunday at home. The senate went into executive session at 11 o'clock.

A PLACABLE PAIR.

Senators From Colorado Sink Personal Differences for Their Beloved Silver.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Acting on the advice of Senators Teller and Wolcott, the senate committee on finance has decided to recommend the confirmation of ex-Senator Hill, of Colorado, as a member of the international monetary commission. It is understood that all the members of the committee, republican and democrats, were willing to make an adverse report on the nomination. Senators Teller and Wolcott have sent a telegram to Governor Leach, of Colorado, in which they say that Mr. Hill's nomination was intended as an affront to the Colorado senators, and that his rejection is certain if opposed by either of them.

"His conduct in the past, and the usual called for attacks he has made upon almost every reputable citizen in our party who has differed from him, would fully justify us in procuring his rejection, but whatever may be our personal and political differences, we have concluded to request his confirmation. In taking this position we are animated by the desire to further the interests of Colorado, irrespective of personal feeling."

The Silver Pool.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The house today adopted a resolution giving the silver committee leave to sit during sessions and granting it power to conduct the investigation outside of Washington.

The committee met today and decided to begin its investigation tomorrow morning with the examination of Messrs. Apperson and Stevens, the correspondents who wrote the articles on which the investigation was based.

In the Senate.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The senate bill appropriating $1,873,000 for early completion of the work of improvement of the mouth of the Columbia river, Ore., and $815,000 for early completion of canals and locks at the cascades of the Columbia river, Ore., was taken up and passed. At 2 o'clock the senate resumed consideration of the elections bill. Mr. Penco addressed the senate in opposition thereto. Senator Frye has introduced a bill for the establishment of a department of commerce. This would further enlarge the president's cabinet, and add another department to the government machinery at Washington.

A Competitor for the Standard.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—There has been organized in London with a capital of $500,000, the Peruvian Petroleum company, limited, the object of which is to acquire lands, mines, mining rights and concessions, and to carry on the business of mining and refining mineral oils in the republic of Peru.

The Baseball Imbroglio.

New York, Jan. 16.—Shortly after the Players league had adjourned this morning it became known that such action had been taken. It appears that Messrs. Worth of Brooklyn, Hart of Chicago, and Robertson of New York, while having all the proper credentials as delegates, were among National league men. The players, who were in the majority, then appointed the conference committee as a sort of bluff and stopped all work. The committee will probably have nothing to report when the league again meets. Mr. Ketcham, one of the proprietors of the Toledo club, has been sold and that he will get the cash before he goes home. The Association magnates got together in parlor K at 1 o'clock.

Colorado's Legislative Row.
DENVER, Col., Jan. 16.—The two warring factions of the house of representatives have failed to reach a settlement. This morning the combine met in the legislative hall and adjourned until tomorrow. The Hanna crowd met in the same hall a half hour later and adjourned until 4 p. m. The voting strength of the factions still remains: combine, 28; Hanna men, 21.

The Chicago Ready.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The navy department is informed that the Chicago is ready for sea and will sail tomorrow on a southern cruise, stopping first at Norfolk, Va.

OPERATORS OPERATING.

The Milwaukee Road Embarrassed by no Telegraphers' Strike.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 16.—J. F. Newton, claim agent and chief of police of the Milwaukee road, says he has been all over the road and has found no indication of trouble. He says that no strike has been inaugurated today as was anticipated, and if the operators should go out, they have hundreds of applications from men who will fill the places vacated.

The Kansas City division is working all right, and the officials say they are refusing applications for work. Members of the local freight office among the force of clerks there are ten experienced operators whom the officials say they can send out on the line if necessary. The locomotors are brotherhood men and they were at their keys as usual this morning.

Chicago-Milwaukee Operators Out.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, Jan. 16.—The operators and agents along this division of the Milwaukee road went out this morning. A few of the operators went yesterday and the rest wired their resignations to take effect today. Members of the Kansas City division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Operators union say they will not join the strike ordered for today.

Operators' Strike a Failure.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 16.—Officials of the Milwaukee & St. Paul road here state that forty-eight agents and operators on the entire system quit work this morning as per resignations. Their places were filled at once and not a ripple of trouble was noticeable. General Superintendent Collins says he has on file hundreds of applications of men desiring work. The walk-out, as far as officials reports show, proved a complete failure.

Superintendent Underwood, of the River division of the Milwaukee road, says about four of the employees of his division quit work today. He says he does not think it is a strike, as four men are liable to quit work any day. General Manager Earling, of the St. Paul road in Milwaukee, today said: "Resignations are as follows: In Dakota, 1; Minnesota, 16; Iowa, 47; Illinois, 9; Wisconsin, none. These places were promptly filled, and we have experienced no annoyance whatever. The report of some time ago that reductions in salaries would be made on Jan. 1 was false."

The Men's Report is Different.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Grand Chief Thurston of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, said this noon that he had received reports to indicate that the strike of the telegraph operators and station agents was in full progress, and that at least 350 men failed to return to their positions this morning.

THE LYMPH.

French Physicians Analyze the Explanation; Other Bacillus Talk.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—French physicians, criticizing Professor Koch's report upon the ingredients of his lymph, say that the report is not complete, and does not indicate the quantity of the dose or the substance composing the lymph. They contend that mystery shrouds the remedy and assert that the necessity for exercise of caution remains unabated. These same critics say that the efficacy of the curative lymph has not been demonstrated and that no patient treated in France has been cured. They suggest that the remedy be neither overrated nor decried.

Shirley's Consumption Cure.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 16.—Dr. E. L. Shirley, who recently announced his discovery of a cure of consumption, when questioned as to the difference between Koch's and his, explained that his was chloride of gold and sodium; it contains no organic matter.

SOME PUBLIC WORKS.

Work on Life Station and Public Building

IS TO BE BEGUN VERY SOON.

Says Secretary Thompson, Who Also Gives Other Interesting Facts.

Secretary S. A. Thompson returned this morning from a month's stay in Washington and the East, during which time he has put in some weeks for Duluth which redound not only to his credit and that of the chamber of commerce, but also to the city.

"I have had anything but leisure while on my trip," said Mr. Thompson. While in Washington I met Senators Davis and Washburn and Congressman Comstock, and they thought that it would be best not to present any measures relative to Duluth during the short session of congress. On that account I curtailed my visit to the capital and spent my time in Albany and New York.

"While at Washington I saw United States Architect Windoin, and he told me that the drawings and specifications for our government building were nearly completed, and that work on the foundation would begin this spring. I also saw Superintendent Kimball of the United States life-saving service, and he told me that everything concerning the establishment of the life-saving station at Duluth had been passed upon, and that the station would be built at once. It will be one of the first class, fully equipped with seven men, a surf boat, a self-righting, self-bailing boat and other paraphernalia. Some $8000 or $10,000 has been appropriated for the station.

"At Albany I had the pleasure of addressing the convention assembled to urge the deepening of Hudson river, between Troy and Coxsackie. At a banquet given by the Albany chamber of commerce I had the pleasure of filling them full of Duluth, and I imagine they think well of the town."

PASSED OFF NICELY.

A Birmingham Hanging That Goes Off With Much "Eclat."

OPELIKA, Ala., Jan. 16.—Governor Jones refused to commute the sentence of John Johnson, a 45-year-old negro murderer, sentenced to be hanged today, so the hanging took place at noon. It passed off with eclat.

Johnson was one of three young desperadoes who started out from Birmingham on a tour of robbery several months ago. One was captured in La Grange. The other two came to Opelika, and shot a negro who pursued them. For three days Johnson defied the officers, during that time shooting at a dozen men, and then resumed his journey towards Birmingham with his pistol in his hand. Mr. Stringfellow, a truck walker, saw him and walked with him, but could not get an opportunity to disarm him. On their arrival at Gold Hill, Stringfellow fired the police and they started after Johnson. When they overtook him the negro had concealed the pistol. Moor told him he was going to arrest him when Johnson with a quick movement, jerked the pistol and shot Moor through the heart. Stringfellow then jumped on him, as he did so Johnson fired at him and the powder blackened his face. Stringfellow finally succeeded in taking the pistol from him and took him back to Gold Hill.

He said that hard times and poor crops decided him to become a robber.

EDMUNDS FOR DULUTH.

The Renowned Vermont Senator Retained in Law

TO ARGUE IN THE PRENTICE CASES.

Attorney Billson on the Late Water Company Decision; Marine Business for 1891.

W. W. Billson has returned from St. Paul where he has been in attendance on the United States court. He stated to The Herald that he had not seen the court's decision on the gas and water case except what he had read in the newspapers. It would seem, however, from that, according to the learned counsel, that the gas and water company could go with their water mains just about where they pleased and owned pretty nearly all around the head of Lake Superior.

In regard to the Prentice claims, Mr. Billson said: "While in St. Paul I secured from the United States circuit court orders authorizing the use in all the Prentice cases pending before the court, the testimony recently perpetuated under the state law. Prentice's attorneys also submitted a motion for a continuance of his ejection cases until next term of the court on account of his illness in New York. In support of this he presented his own affidavit and those of attending physicians. The court took the matter under advisement.

"The committee in charge of the interests of the property holders in the cases brought to quiet title against Prentice have secured the services of Senator Edmunds of Vermont, to present the arguments before the United States supreme court."

MARINE BUSINESS.

Traffic of 1891 Not Expected to be Much Larger Than 1890.

As yet, local vessel agents have received no notices from their companies that new boats are to be put into the Duluth package service, either on the old lines or by individuals.

"Considering the quiet state of trade generally," said an agent, "it is hardly probable that many, if any, new boats will be put into the Duluth service next season, and even the one and coal trade will demand no additional craft, for our shipments will not exceed those of 1890, while the coal business, because of the warm weather, will be less than last year, and early winter all over the North-west, will not exceed, if it equals that of 1890. Probably the new freight steamships of the year will mostly be seen here at one time or another during the year. I do not believe the Northern Pacific road will order any ships this year. With the present financial situation and the quietness of trade generally the road would show poor judgment to have a line of coal ships built this year. By saying this, however, I do not mean to give out the impression that the Northern Pacific is not figuring for boats. The company will ultimately put vessels into service in competition with the Great Northern, but won't be begun this year.

"Jim Hill will neither increase his present freight line of six ships nor build two 3500 ton passenger vessels for the Buffalo and Duluth trade, all of which was loudly announced a few weeks ago. He will be content for a while with the present splendid fleet."

The Edinburgh Concert company will give one of its excellent entertainments on Monday next at Temple Opera.

"Ray," a play never seen in Duluth, will be given at Temple Opera this evening, Maggie Mitchell as the star. Miss Mitchell is supported by Charles Abbott, and her regular and excellent company. That the company is an excellent one goes without saying. It has been three years since Miss Mitchell has been seen in Duluth, and a large and fashionable audience will greet her. On tomorrow evening she will present "Fanchon," and will give this piece a matinee. Seats have been very well sold.

A Railroad's Defense.
The Minneapolis Journal says that the St. Paul & Duluth has made a novel defense in a suit begun by Ezra J. Garrison, as administrator of the estate of Thomas Lavin, who was killed by a Duluth engine. Lavin was an employee of the road, and it is claimed was killed owing to a broken rail and a defective foot-board of the engine upon which he was riding. The accident occurred in Duluth in August, 1888. The company's defense is that at the time of the accident Lavin was off duty. It seems he was riding toward home, and for this reason, says the road, the man was not in its employ at the time of the accident, and had no business on the engine.

BOILER INSPECTION.

The Animus of a Bill to do Away With It: Accidents Reduced.

W. D. Tomlin, state boiler inspector for the Fifth district, said last night:

"I am not surprised at the bill introduced by Senator Sevaton, to wipe out the boiler board, for it isn't the first time attempts have been made to kill the state supervision of boilers. Such measures come from those who are interested in steam machinery, and who either want cheap employees as engineers or who wish to find employment for friends incompetent to do such work. The last explosion I investigated was caused by a repairer done by a person who was ignorant of the principles involved.

"By the way, we have at present reduced the rate of explosions to about one in fourteen hundred—a pretty good showing, isn't it? The work isn't any snap, I tell you, and I shall not be able to save $100 net from my season's work."

Maggie Mitchell.

Maggie Mitchell, as star since childhood, has commanded the admiration of one in fourteen hundred—a pretty good showing, isn't it? The work isn't any snap, I tell you, and I shall not be able to save $100 net from my season's work.

A "Specimen Brick."
The above expression was common enough a few years ago, but has now been relegated to a back seat by some of the newer slang. But few people know how much of a "specimen" the phrase really is—supposing it to have been born in the days of their fathers. Its real age is not less than three thousand years, for an old Greek writer of fables and parables uses it in a short story. A man wished to sell a brick house. The purchaser not being able to go and look at the property, the owner dug a single brick out of the wall, and carried it to his customer, that he might judge what sort of a house he was trading for. "Specimen Brick" from "The Burlington" are speed safety, secure connections, courteous attention, solid comfort, living up to promises—in short, all those things that make a perfect railroad. Tickets, time tables, and any information needed can be obtained from the local agents of this or connecting lines, or by addressing W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, Chicago, Burlington & Northern railroad, St. Paul, Minn.

On the Great Future of Storage Battery Cars.

COMING STREET CAR SYSTEM.

Cheaper Than the Overhead System; A Number of Experiments Described.

"Not a wire or pole on the street! Each car moving with its own power, independent of all the others. Not affected by sleet, storms or leaky lines in bad weather. Always clean, quiet and comfortable. They must soon supersede all other methods."

In these words, Professor C. H. Haskins, of New York, whose reputation as an electrician was national even before Edison came into prominence, summed up the merits and future of the storage battery street car system in a paper read a few days ago before the Wisconsin Electric club at Milwaukee.

Professor Haskins began his paper with a history and exposition of the storage battery system. "Natural," he said, "the companies that are engaged in installing the overhead systems cry down, with all their strength, the storage battery system. 'It is an experiment!' 'It isn't reliable!' 'It is too costly!' Notwithstanding their cries, the storage battery cars are coming into use and must soon supersede the overhead system, with its disfigurement of the streets and its danger to life. There is no doubt that today cars can be, and are run by storage battery infinitely cheaper than by horses, and when the repairs of the street wires are taken into consideration, at less cost per car than by the trolley."

"The Julien company, of New York, working under Brush patents, is running ten cars on the Fourth and Madison avenue line, and they are giving perfect satisfaction for economy and efficiency. The number will be increased until they entirely replace horses."

"In Paris, London and several other cities, storage battery cars are running with entire success. And in London, also, a cable line has been established, carrying passengers by electricity instead of horses."

"A new form of storage battery that I examined a short time ago, made on an entirely different plan, gives promise of great utility and durability. It is the invention of Professor Main, of Brooklyn. The main feature of difference is in the manufacture of lead plate. He puts in two thick lead plates, say twenty sheets of very thin lead foil, like sheets of paper. Each of these thin sheets is covered on both sides with fine plumbago. The thick sheets on the outside are like covers of a book, of which the thin sheets are the leaves. The whole is then made solid by numerous lead rivets through the pass. The book is then punched, by a press, with numerous holes, entirely through. When this is done, the plates are put in cells and treated for weeks until all the thin sheets are converted into active material. Of course the surface exposed to action is the circumference of these perforations. This forms the positive plate of the battery. The negative plate is a slab of amalgamated zinc, resting in a pan of copper, also amalgamated. The plates are horizontal, one above the other, in the jar. The chemical action is sufficient to cause the plates to rise and fall, so that the same as where two lead plates are used. The battery has been subjected to the roughest usage—so rough that any other form would be ruined, by vigorous charging and discharging, without the least injury. It is extremely active and is coming rapidly into use for many purposes."

Professor Haskins went on to state that at Kew Bridge, London, a car fitted with fifty storage cells, with a Siemens motor, and carrying forty-six passengers and a gross weight of 10,000 pounds, was run six miles per hour at a cost of $1.50 per day, against $6.25 for horses. At Millwall, Eng., an experiment with storage battery cars demonstrated that the running expenses, including 15 per cent for depreciation of machinery and 50 per cent on accumulators, were about half the cost of horses. At Berlin, last year, Reckenzaum made some highly successful experiments with a storage battery car. The speed varied from seven to ten miles an hour, and the cost was half that of horse cars. The experiments of Bauer, at Baltimore, at a constant speed of six miles per hour, show $2.21 per day against $4 for horses.

"I could give many more instances," stated Prof. Haskins, "not only in London and Paris, but also in this country. Although none of them show as good results as those on the roads more recently equipped in Hamburg, Paris and New York, as well as a coal road in Gloucestershire, enough has been shown to demonstrate not only the practicability but the economy of propulsion by storage batteries."

"I will add that the Julien company of New York, in response to inquiry, gave me a written proposition to maintain the batteries and motors for five and one-half cents per car per mile run."

Concerning the cost of the two electric systems, Prof. Haskins stated that the power house and dynamo are the same, and so is the motor in each car. The storage battery system requires no poles, no trolley cross or return wires, only storage cells beneath the seats. With the storage system there is no danger from currents, no flashing of currents under the wheels. Objections are raised to the storage battery system on the grounds that the battery is short-lived, its great weight making it necessary to have heavier rails and a much better constructed road-bed, and the further fact that as yet they cannot ascend a grade of more than about six per cent. The storage battery men are criticised for holding investors back, thus impeding the progress of rapid electric transit that had proved so advantageous to the people. It was further held that there is no danger from the present overhead wire system. On the other hand it is held that the battery has very much improved of late, and Prof. Ayrton is referred to, who shows that the present storage battery is long-lived and gives in practice 87 per cent of efficiency and 95 per cent of current that is given to it.

FOR ITS CHARTER.

West Duluth Presents a Largely Signed Petition for City Incorporation.

The petition for the city charter of West Duluth was filed with Probate Judge Ayer late yesterday afternoon.

The bounds of the proposed city are as follows:

Commencing at a point in the bay of St. Louis, where the southwesterly boundary line of Duluth intersects the state line and running northwesterly along said city boundary to the shore line of said bay, thence westerly on the city line to the northwest corner of lot 2, section 5-40-14 thence north to the north line of section 5, thence west to the northwest corner of 2-49-15, thence south to the southwesterly corner of section 35, thence east to the state line, thence down the river to the place of beginning.

The names of the proposed wards are: Oneota, Mannetta, Steelton and Iron-ton. Oneota includes old Oneota; Mannetta includes that part of West Duluth between Oneota and Second avenue west; Steelton that part west of Second avenue west and east of Fourteenth avenue, and Iron-ton the rest.

The Council Also.

A meeting of the council was held last evening at 10 o'clock. It was ordered that the monies ordered paid at the last meeting be met by the issue of 8 per cent orders. It was also ordered that certain bids put in the hands of the committee be referred to the council, and that the Hartman Electric company fit out the new jail with fixtures for electric light. The committee on legislation and the committee of the whole of the common council then met, and the former laid before the latter the different suggestions which have been presented to them for consideration with regards to charter revision. But little was done. The spirit of conservatism was manifested considerably and it is deemed best to make only such changes as are deemed absolutely necessary. The matter of extending the city limits was not considered. The meeting was adjourned until next Saturday evening.

How to Break Up a Severe Cold.

From the Virginia City, Mont., Madirian: When we find a medicine we know to possess genuine merit, we consider it a duty, and we take pleasure in selling the public what it is. Such a medicine we found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. By the use of this syrup we have relieved, in a few hours, severe colds, and in the course of two or three days, entirely broken them up, as have several of our friends to whom we have recommended it. It is all it is represented to be by the manufacturers. If you have a cough and want to stop it, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will do the work. For sale by druggists.

A SIGNIFICANT SHOWING.

While the government religious census has not yet appeared it is possible to give a fairly accurate statement of the growth and present strength of the Roman catholic church in America, from advance sheets of an official directory soon to be issued in Milwaukee. The totals show that there are in the United States 8,579,936 people enrolled, not as communicants or members of the church, but as "catholic population."

The total number of catholic clergy-men in the country is 8778. There are 7631 catholic churches, 2841 stations and 1750 chapels, besides 218 orphan asylums, 39 theological seminaries, 123 colleges, 624 academies and 3277 parochial schools. The total number of children attending parochial schools is 935,328.

Of the thirteen archbishops and seventy-two bishops into which the Roman church divides its American work, New York leads with a catholic population of 800,000; Boston follows with 550,000; then come the archbishops of Philadelphia, Chicago, New Orleans, Baltimore, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, St. Louis, St. Paul, Santa Fe and Oregon, in the order named. The vast power of the church, with its concentration of effort, its wealth in church and charity, its foundations, its 700,000 children in schools, can hardly be estimated and are a most formidable argument for unification and concentration on the part of the sects of the protestant church.

While the total of 8,580,000 of catholic population does not by any means mean communicants, it does show more exactly the number of this smaller body than do figures of non-catholic parishes. The experience in the diocese of Duluth goes to show that the proportion of communicants to population is as 1 to 3½, for while there are about 14,000 communicants in our own diocese, according to reports just compiled by the bishop, there is a catholic population of 48,304. There is no reason to doubt that this proportion holds good throughout the country. There are, then, a trifle less than 2,000,000 actual communicants in the catholic church of America today. By the census of ten years ago the number was between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000.

Duluth with a diocesan population in its seventeen counties of 48,304 ranks as fiftieth in the list, in its parochial school population it is sixty-ninth, while with its thirty-five churches and twelve stations it is sixtieth in the number of dioceses.

BILL TO REDUCE POPULATION.

Any proposed law tending to do away with the safeguards placed about human life should have no chance of passage; but the bill introduced in the state senate by Mr. Severson to wipe out all inspection and government of steam boilers and their engineers should be protected against.

Possibly it is the thought of Mr. Severson and his alliance compeers that the boiler inspectors have a snap before which that of the senate's extra clerks pales into a quiet hued insignificance. Perhaps so. The Herald has before it at this writing reports of the last year's business of the boiler inspectors of the Second and Fifth districts which are soon to be presented to the legislature. They show profits simply astounding and which may well make Senator Severson's mouth water. In the Second district there was as salary for two men and use of a team the superb sum of $703, while in the Fifth the salary of two men reached $524.44.

The law has resulted in little good to compensate the tax payers for these sums, it has merely reduced the number of explosions from 150 to two or three per year. By all means repeal the law and let us have more explosions. The population is growing too fast and the insurance companies are making too much money.

THE SILVER BILL.

The pending silver bill, as amended by Senator Stewart, has been blown through the senate. As amended, it is unqualifiedly a free coinage bill, such as the Nevada senator has persistently advocated. Such a bill is ill-judged at any time, and particularly so at this time, when the money market is in no condition to dance upon.

There is little doubt, however, that the senate will not succeed in imposing this untimely child on the country. The chances are that it will be smothered in committee in the house, and even if it struggles out on the floor, Eastern democrats as a body will unite with the body of republicans in squashing it. As a last resort we have the certainty of a veto by the President, who has privately announced his determination. For this session, at least, it is only a bug-bear in the hide of a white elephant.

It appears that the council, at its executive session last night, was very conservative, and that only necessary changes were considered. The question of annexation was not officially considered at all.

In another column Assistant State Geologist H. V. Winchell tells of the forthcoming state report on iron ores. Containing, as Mr. Winchell says it will, a volume of information and comparison never before brought together, it will be of the utmost value, and every man interested in iron or North Minnesota will read it carefully.

The Superior chamber of commerce is too narrow to call itself a chamber. It is merely a Superior spout. This we should not notice if it stood on its own side of the bay and gave Duluth none of its drippings. But it is not content with serving Superior. It sets itself against anything that serves or may serve this side of the bay. Nobody expected any aid from it in bridge building that was not distinctively Superior bridge building, but its instructions to Congressman Haugen to work against the bridge, in which St. Louis and New Duluth are interested, is an instance of its apparent determination to upset everything it can reach which is not a Superior institution. Such simply spiteful interference is an exhibit which the sensible men of Superior must be ashamed of. Somebody ought to plug the spout when such dirty water runs through it.

The plague of dirt and slovenliness makes other cities cry out beside Duluth, and it is a hopeful pledge of clean times coming that the cry is so keen and imperative. An indispensable prerequisite to clean streets, says one sufferer, is that abutters and all individuals should be interdicted by sufficient penalties from fouling them. In foreign capitals filth, refuse and almost everything which defileth are disposed of in such a way that the traveled avenues do not become an entrepot for much that is offensive. The government's strong arm deals with nuisances in a way satisfactory to those who do not believe business and dirt to be convertible terms. "When the citizens of any great American city reach the definite conclusion of submitting to such laws as should be adopted for the purpose of restraining individuals who care not for public cleanliness and health, and the business of maintaining streets in a proper condition is entirely disconnected from politics, it will not be a very difficult work, with the money usually expended for such purpose, to purify and cleanse our thoroughfares. Until that time arrives we shall continue to have complaints, not only in an aesthetic and sanitary sense, of the offensive matter which meets the eye and besmirches the garments of pedestrians in any of our large cities, but the same unfavorable comparison with the methods in which they do things abroad."

And that good time coming draws nearer with every rousing of the public to rid itself of such impositions and nuisances.

BALLADE OF CO-OPERATIVE COOKING.

[William S. Lord.]

The co-operative cooking craze,
Which now so many deprecate,
Perhaps in future happy days
The world at large will emulate;
Then how we will congratulate
The few who boldly took the lead
In cooking to co-operate—
The dames who made the old recipe.

If time shall prove our present ways
Are direful and degenerate,
And subject to the dreadful maze
Of Budget-wranglings intricate,
With very much to agitate
And cause our wives beyond their meed,
Then how we will commemorate
The dames who made the old recipe.

The grocer, milkman, butcher, strays
Into our kitchens desolate,
Where neither "flame" nor friendly blaze
Will welcome him affectionate.
We'll only hope and pray that fate
Will send the meal we sadly need,
And, if it tarries, impudently
The dames who made the old recipe.

ENVOY.

On them we, smiling, turn to gaze,
And put small faith in their new creed;
Maytime ere long we'll stop to praise
The dames who made the old recipe.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Assistant State Geologist H. V. Winchell, in a letter to the editor: We have now in press a report upon the iron mines of the state of Minnesota, "Bulletin No. 6," which will be of much greater value and interest to the mining men and general readers of the state than any publication ever issued in the state. It is to be twice the size of the eighteenth annual report of the state geologist, just out, and contains many plates and other illustrations of the mines, etc. It discusses our Minnesota ores in all their relations, geological, chemical, metallurgical and commercial, giving tables of analyses and comparisons with all other iron ores of the world. In fact, it is a more complete and thorough discussion of iron ores than has ever been published, and we think it will be a credit to the state.

George H. Prudden: The improvements to be made this year at Lakeside and London will make those suburbs as fine places to live in as the city itself. A Duluthian: I have been and am still in favor of making a big exhibit at Chicago, but if they don't get to work pretty quickly I shall feel constrained to believe that they don't intend to do anything.

Leave your real estate improved or unimproved with Cormany he will look after it carefully and promptly. Room 11 Phoenix block.

THE ENRAPTURED SOUTH.

The people of Duluth should pay E. P. Alexander, Jr., a salary for talking up the Zenith city, says the Augusta, Ga., Evening News. They would do it, too, but for the fact that every other man in Duluth is engaged in the same patriotic business. Mr. Alexander gets his pay in another way, however, and more than a big salary at that, for he has made a fortune in the Northwest. He is a talker to whom it is a pleasure to listen. He inherits the clear and direct expression characteristic of his father, and is a worthy son of the general. He is full of facts, and for the wonderful growth and wealth of the city where he dwells, would be regarded as fairy tales. But he has the record of Duluth and its nearly 50,000 people behind him.

The secret of the Northwest, Mr. Alexander says, is that the people advertise. They let the world know what they have, and they arrange cheap rail-road rates to bring immigrants and investors. They send agents to every country in Europe, and they bring Sweden, Norway, and other settlers from their homes to Duluth for $27 a head. This seems strange to us, but it shows what energy and money can do.

And what Augusta needs is more confidence among our own people and more money to operate with. If we have it not here, we should invite it. And just such men as E. P. Alexander Jr. are now wanted in Augusta. He should be induced to return to his boy-hood's home.

Mr. Alexander married a year or more ago in Duluth, and he is now in the South with his charming wife to visit relatives and friends. It is his first holiday since he left Augusta, a half dozen years ago, to make his home and fortune in the then new city of Duluth. Now it is a great and rapidly growing city, the place for young men to make money, the place which Proctor Knott made famous in its infancy and which now makes Proctor Knott famous for all time. During his visit Mr. Alexander has been through the West Indies, hunted on North Island and another island, which his father has bought in the Gulf of Mexico, and now is on his return to Duluth, by way of New Orleans and the Mardi Gras.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

There is an announcement made in the public press to the effect that "the First addition to St. Louis will be placed on the market Monday, Jan. 19," and this announcement has resulted in confusing in the public mind this so-called "First addition" with the bona fide townsite of St. Louis.

The St. Louis Land Improvement company hereby warns the public that the so-called "First addition" to St. Louis is no way related to the townsite of St. Louis, that its owners are unknown to this company. The St. Louis Land Improvement company has no "addition" to its townsite, but on Tuesday, Jan. 27, 1891, will put upon the market a portion of the First division of St. Louis. Any other time or other property this company knows nothing about.

An Equivalent for Suicide.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide? Scarcely. For example, the deadly progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly swift in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is the simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication is specially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is shorn at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow and anticipate the worst. The Bitters which annihilates these growing troubles also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malarial and liver complaints. Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

NEW NAME AND NATURE

Manufacture of Tin to be Soon Begun in Duluth.

SO SAYS A MEMBER OF THE COMPANY.

But Few Changes and Little Extra Expense Needed to Make it Possible.

"We have not yet filed an amendment to our articles of incorporation," was what Manager Barrett, of the Ironstone Steel company said this morning.

"Yes the Ironstone Steel company will soon be known as the Ironstone Steel and Tin company," said a gentleman closely identified with the concern when asked by a reporter as to the intentions of the company. "The company has been quietly arranging for this," continued the capitalist. "Six months ago it became the intention of the corporation to manufacture tin, should the McKinley bill pass, and three months ago The Herald contained an account of a meeting at which this was decided upon. The plant as it now stands—or as it is now planned—is perfectly adapted to the manufacture of tin plate. In fact, it is better for tin purposes as it is, for the rolls that turn out the plate are much heavier than those used by the ordinary tin mill, and therefore make a better plate.

"The Ironstone plant, everything counted in, will be worth not much less than $1,500,000," continued The Herald's informant. "It will require but a comparatively small sum for the company to put in all the necessary machinery for preparing the tin for making plate. The machinery needed is that which will melt the tin and prepare it for coating the iron plate. A small expenditure will cover this, and a little larger sum will be spent in putting in a system of stamps for making tin goods. The combined expense will be less than $50,000, so you see it is not so great an undertaking after all after getting the original Ironstone plant established all right."

"The beginning of the manufacture will possibly be the means of bringing to Duluth a tin ore reduction works, as there are at least six men in the city who are largely interested in Black hills properties."

SUMMER HOTELS.

Several That are to go up About Duluth This Year.

Several steps will be taken during 1891 towards increasing the summer hotel capacity of the head of the lake. Landlord Angus writes that he intends to build a large hotel at Pike lake, already a well known resort on the south shore, a few miles beyond Iron river. This place is already a favorite one with Duluthians, as much for its beautiful scenery as for its fine fishing. The new hotel will be large enough to accommodate over 100 people.

A company has been formed at Marquette for the purpose of putting up the finest summer hotel on the lakes, while the South Shore road is figuring building a place at Lake Gogebic. It is possible that Duluth may see three hotels go up this year.

THE MOUNTAIN RANGE.

Progress at This and Other Merritt Properties on the West.

Capt. Pauley was down from Mesabi yesterday. He feels greatly encouraged over the outlook in section 3-58-18, known as the property of the Mountain Iron company. Shaft No. 1 has been sunk twenty-seven feet in clean ore, and shaft No. 2 is now down nineteen feet in clean ore. The second shaft is 300 feet east of the first. The lowest part of metallic iron yet found in the ore by assay was 63.9 per cent.

Pumps have been put in the working shaft on the Pauley property in section 4-58-18, so that operations can be carried on without further difficulty from water. The Mountain Iron company has nearly thirty different locations on its property where ore has been found.

K.'S OF P.

Grand Chancellor Hunt Given Another Reception Last Night.

The joint meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodges last evening, was attended by a large number. The new officers of Syracuse lodge were installed by the grand chancellor. The following is the list: George F. Chester, C. C.; Thomas G. Thompson, V. C.; S. E. Heberling, P.; W. H. Daniels, R. E. S.; O. C. Reitan, M. E.; A. Freimuth, M. F.; J. W. Disney, M. A.; Joseph Holdsworth, I. G.; J. D. Rowland, O. G.

Interesting addresses were delivered by Grand Chancellor Hunt, Ellsworth Benham, of Lebanon Cedar lodge, W. T. Scanlon, of the Canfield lodge, Chicago, and others.

By a unanimous vote a resolution was passed thanking Miss Taylor, matron of St. Luke's hospital, of this city, for the splendid care and attention W. T. Scanlon had received while in that hospital.

Rights for Patent Furniture.

The Duluth Furniture factory is already arranging for increasing its trade facilities. It has secured manufacturers' right to make a recently patented folding dresser and commode combined. This piece of furniture has a box like upright, fashioned like a small chest of drawers, but instead of drawers the box is a water tank, and from it a faucet carries the water to a basin that folds into the body of the dresser. The company has also the right to build a patent book case.

Entertained the King of the Canfield Islands.

A letter recently received from a Duluth friend in San Diego states that at the recent visit of King Kalakaua to that place an excursion was taken to National City, where the king and his party were entertained at the house of Col. W. G. Dickenson, formerly of Duluth, and who spent much time here last summer visiting his friend J. D. Ray. The letter does not state whether Col. Dickenson has a poker room handy in his house.

To Right a False Impression.

If people had their own ways at times there would be attendant some disastrous results. The cause of the non-payment of a dividend by the assignee of Bell's bank is very simple. Assignee Markell has on hand some $80,000 or $90,000, but there is an outstanding indebtedness, secured by paper of a value of more than double the amount of the liabilities, and it is the intention of the bank to wipe out this indebtedness with funds now on hand, so that when the negotiable paper is called in it can be sold at full value; whereas if the securities were sold to pay the debts they secure the amount brought by the forced sale might be much less than the value of the stocks. This action is taken under competent legal counsel.

Working Under a Charter.

The retail clerks held their meeting last evening. Their charter from the national association was received. An invitation to call was accepted from the new union of Superior, and the union will attend a meeting there next Tuesday. A discussion took place on the future of the grand jury to indict storekeepers who refused to conform to the Sunday law.

Two Trains Daily.

That some important changes are to be made in the passenger service of the South Shore is a piece of news that has just been confirmed at headquarters. From some date this spring the route will begin running both a day and a night train. The night train will have a through coach for Boston, which on the day train is a sleeper for Buffalo, via Mackinaw, will be put on.

MARION, Ind., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Steele, wife of Governor Steele, of Oklahoma, was seriously injured Wednesday evening by a fall on the icy pavement. There are apprehensions as to her recovery.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

J. H. Gallinger was yesterday nominated United States senator for Vermont.

A warehouse of furniture, paints and coffins, belonging to Buckstaff, Edwards & Co., of Oakkosh, Wis., was burned yesterday. Loss about $8000, covered by insurance.

Edw. H. Horner, a banker at 88 Wall street, N. Y., has been arrested for sending lottery circulars through the mails. His arrest was made on the strength of seven indictments found against prisoners in Springfield, Ill.

Pat Farrell, of Pittsburgh, wants to fight Fitzsimmons. He will fight under the same conditions accorded by Dempsey, except that their weight be 158.

Probably Jumped.

St. PAUL, Jan. 16.—Wallace Lethere, a nephew of Gen. Law Wallace and of William Wallace, postmaster of Indianapolis, was picked up this morning out side of the Lyons building, where he roomed, he having fallen or jumped from a window of his room, three stories above. It is supposed to be a case of suicide.

Having had a number of inquiries for old negatives left from my photo business, I will look them up for a small compensation of from twenty-five cents to $1 each. Mail, postal or call at room 11, Phoenix block. M. L. CORMANY.

The articles of incorporation may be seen at said office, and any further information may be obtained at the office.

A CANADIAN OPINION.

Mr. Mills Shows a Knowledge of International Questions.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 16.—David H. Mills, high authority on international law, said: "Unless it has been agreed between the two governments that there shall be a test case in the United States supreme court, I think it will prove a mistake on the part of the Canadian minister of justice to seek a decision. That court is bound to follow in the construction of its treaties the political department of government, and no opinion will be obtained, therefore, at variance with Mr. Blaine's contention. It would never do to permit one department of government to place itself in direct antagonism to another."

International Press Association.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16.—The indications are that the national convention of press clubs, which has been called here on Jan. 27, will be largely attended. The object in view is the formation of an international association of press clubs. The desirability of a closer relationship and more fraternal intercourse between newspaper writers is generally admitted, and it is with the design of promoting such intercourse that the convention has been called. The delegates will be the guests of the Pittsburgh club.

They've Struck Oil.

MARION, Ind., Jan. 16.—Oil was struck a few miles east of here yesterday. An attempt was made to conceal the magnitude of the strike, but great quantities of oil has escaped notwithstanding the effort to stop the flow. The well belongs to Monroe Sieberling, the great plate glass manufacturer, who is securing leases on the other land as rapidly as possible.

A Reported Rebellion.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 16.—A strong rebel force is reported to be assembled in the province of Entre Rios. The people are much alarmed. Telegraph wires have been cut. The government has sent a heavy detachment of troops to suppress the outbreak. All sorts of rumors are in circulation as to the origin and strength of the new revolution.

Labor Union Missionaries.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—The Operative Plasterers International union at yesterday's session voted that a large corps of organizers be appointed to urge the plasterers to conduct a vigorous agitation in all parts of both countries represented. This advice will be acted upon.

Wrecked crew Returns.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Five of the crew of the steamship Atlanta, which was wrecked on Great Breaker reef at Savanna, Lamar, Dec. 4, were brought here yesterday by the Norwegian steamship Dana. The rest of the Atlanta's crew are on their way to New York.

Effective Prohibition.

MISSOURI VALLEY, Iowa, Jan. 16.—All the saloonkeepers in this city were indicted by the grand jury yesterday, arrested by Sheriff Garrison and taken to Logan to await trial.

Valuable Mail Pouch Stolen.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 16.—The fact that a heavily filled mail pouch from Kansas City, Jan. 14, was stolen from the platform at Nichols' junction, has leaked out. The pouch contained over 300 letters and forty-six registered packages. The empty pouch was found on the river bank near the station. There is no clue.

NEWS FROM OVERSEA.

To Help the Irish Landlords Who are Penniless

KEEP O'SHEA'S CASE OUT OF COURT.

A Couple More Rebellions in South America; Foreign Notes of Interest.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—While Mr. Balfour is gathering in donations for the benefit of the starving Irish peasantry an earnest effort is being made in England to raise money for the relief of landlords and their families deprived of income by the agrarian agitation. It is estimated that about 2000 women, many of them old and infirm, have been deprived of their means of livelihood by the loss of Irish rents. Hundreds of these are earning a living in household service and as lady's maids in the homes of more fortunate aristocracy, while the more helpless are entirely dependent on charity. The former mistress of a large estate in Galway is now a governess in London, and many are doing menial work.

There is an elaborate program of hunting and shooting arranged by Lord Londonderry for the earl of Zetland and Chief Secretary Balfour during their visit to his estates at Mount Stewart. The festivities present a marked contrast to the wretchedness in most localities of Ireland.

LONDON LIPS.

How the Times Virtuously Resented the Offer: Other Notes.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Stories to the effect that $100,000 was offered to keep the O'Shea case out of the courts has brought out a semi-official statement regarding the matter. It appears that when the London Times consented to a verdict for $25,000 in the action based upon the publication of the forged letters, an intimation was made that if the Times could use its influence so that the O'Shea case might not get into court, the damages need not be paid. The reply of the management of the Times was to the effect that not even for $100,000 would it attempt anything of the kind.

Sir Joseph Pease, the noted philanthropic quaker, and the Earl of Meath, have been in communication with the Russian ambassador in London to learn whether the emperor would receive them as a deputation from the meeting recently held at the Mansion house to protest against the treatment of Jews in Russia. It is semi-officially stated that whether it is a success or otherwise, the deputation has been determined to proceed to the Russian capital and make an effort to procure an audience with the czar.

Sandow, the champion strong man, has announced his intention of leaving at once for the United States to compete with Louis Cyr for the heavy-weight lifting championship of the world.

The Chili Rebellion.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A dispatch received from Valparaiso stated that the Chilean men-of-war had given notice that they would begin a blockade of the port of Iquique Jan. 20. The importation of provisions into Iquique has already been stopped. The rebels have declared the ports of Chile blockaded in order to interrupt the nitrate trade.

Russian Convict Mill.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—Official reports show that 300 persons were transported to Siberia during 1890. It is known, however, that the number was actually greater. Five Russian senators have been constituted a court to try four nihilists now under arrest.

Russian Pinkertons.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—The Russian government, in organizing its foreign secret service, will hereafter have a direct agency in New York, to keep a watch on nihilists and other political refugees.

The Post Explains.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Post, speaking of the Bering sea question, says: "It is difficult to avoid feeling that unless Ulina was conscious of weakness, he would show more alacrity in assenting to arbitration. It was with no discourtesy to the American statement that the decision in the case was sought in the supreme court."

Work Sunday Free.

GLASGOW, Jan. 16.—The offer of the engine drivers of the Caledonian Railway company, now at work, is to give their Sunday's labor gratuitously in recognition of the liberality of the company toward them.

Jewish Schools in Austria.

VIENNA, Jan. 16.—The Austrian government has consented that the schools to be founded in Austrian Poland by Baron Hirsch, at a cost of half a million pounds, shall be under Jewish control. Christian children are to have access to the schools in villages where no Christian schools exist, and the learning of German is to be compulsory.

Money and Matrimony.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 16.—Two weeks ago Joseph Gardon, a Frenchman, came to this city accompanied by Louis Lambert. They engaged rooms at a boarding house kept by Mrs. A. R. Ledet, a Frenchwoman. Lambert told Mrs. Ledet that Gardon had recently come into possession of a fortune and that he had $50,000 in cash and diamonds valued at $13,000. Several days ago Gardon proposed marriage to Mrs. Ledet and Wednesday gave her $12,000. Yesterday morning she discovered that the money was stolen. Gardon and Lambert were both missing. Mrs. Ledet has sworn out a warrant for Lambert's arrest.

ROMANTIC CRIME.

Negro Hanged and the Woman Will be Punished.

DARREN, Ga., Jan. 16.—The prospect of a double hanging here yesterday drew a large crowd, but pity for the woman in the case gained for her a new trial, and only one was hanged. This was Charles Reeves, colored. He quarreled with a man named Grombold. When Reeves told Ella Jacson she berated him for allowing a white man to abuse him and ordered him never to come back to her until he had killed Grombold. Later Reeves shot Grombold dead.

The woman on her first trial was found guilty with a recommendation to mercy. She secured a new trial and was again convicted, this time with the death sentence. Reeves died without a struggle.

Penitent Official Defaulter.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 16.—Governor Tillman has made public a communication from Adjutant General Farley disclosing the statement that his predecessor, Gen. Milledge L. Bonham, son of the late Governor Bonham, is a defaulter to the amount of about $5000. Gen. Bonham has written a letter to the governor confessing his delinquency and expressing the hope that he will be able to make restitution.

Too Lenient With Smugglers.

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 16.—The alleged smuggler Angelita, recently captured by the revenue steamer McAline, has been released by order of the secretary of the treasury as an act of clemency. The cutter has, however, been sustained in the capture of the prize.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC!

There is an announcement made in the public press to the effect that "the First Addition to St. Louis will be placed on the market Saturday, Jan. 17," and this announcement has resulted in confusing in the public mind this so-called "First Addition" with the bona fide townsite of St. Louis.

The St. Louis Land Improvement company hereby warns the public that the so-called "First Addition" to St. Louis is no way related to the townsite of St. Louis, that its owners are unknown to this company. The St. Louis Land Improvement company has no "addition" to its townsite, but on Tuesday, Jan. 27, 1891, will put upon the market a portion of the First Division of St. Louis. Any other time or other property this company knows nothing about.

FRISCO SEALERS.

They Will Use Steam Launches in the Chase for Peltry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Preparations are being made by owners of sealing vessels for the coming season.

A new departure will be the introduction of steam launches in the business, two of which will be carried by the schooner Henry Dennis. She is now at Seattle, but will soon sail for this port to engage hunters and receive her steam launches. The steamer Mattie Dyer and the schooner Helen Blum are also being fitted out. The former was seized last year.

EMBEZZLED LARGELY.

A Prison Warden Who Gets Away With $40,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 16.—The most decided sensation was sprung in the legislature this morning when a special message from the governor was read, charging Warden Murdock, of the Northern prison, with embezzling about $40,000.

The message says that the warden has refused to pay into the treasury of the state a cash balance for 1888 of $22,967.52, and for 1890 $17,916.53, and still refuses to pay.

A MOST WONDERFUL FUEL

Northwestern Sestaltit Company Organized Here.

DESCRIPTION OF THE NEW FUEL

Which, Unless all Signs Prove False, Will be a Revolutionizing Thing.

The Duluth Sestaltit and Stove company has drawn up articles of incorporation under the state laws with a capital stock of $300,000, nearly all of which has been taken by several of the most prominent people of the city. The company will manufacture at Duluth stoves and other articles for the consumption of the wonderful fuel sestaltit, over 100 different articles in all, besides the production of the fuel itself on a very large scale.

Sestaltit, the fuel used, is manufactured from ordinary charcoal and a few other chemical ingredients, by a chemical process, patented and held by the company. It is odorless and smokeless, and no article used for its consumption requires a pipe or chimney for the carrying away of smoke or gases. It is very light and porous, of a dark color, and is perfectly odorless, both in its natural state and when being burned. It comes in cubes two inches square. Every particle is consumed in burning, and the ashes remaining resemble a white powder. It burns readily in an enclosed space, without flue connections. It can be used for every purpose for which gas, gasoline or coal is used, and many additional ones. Among the novel uses it is put to is the heating of flat irons and foot warmers, etc. These articles contain a hollow space in which a block of the fuel is placed after ignition. The heat given out is sufficient to keep a flat iron hot enough for ironing purposes for hours at a time and doing away with the old unsatisfactory process of heating the iron frequently. The stoves in which it is heated may be portable and can be set anywhere in a room completely warming it without any flue connections.

It can be put in a little heater not larger than a teapot and a single quart will keep a couple of quarts of water at a boiling temperature for half a day. It will supplant gasoline in every place in which it is used, because its consumption is attended with no danger and no odors or gases whatever. The fuel is particularly adapted for summer cooking for the reason that a small stove quantity will accomplish just as much as the ordinary cooking stove with its enormous consumption of coal. This is so because all the heat of the sestaltit fuel is utilized, whereas in the ordinary stove about nine-tenths of the heat escapes up the chimney with the gases. All gases in the sestaltit are removed by chemical process, so that practically nothing is left but the pure carbon and the ordinary waste of wood carbon.

The cost is much less than one would naturally expect. An ordinary heating stove large enough to heat a large room will consume ten cents' worth of fuel in a day. The ordinary heating stove will consume from ten to fifteen cents' worth in one day for an ordinary family. An ordinary large flat-iron will consume one cent's worth in one day. During this time it will be kept sufficiently hot for ironing purposes. The heat in any of the 100 articles in which it will be used, as well as the consumption of fuel, is readily regulated by a draft controlling the amount of air admitted to the fire. The whole mass of fuel is aglow at once and slowly consumes like punk without flame. The ordinary foot warmer can be kept as hot as it can be by one cent's worth of fuel. The great recommendation of the fuel is its cleanliness and the small space in which it can be consumed giving the same amount of heat as the bulky stoves consuming the ordinary coal or wood fuel.

The headquarters of the United States Fuel company, which manufactures the fuel, is in New Jersey. The utensils for consuming the fuel are manufactured in Brooklyn and the central offices are in New York city, with branch offices in Chicago and St. Louis. The plant at Duluth will manufacture both the fuel and all the utensils for its consumption. At the start it will employ a large number of men to be increased from time to time as the business requires it. Duluth will be the headquarters for nine Northwestern states from Michigan to Montana. Duluth was fortunate in securing the location of the plant over St. Paul and other competitors who worked tooth and nail to get it. The position of the city at the head of Lake navigation, however, determined the matter, notwithstanding inducements offered elsewhere.

The stockholders are for the most part Duluthians, many of them being members of the Duluth chamber of commerce. The president and other officers will be Duluthians and are already about settled upon. A large bonus, with a free site, has been offered by a Duluth land company, and work will commence on the buildings in the spring. The central office of the company will be located in Duluth proper.

Arrangements will be made next week by the representatives of the company to give a public exhibition of the heating of the different articles by the fuel. They are now located in an office on the sixth floor of the chamber of commerce building. The exhibition will take place in a store on Superior street where ladies and any one else interested in the matter will be able to see its practical working.

FIREMEN INJURED.

Run Into by a Locomotive at an Unprotected Crossing.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Lieut. Wright and Hubert Seve stein, of the Englewood fire department, were seriously injured at the Ninety-fourth street crossing of the Ft. Wayne tracks this morning. A still alarm was sounded and engine No. 46 and hook and ladder No. 17 from Ninety-second street and Commercial avenue responded. There are neither gates nor flagmen at the crossing on Ninety-fourth street. The hose cart and engine succeeded in making the crossing all right, but as the truck was following it was caught midway by four switching freight cars and cut in twain.

Lieut. Wright was thrown heavily upon the tracks and received a gash in the back of his head, as well as numerous bruises of a less serious nature. Driver Seve stein's injuries are hardly so serious as Lieut. Wright's.

FOREIGN.

The Scotch Railway Strike in Parliament; Many Condensed Foreign Notes of Interest.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—If the Scotch railway strike lasts until the opening of parliament, it will be made the subject of troublesome questions for the government by the champions of labor in the house of commons. It is claimed on behalf of the strikers that the companies, by prolonged failure to effectually operate their roads, have incurred the forfeiture of their charters, and that it is the duty of the authorities to take action. Shanghai advises that the Chinese government, after searching investigation, has come to the conclusion that the recent powder explosions in the provinces of Anhui, by which several hundred of people were killed, were caused by discharged soldiers, made desperate by being cheated out of their pay by government officials.

GLASGOW, Jan. 17.—The Caledonian Railway company yesterday reinstated a large number of men who had been on strike. In all other respects the situation remains unchanged. Thomas Buchanan, M. P., at a public meeting held in Edinburgh, offered a motion which was seconded by Prof. Blackie, and carried unanimously, that all parties should exert themselves to bring the deplorable struggle to an end. Principal Reid advocated the adoption of a ten hour labor day. The earl of Aberdeen, Principal Rainey and Lord Provost were made a committee of mediation.

Spanish Politics.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—Senor Caigas, the Spanish premier, is making liberal promises with regard to the government in the approaching general elections. He states in substance that he proposes to follow in the path of social reform outlined by the German kaiser, by introducing legislation for the amelioration of the condition of the working men and for regulating the relations between capital and labor and at the same time to protect the honor and interests of Spain.

WHO SAID TROUBLE?

Does Anybody Know Any Indians Who Have Been Unruly?

PINE RIDGE, S. D., Jan. 17.—Everything is quiet here today and it is believed that the Indian trouble has finally been brought to an end. Up to noon today seventy rifles have been surrendered by the hostiles and it is expected that more will be delivered tomorrow.

Orders have been issued directing the Fifth infantry to return to its post at Fort Logan. Rodney's battery has been sent back to Fort Riley and the Eighth cavalry and Third infantry have been ordered to return to Fort Meade.

Union Pacific Changes.

OMAHA, Jan. 17.—It is reported that the office of general traffic manager of the Union Pacific is to be abolished the first of February, and that C. S. Mellen is to be retired. J. A. Monroe, now assistant general traffic manager, will then become general freight agent, relieving Mr. Whitney. Harvey Middleton will return as superintendent of motive power.

Fatal Quarrel.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Jan. 17.—John Gibbs, a notorious character of this city, was killed here yesterday by Barney Kliff, a saloon keeper. Gibbs entered Kliff's saloon and abused Kliff, who seized a piece of rubber hose loaded with lead and striking Gibbs back of the ear, felled him to the floor. Kliff is now in jail.

LEFT OUT ONE DAY.

Senate Still at Work on Yesterday's Calendar.

ELECTION BILL CAUSES THE TROUBLE.

Stewart Moves to Hold Congressional Elections on Days by Themselves.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The senate was in session all night. The hours between 2 a. m. and 5 were spent idly waiting for the quorum which did not come. The sergeant-at-arms stated that Senators Berry and Butler had been seen, and that the former had stated that he would come when he got ready and the latter had refused to obey. At 7:30, when there were five democrats on the floor and only one republican (Mr. Casey), Mr. Daniel moved adjournment. It did not succeed, however, for Casey rushed for and obtained allies from the cloak room, and Platt, who was in the chair, declared the motion lost.

Mr. Vance appeared at one of the cloak room doors and his name was called; but he slipped back saying that he did not desire recognition. He was, however, recorded as present. At 5:45 the quorum was completed and Mr. Faulkner made another start on his speech. At 6 o'clock Mr. Gorman moved to dispense with further proceedings under the call so as not to disturb senators who are indisposed and to give those present a chance to breakfast. Mr. Vance said there were just thirteen senators present and seven of them were democrats. "That is why we are at sixes and sevens," remarked Mr. Edmunds, with a laugh.

"Yes," said Mr. Vance, "and the democrats are the sevens."

Mr. Sawyer—"We have our reserve forces in the cloakroom."

Mr. Vance—"Either the proceedings under the call should stop or your reserve forces should be in their seats, wide awake and duly sober for the transaction of business."

At 9:30, when a quorum having appeared, Faulkner proceeded with his remarks on the force bill. At 10 he concluded, and Mr. Harris desired to know whether the journal would show that there was a legislative day of Jan. 17. Mr. Morrill suggested that the 16th had not yet been finished, and the presiding officer expressed the opinion that there never would be such a legislative day as the 17th.

Mr. Daniel then took the floor and spoke in opposition to the bill. He said that the idea that the purpose of the bill and elections were identical was a mistake, while he reiterated the bench, he could not blind his eyes to the fact that he saw reflected in all judicial history that when a political question had gone before judicial officers for decision, those officers had followed out in their decisions the instincts, the prejudices, the bias, the sentiment of political character.

Mr. Stewart has given notice of a motion to reconsider the elections bill with instructions to the committee to report it back with a provision for the election of members of congress on days when no other elections are held in the several states.

3:40 p. m.—The republican senators are considering the advisability of taking a recess until Monday and bringing up the closure rule on that day, but no understanding has yet been reached.

CARPET MILLS FIRE.

Trifling Blaze Causes a Very Heavy Loss.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—The destruction of the main building of the carpet mills of John and James Dobson, at the falls of the Schuylkill last night, resulted in a loss of between $500,000 and $1,000,000, and the throwing out of work nearly 5000 hands. Included in the loss is the finest lot of machinery procurable in this or other countries, and it is feared that it will be impossible to duplicate most of it. It is thought that spontaneous combustion started the fire. Watchman Mason first discovered a trifling fire in the dry house on the third floor, over the engine room. With several buckets of water he quelled the flames. A few minutes after the flames shot out with renewed vigor and communicated with lightning-like rapidity to other parts of the building, and thence to the big main building which was soon a mass of flames.

Terrorized by Indians.

COULEE CITY, Wash., Jan. 17.—A courier from Rush City last night says the Indians in the neighborhood are preparing for a fight. Acting Agent Thomas has forbidden their dances, but runners from Chilwick creek and Smak lake say they will dance. He has a force of thirty Indian police patrolling points on the Okanogan river to prevent hostiles from crossing. Should the Indians break out communication with this side will be cut off, as the nearest railroad and telegraph station is Coulee City, eighty miles distant. Vigilantes threaten lynching the first person selling Okanogan whiskey.

Destructive Fire in St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 17.—The planning mill of Blodgett & Osgood, northwest corner of Fourth and Locust streets, caught fire last night and was totally destroyed. The loss is estimated at $200,000; insured for $75,000.

CHICAGO METHODS.

How the Foreign Element Engineers Her Police Matters.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Officer William Junger, who about a month ago was shot by policeman Tom Madden owing to his membership in an American order, which has for its object the non-interference of Catholics in political affairs, is still an inmate of the Michael Reese hospital. Meanwhile, not the slightest effort has been made by the police department to bring about the arrest of the criminal. Madden disappeared shortly after the crime was committed, but it is said that he is still in the city. He has one brother an alderman, and another a lieutenant of police, and the inactivity of the police in the matter has been productive of indignant comment.

Another illustration of the antipathy of the police department to native Americans is afforded in the fact that no less than twelve of the best officers of the central detail, which is composed of the picked men of the force, have just been removed to outlying stations to make room for inexperienced men of other nationalities.

Domestic Parliament Convenes.

OTTAWA, Can., Jan. 17.—The Dominion parliament assembled today after the Christmas recess. A large number of important measures will be taken up for immediate consideration.

Increase Price of Paints.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The price of paints will be advanced next week fifteen per cent as a result of the increased duty on tin plate by the McKinley bill. Paint dealers have themselves borne the extra cost since it went into effect, but in addition to the duty, the zinc men have increased the standard prices, an advance on the part of the paint trade has become a necessity.

Lee's Birthday.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 17.—Today is the anniversary of the birth of Gen. Robert E. Lee, and under the law passed at the last session of the legislature it is now a state holiday. Public exercises are being held. In this city the Confederate veterans will parade this afternoon, after which there will be a mass meeting and an oration upon the life and services of the accepted general.

A Prohibition Failure.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Jan. 17.—Officers of the Law and Order league state that that organization will cease for the present its efforts to enforce the prohibition liquor law. They say it is a hopeless work when the city and county authorities oppose them. Their funds are exhausted. They have kept up a ceaseless warfare ever since the killing of the Rev. George C. Haddock three years ago.

A Syndicate Buys Mills.

DEN MOINES, Jan. 17.—Interested parties today confirmed the rumor that an English syndicate had offered $3,000,000 for the Durango Mining company's plant in New Mexico. Besides the plant the company has 43,000 acres of land. The capital stock is $5,000,000. The offer will probably be accepted.

Will Be Hung.

HOPE, Ark., Jan. 17.—Green Watson, mate on the steamboat Ben Krooks, shot and killed Frank Watson, a negro cook, Thursday night at the Laurel iron works. She was in a room alone and when help arrived was beyond recovery. Her faithful dog was terribly burned in trying to tear off her burning clothing.

Burned to Death.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 17.—Miss Ida Having, a well known and popular young lady, was burned to death Thursday night at the Laurel iron works. She was in a room alone and when help arrived was beyond recovery. Her faithful dog was terribly burned in trying to tear off her burning clothing.

St. Paul Fire.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 17.—The St. Paul box factory caught fire last night at midnight and sustained a damage of about $50,000. The building was of brick, four stories high and about 200 feet square. The fire is supposed to have originated in the engine room.

Baseball War Over.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The National Baseball league and the American and Western associations have consolidated. The Players is dead. The fusion was effected late last evening.

Jim Hill in Europe.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 17.—President J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern, has gone to New York, and will sail on Jan. 21 for Europe. He will go to London, Paris and perhaps Berlin, the trip being the negotiation of a loan to be applied to the coast extension now under construction.

GOSSIP OF THE SOLONS.

Result of Change in Political Power Hard to Realize.

SOME REMARKS OF STATE SENATORS

As Made to the Herald's Special Correspondent at the Seat of War.

FOR TWENTY FIVE years the state has been in the hands of the republican party—legislative and executive. Those who have not followed or closely read the political history of Minnesota cannot adequately grasp the effect which the work of the present legislature is likely to have on the future of the state. The republicans are in a hopeless minority. Consequently the majority in this legislature contemplate overhauling every department and institution of the state.

Notwithstanding the fact that the "combine" has captured the house as well as the senate, it is quite evident that Mr. Donnelly is gradually losing his grip on some of the alliance members, as he has promised more positions than he can stand by, for the old subject of "re-enfranchisement and reform" has squelched the poor unfortunate who has been a constant speculator in hopes of having his position announced, if only that of a doorkeeper.

The republican senators soon exercised their constitutional right and filed a formal protest against the action of the democratic-alliance forces. It was considered by many who witnessed the battle and understood the result that the "alliance" men had committed a great wrong. It is understood that the alliance members favor the entire rearrangement of the present system of management and to this end a bill will be introduced.

Senator Keller says: "What's the use of kicking about putting on the necessary force of assistants, why not stand by what is right. We must have doorkeeper, and we are expected to have attention and be waited upon, and how are we going to have it unless we pay for it. There is going to be music in the air in this legislature unless this school-boy play is stopped and no more humbugging." Senator Donnelly says: "There is an economy that is wasteful. True economy saves the state by cutting off schemes which takes thousands from the people. I shall urge upon the senate to keep from the floor the herd of lobbyists which have heretofore disgraced the senate. We have had well known men lobby in this room who made it a profession to stand in with the railroad members." He said he had known prominent railroad men to hover around senators as the devil sat crouched to Eve.

Senator Smith says: "I am in favor of economy and beginning now, and not after Senator Donnelly has supplied all his friends with positions."

Senator Hampe, chairman of the senate finance committee, has been at the capitol looking into the question of the present management of the different state institutions. The scheme contemplates the establishment of one general board of directors, which shall have control of all the institutions.

Senator Tawney says: "It is almost certain that this session will be called upon to reappoint the congressional districts of the state. Consequently the democrats have provided for a committee on reapportionment, and, like everything else, have secured the control; have put on seven democrats, four alliance and two republicans."

It has been surmised that Gen. Baker will be the congressman from the Second district after 1892, and that he will not contest Mr. Lind's election.

By the 1st of February the state treasury will contain at least $700,000. Does this agree with Mr. Donnelly's statement?

Senator Daugherty's name appears on the committee of "Indian affairs," "internal improvement," "labor and appointment."

St. Paul, Jan. 16.

SKIN GRAFTING.

Peculiar Exhibition of Brotherly Regard Among Masons.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—There will be a dramatic scene in the emergency hospital tomorrow when nearly 100 members of the Masonic fraternity will submit to the cutting off of portions of their skin to be grafted on the flesh of a brother Mason in order to save his life. The recipient of this remarkable token of brotherly love is J. O. Dickerson, from whose right hip, some time ago, a large cancer was removed. It became necessary to close the sore and the operation of grafting with the skin of a young goat was effected. This failed, however, to make a perfect union and the council of doctors decided that nothing but grafting with human skin could effect a complete cure.

No less than 300 knights volunteered the operation. Of this number seventy-five men have been selected. Each man must abstain from ardent spirits for forty-eight hours before the operation, must take a thorough bath tomorrow morning and take with him his own razor free from stain and blemish. The piece of skin to be taken will be cut from the arm an inch square.

Married a Jap.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Inaze Nitobe sailed today for Yokohama. Mrs. Nitobe was Miss Mary Ellington, daughter of a prominent Philadelphia quaker. WEST END.

West end property owners were out in force last night to discuss the extension of Third street to connect with West Duluth. There was entire unanimity of feeling and the following resolution was carried by almost a full vote:

Whereas, Walbank and West Park additions are laid out contrary to the general plat of said city, and obstruct all the streets from First to Fifth, and said obstruction is not only an incubus upon the Second division but a bar to the growth and development of the city at large;

Resolved, That the common council should take immediate action to open Third street to the corporation limits and cause the same to be graded at the earliest possible time, to the end that we may not only have access to the rich and populous territory to the south-west of us by the way of the great combined Third street and Grand avenue thoroughfare, but that we may, over this same thoroughfare, have an outlet for First, Second, Fourth and Fifth streets.

Dr. Bowers, who is one of the Walbank heirs, stated that he was in favor of the proposed extension and that the doctor had expressed the same opinion before he died. "I know," he added, "that the executors and heirs of the estate are willing to have this work done, and will without expense to the city, rearrange Walbank's addition to conform with the line of the new street." His remarks were loudly applauded.

Then came Mr. Wheeler, who said it did him good to hear such encouraging words, and he was willing to plat his farm in conformity to the street, so that it could be extended to Grand avenue. Then West Duluth would probably feel more like coming into the city. He predicted that in a short time after this street cars would run the whole length of Third street. Mr. Chandler said Langellies addition had been platted to conform with the Third street extension. The only persons who stand in the way are those who control West Park addition. If this property can be condemned, then the opening of a grand highway through the three incorporations and the final union of the three under one charter will be only a matter of a short time. A committee of five was appointed to push the work and present it to the council for action.

SHIFTING THE CONTEST

It is generally recognized that the attempted shifting of the Bering sea controversy from the department of state to the supreme court is an adroit move on the part of the foreign contestants. It is patent enough that in view of the equity and consideration that should direct the acts of friendly states, the destruction of our seal fisheries on the pretense of the technical right to kill seals at the distance of more than a marine league from our coast line should be prohibited by concurrent action. Even if Bering sea is held not to be a much depredations, and assigned to us in the transfer do not assure the protection of the seal fisheries, the comity of nations should be a bar to a course of destruction which in a few years would ruin the business beyond recovery and to the benefit of nobody.

But it is hoped apparently by the British government that the supreme court will assert the technical right of British subjects to take seals beyond the marine league limit and thus prevent interference with British sealers or put the government in a position of vantage to force concessions from the United States. The statement sent out, however, that Secretary Blaine is offended by the attempted transfer of the controversy from his department, and regards it as a reflection on himself, has only surmise for foundation. The state department has not shown its hand as yet, though Mr. Blaine has been in conference with the President regarding the matter. If it shall appear that Lord Salisbury approved of the course of the Canadian minister in bringing the case before the supreme court without notice to our government it is likely that the discourtesy will be properly resented, but in no event, it is said, will there be any hasty breaking off of pending negotiations between the state and foreign departments.

It is conceded that under the constitution the supreme court has unquestioned jurisdiction, for that instrument expressly declares that its judicial power shall extend to all cases of law and equity arising under the constitution, the laws of the United States and treaties made under their authority, to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, to controversies to which the United States shall be a party. There will, of course, be a temporary suspension of negotiations, and in the meantime it has been decided by the President that the department of state shall furnish its law officer all the facts bearing on the case, in order that he may meet the issue when the question comes up for argument ten days hence.

OF FAKE, FAKEY.

The Pennington air ship, a description of which has been going the rounds, did not make its first trip from Mount Carmel, to St. Louis, Chicago and New York, on the 1st of January, as its projectors promised, nor yet on yesterday, as was also promised. The dimensions of the first of the ships to be constructed are given as follows: The buoyancy chamber will be 170 feet in length and twenty-eight feet in diameter, with a lifting power of 5500 pounds. The gas engine will weigh but 250 pounds and will develop 100 horse power. The total weight of the ship will be 1350 pounds. It will accommodate fifty passengers and the cost of the ship will be $3500.

The daily press has allowed the figures to pass without question, says the Engineering Journal, but as engineers it is sufficiently interested in the projected ship to study the figures a little. The buoyancy chamber would have a superficial area of not less than 12,000 square feet. If we assume that the total weight of the ship, 1350 pounds, is only that of the outside sheathing, allowing nothing for framework, machinery, or other inside structures or contents, then the weight of the sheathing is only about 0.11 pounds per square foot, and this would make the thickness of the sheathing only about 0.008 inch. The cubic contents of the chamber would be about 90,000 cubic feet. It is probably to be filled with hydrogen gas, but even if it is intended to use a vacuum, the buoyancy would be but 7000 pounds. Deducting the weight of the sheathing, we have 5500 pounds as the net buoyancy of the chamber, or very nearly the same as the lifting force, 5500 pounds, mentioned in the description. But this makes no allowance for weight of the framework necessary to hold the sheathing in place, for the engines or other machinery, for the seats necessary to accommodate the fifty passengers and other trifles.

The problem of building a framework 170 feet long and 20 feet diameter stiff enough to prevent the collapse of the sheathing and to sustain the weight of itself and of the passengers, machinery, etc., and yet not weighing over 5500 pounds, would be pronounced impossible of solution by engineers. The cost of the ship, $3500, is rather low, for no rolling mill would roll the sheathing of this ship for much less than the whole figure named, even if it obtained the ingot aluminum for nothing. But it is likely the Mount Carmel company has some new rolling process, as well as its own secret process of making aluminum. They have surely also something new in gas engines, for the stated weight, only two-fifths of a pound per horse power, is far less than that of the lightest engines heretofore known. They must also have some plan of hardening and strengthening aluminum, for if only .008 inch thick it would be apt to be perforated by birds lighting upon it, besides being torn if it accidentally rubbed against a tree.

These difficult objections are only those which would be raised by engineers of the old school. The air ship is shown by arithmetic and by engineering calculations to be an impossibility; but this only shows that the problem is beyond the criticism of engineers, and lies just as much outside of their field as do metaphysics, biology or the Keely motor.

Duluth bank clearings for the week have been $1,752,007.52. It will be noticed that The Herald gives the weekly statement of clearings on Saturday afternoon, other Duluth papers giving it Monday.

The interview with State Senator Daugherty, published on the next page, will be interesting reading to all Duluthians just now when the question of annexation is up for earnest discussion. The fact that Mr. Daugherty and his associates from St. Louis county are in a peculiar and uncomfortable position none will gainsay.

The handsomest and most readable annual review that The Herald has seen for a year—barring the to be expected slurs on Duluth—is the twenty-four page issue just made by the Superior Leader. It is printed on fine paper, is typographically excellent, its articles are well written and its statistics well handled to show to advantage. The issue shows careful work and excellent management.

The financial reviews show a general improvement in the volume of business, easier money and a more cheering outlook. In general the course of prices for manufactured products is not helpful, while the cost of living is enhanced. The business failures during the past seven days number: United States, 360; Canada, 51; total, 411, as compared with 403 last week and 348 the week previous to the last. For the week last year the figures were 336.

The move for the extension of Third street to the city limits, and to provide for its connection with Grand avenue, meets with general approval, and property holders on the line show themselves willing and even zealous to clear off all obstacles in the way. It is an extension that will open a much needed communication with the western suburbs and give a straight, fine road from the east end to West Duluth and beyond. It is estimated that the grading of the street to the city limits will not exceed in cost $12,000, and owners beyond have expressed their readiness to carry the extension directly to Grand avenue. We trust it will be put through, for we want now every tie that will draw the main city and its natural additions more closely together.

ICH BIN DEIN.

The Journal of Education commends this ingenious poem, written in five languages—English, French, German, Greek and Latin—as one of the best specimens of macaronic verse in existence and worthy of preservation by all collectors.

In tempus old a hero lived,
Qui loved puellas dux:
He no pouit pas quite to say
Which one anabat mieux.

Dit-il lui-meme un beau matin,
"Non possum both avoir, Sed si address Amanda Ann,
Then Kate and I have war."

"Amanda habet argent coin,
Sed Kate has aureus curis:
Et both sunt very agatias
Et quite fortunee girls."

Eduin the youthful antipros, Philoun the duo maids,
Resolved proponente ad Kate
Devant cet evening's shades.

Proceeds then to Kate's domo,
Il trouva Amanda there,
Kat quite forgot his last resolves,
Both sunt so goodly fair.

Sed smiling on the new tips,
Between puellas twain,
Coepit to tell his love a Kate
Dans un poeque strain.

Mais glancing ever at anon
At fair Amanda's eyes,
Il ne possunt dicere
Pro which he meant his sighs.

Ruch virgo heard the dem-vow,
With cheeks as rosig as wine,
And off ring such a milk-white hand
Both whispered, "Ich bin dein."

FOR BOUDOIR AND SITTING ROOM.

There are many dainty fixtures for the writing of the many graceful trifles to be found in the shops are little silver candlesticks holding a tiny paper, just large enough to melt wax and seal a letter. In silverplate these tiny candlesticks are $3.50 and much more in solid silver. On the same writing desk may be a pen wiper of chamois skin mounted in silver, which has cost $1.50 up; a sealing-wax tray of silver in long, slender shape, which may cost from $3 to $75, and a seal with an ornamental handle of silver or carved ivory set in silver, such as are sold in shops in plated silver at $1.50 and in solid silver or ivory and silver at $30 to $70.

Nothing makes a prettier top to a dressing table than a heavy plate glass mirror with beveled sides made exactly to fit the top of the table. Covered with beautifully kept silver the effect is extremely brilliant. The mirror is mounted on a cushion, with bureau cover to match, is now relegated to the guest-rooms, and milady and her daughter have silver ones with plush centers to go with the rest of their set. A light blue velvet pin cushion incased in silver with blue velvet bureau cover to match, looks well with all the other silver articles spread upon it in glittering array. It is quite a fad to have toilet articles made out of old silver. Pretty pin cushions are made out of an old Queen Anne sugar bowl and napkin rings, which are happily things of the past. Plush and velvet toilet covers, are, however, hardly appropriate. The mirror to be frequently sponged off, but there is no way of cleansing the others; and delicately wrought linen is fresh and dainty. Still the velvet makes a beautiful background to silver, and if one has a maid to shake the dust the cover daily it will keep fresh for a long while.

Yellow walls rage everywhere. The prevalence of this golden, gaudy color has knocked the orientalism out of all the carpets and rugs. English Axminster have a good chance, but Indian carpets are actually profane by contrast. Increased rebellion comes from the gilt frames, every one of which has to be sacrificed for stained pine, natural oak or enameled wood. Oil paintings have been put in the hall, the dining-room, along the staircase and in the upper rooms, leaving the etchings and engravings for the yellow background.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Red Wing railway official: I did not know that The Herald ever said that the Red wing road would be built through to Pueblo, Col. What the paper did say was, that the Red Wing road might be extended to Sioux City, to which point it is the intention of the Pueblo and Duluth people to construct a line.

W. H. Walmesley: I am going to have a conference with the Pueblo & Duluth Railway company. With the Pueblo and Red Wing roads meeting in Sioux City a through line could easily be made from Colorado to the head of the lakes.

The Germans have a very pleasant custom. This people is at once artistic and reverent, hold in veneration those theatrical suns that once shown with dazzling brilliancy long after their bright rays have faded into dim twilight, the horizon of their lives showing but recollections of former splendors. Long ago Maggie Mitchell earned the right to retire from the stage. Her work has been crowned with success. Years and honors have come to her; the years bringing with them the decline in force and power, in voice and appearance. We regard her in the remembrance of what she was once; she is the sprightly, clear voiced cricket no more. Like a household goddess we revere her, and a large audience applauded in solemn veneration last evening. As usual, Miss Mitchell's support in "Ray" is excellent. R. F. McClannin was thoroughly alive to the possibilities of Simeon Stea, while Howard Gould, Jennie Carroll and Miss Burrow did good work in their respective parts. "Fanchon," Miss Mitchell's great piece, is on tonight.

An Accident Meets With Prompt Action.
On Dec. 27th last P. H. Smith, chief engineer at the Palladio building, while coiling a steel spring received a painful gash which made his hand useless for some time. On the 10th of January Mr. Smith thought his hand sufficiently recovered to use it again. He had been carrying an accident policy and concluded to make a claim for the time lost and see what his accident policy was worth. On the 13th, three days after, he was surprised to receive through J. E. Myers a check for the full amount of his claim. The St. Paul German Accident company, who carried this policy, deserve credit for the extremely prompt action. Mr. Myers says this is nothing unusual as they make ten days the outside limit of attending to claims and being a large stock company have plenty of cash to meet any and all losses.

AS TO OUR LEGISLATION

Senator Daugherty on the Annexation Question.

DONNELLY'S BILL ON THE SUBJECT.

The Farmer the Object of Greatest Interest in Legislative Halls.

Hon. F. B. Daugherty returned this morning from St. Paul. He talked freely to a Herald reporter on legislation for Duluth, especially on the proposed plan for extension of the present city limits so as to include Lakeside and West Duluth.

He said that he was much embarrassed concerning the matter because he foresaw that there would be a bitter fight against a bill to extend the city limits. Personally, Mr. Daugherty favors the establishing of one large city at the head of the lakes on the Minnesota side, but he recognized the fact that the opponents to the measure were very influential and would bring a strong lobby to act against it.

"Already," said Mr. Daugherty, "Donnelly has introduced a bill in the senate to provide that before any suburb can be annexed to a city a vote of the people must be taken. In the event of its passage it would be many years, perhaps never, before West Duluth would become a part of Duluth. It seems to me that the wisest course to pursue would be for representative bodies in Duluth and West Duluth to get together and effect a compromise. It is rather hard to ask your representatives who are supposed to represent their whole district with equal zeal and impartiality to become arbitrators as to the supposed interests of different localities. If it could be agreed upon that after a certain date all the suburbs should be annexed to Duluth and a law could be passed fixing that date, I think it would be an easy way out of the difficulty. Anyhow I think that the representative people should agree upon some compromise measure before they appear before the legislature to ask for enactment.

"Lakeside has already sent in a draft of its proposed city charter to be passed by the legislature, and it is now in my hands awaiting the other legislation on Duluth municipalities before it is introduced."

Mr. Daugherty talked regarding general legislation and said that it was wonderful what a great interest had sprung up suddenly in the condition of the farmer. From state executive down to the pages in the legislature, everyone seems to be deeply interested in the welfare of the tiller of the soil. "It looks as if the farmer was going to get most everything he asked for. I think too that the farmers have been on the short end of the haul in many ways, especially on the tax question. Everything in eight years has been done to the farmer and the farm. The tax on the hayseed is taxed, while the corporations, the capitalists and the railroads give in for taxation about what they please."

Mr. Daugherty thought that Duluth measures would fare all right even if the politics of her representatives were a little off color in the eyes of the ruling parties in the legislature. "Two bills affecting the range have already been introduced, one providing a municipal court for Tower and the other providing for the issue of bonds by Two Harbors for a water works plant."

IMPROVING THE ERIE.

What New York Legislature will do this Winter for it.

"New York people realize the importance of enlarging and otherwise improving the Erie canal," said S. A. Thompson this morning. "The only trouble is, that they are averse to letting the control of the waterway get out of the hands of the state. They want the United States to deepen Hudson river, then they will go to work and enlarge the canal. It is not probable that there will be any attempt made in New York at present to build a ship canal, but the state legislature will pass a bill this session improving the Erie."

"With even so much accomplished it will be a great help to shippers, and when the time comes the money will be forthcoming to build the ship canal."

BIG SUIT SETTLED.

Litigation Which Grew Out of a Salted Mexican Mine.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—The suit which was commenced in the superior court by Alvinza Hayward and others to recover money paid to Aguyos Bros. of Mexico for the Mulatos mine has been dismissed as the Aguyos have agreed to pay the plaintiffs $1,427,000 and $10,000 additional as the output of the mine since the plaintiffs have controlled it.

Hayward and his colleagues purchased the property in September, 1880, and paid Aguyos, agents in this city, $710,000 in cash and $250,000 in promissory notes. When they took charge of the mine it was discovered that the output fell far below their expectations and the suit was commenced to recover money paid on the ground that the mine had been salted.

BOOK NOTES.

The author of that strange narrative, "A Real Robinson Crusoe," which A. J. Wilkinson recently edited for D. Lothrop company, has just died at his home in Cobourg, Ontario. His death only intensifies the mystery attaching to his adventurous life, as his identity is still preserved a close secret by his intimate friends, and the secret of the island has not yet been solved.

The "Dictionary of Political Economy," which R. H. I. Falgrave, an editing, and which is to be published by Macmillan & Co., is now assuming definite shape. Among the contributors are most of the best-known political economists of America and Europe. The object of the Dictionary is to give a statement of the position of political economy at the present time, together with such references to history, law and commerce as may be of use. Articles on the main subjects usually dealt with in the works of economic writers will be found in it. Short notices of deceased economists, and of their chief contributions to economic literature are also included. A list of works of leading living writers will be given. Full bibliographical notes will likewise be added.

Induce Sullivan to Fight.

St. Louis, Jan. 17.—Phil Lynch and Jim Wakely passed through St. Louis last night en route to Chicago to see Sullivan. They are returning from New Orleans where they met friends of Slavin, who were willing to back their fight with the Australian could whip Sullivan to the extent of $10,000. Lynch and Wakely will try to induce Sullivan to take back his statement that he would never appear in the ring again.

Tough in Tipperary.

DUBLIN, Jan. 17.—Discouraging advice comes from New Tipperary. The enemies of the landlords appear to have surrendered after having suffered a disheartening defeat. How complete is the triumph of landlordism may be understood when it is said that every store and stand on the thoroughfare in the town has suspended business—some having been seized for debt.

A Chicago Failure.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The wholesale house furnishing establishment of Meyer Davidson, 112 Franklin street, was taken possession of by the sheriff today on executions to $20,000. The liabilities are said to exceed the assets by at least $20,000.

He Would a Boomer Be.

"You can't talk too highly of St. Louis and its outlook," said an enthusiastic and thoroughly reliable real estate man to a Herald representative yesterday. "I have been a boomer on all this up river business until now, but yesterday I trumped all over the u. s. town, and the more I saw of the extraordinary situation and its really fine topography, the more I became convinced of the great future of the place. In fact, no man who really knows the head of the lakes is to become one of the great commercial and industrial centers of the United States can for one moment doubt that St. Louis, by reason of its location, is the best place in the world for their great water power. It is four miles of dock front and 600 ft. of river facilities—I repeat, a man who has been in Duluth and its future can be said to be that St. Louis will become one of the great cities. You can't speak too highly of it."

Lynch and Wakely will try to induce Sullivan to take back his statement that he would never appear in the ring again.

Tough in Tipperary.

DUBLIN, Jan. 17.—Discouraging advice came from New Tipperary. The enemies of the landlords appear to have surrendered after having suffered a disheartening defeat. How complete is the triumph of landlordism may be understood when it is noted that every store and stand on the thoroughfare in the town has suspended business—some having been seized for debt.

A Chicago Failure.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The wholesale house furnishing establishment of Meyer Davidson, 112 Franklin street, was taken possession of by the sheriff today on executions to $20,000. The liabilities are said to exceed the assets by at least $20,000.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Fire in the carpet factory of John and James Dobson at Schuykill Falls, Pa., last night, caused a loss of about $500,000.

W. W. P. McConnell, dry goods merchant and postmaster of Mankato, Minn., is the victim of an embezzlement amounting to about $3000. Geo. H. Powlinson, his chief clerk, is the embezzler. Powlinson has disappeared.

No Surplus There.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 17.—Ex-county Clerk M. D. Hamilton is short in his accounts $4420.

He Would a Boomer Be.

"You can't talk too highly of St. Louis and its outlook," said an enthusiastic and thoroughly reliable real estate man to a Herald representative yesterday. "I have been a boomer on all this up river business until now, but yesterday I trumped all over the map and said that the future of the city is in the great water power, with its four miles of dock front and best of all, its facilities—I repeat, in a man who believes in Duluth and its future can't but believe that St. Louis will become and stay one of the great cities. You can't speak too highly of it."

About Nero's Youthful Girl.

By Edgar W. Nye.

YORK has lost this winter one of the most amusing tragedies that her history has ever recorded. Generally she is fraught with gloom and gloom, but at Nero's was full of humor, and I for one felt see it go. Possibly it may be before spring. I hope so, at called "Nero," and consisted of the play out representing the most of that low, coarse, monotonous consisted of five times sixty-five actors and actresses, also quite tame.

STUDYING HISTORY. I went partly to see the lions and incidentally the ballet, as I was then preparing a paper regarding the history of the ballet to be read at a meeting of the Tompkinsville High School of Advanced Thought.

Ballet comes from the Greek word to dance, and later has incorporated the meaning of ballet, ball and ballet.

It goes back in its history to a time contemporaneous with the heyday and youth of those who danced in the ballet of "Nero" this season.

It is presumed, of course, that a ballet is a pantomimic rendition of a story, according to historical writers, and that is why it seems so odd to me that this style of anecdote should be about the same in "Nero" that it is in "Aladdin" or some of the French operas.

It is hard sometimes for one unaccustomed to these things to readily distinguish between a ballet d'action and a divertissement. I will try to make that clear, so that no one need ever bother about it any more. A ballet d'action is one in which one is able to readily follow the anecdote by paying attention to the dancing, whereas a divertissement is simply a sort of festival where everybody is apparently feeling first rate, and all sorts of chipper little figures are danced, from a plain jig to leoprog and prisoners base.

The ballet d'action was introduced into civilized life about the sixteenth century, and was used for the celebration of great events, such as eminent victories and the marriage of princes. Tights had not then been introduced, as the climate was mild and very little inconvenience from cold felt on the part of the dancers. We are told by the historians that "the cooler the air the higher kicked the premiere." The first ballet to obtain much recognition occurred in the sixteenth century, at the time of the marriage of the Duc de Joyeuse with Mlle. de Vandemont, the sister of the queen.

The ballet would draw better now if more prominent people could take part in the exercises. I wonder that it has not been done. If members of the cabinet could take part in the ballet, and ladies of the foreign legation attend to the divertissement, many would attend who now show little interest in it.

Much cruel criticism and the sharp arrows of malice and uncharitableness have been leveled at a class of middle-aged and even elderly men who are unfortunately bald, because they are more or less prompt and early, sitting near the orchestra at all times on the presentation of a new ballet. This is manifestly unjust to a class of men who have been heretofore too timid to cry out against this wicked attack.

The ballet is essentially a pantomimic history, and to the close and bald headed student it is as chaste and eloquent as the music of Wagner is to those who fully understand it. The elderly ballet habitue sits and drinks in his eloquent pantomime, this dumb story as related off by blithe and nimble legs before his alert opera glass, just as the admirer of Wagner, whose auditory nerve has become so benumbed that he can stand it, and understand it, sits with a pleased and ante-expression on his face through a whole evening, wholly forgetting that thirty people are ever and anon walking across him with bated breath, seeking to escape.

To the student the ballet is an open book with colored illustrations. He knows the story plunk of the Etrian and the gurgles of the piccolo, and ever he sees the changing pantomime as the Wagner man reads in the rich deep notes the tale that the author is trying to tell.

I cannot interpret Wagner yet, though I hope to some day, but I can read the whole pathetic story of Nero in the ballet. Now I gather from the diction that Nero is arising from his couch to greet the joyful moon. Now he comes to the window to open the shade. It escapes from his clutches and scolds to the top of the house with a loud snort. Nero jumps on the window sill to reach it, cursing softly to the low wail of the clarinet and forgetting that he cannot reach the shade, also that he has not yet donned his toga.

Still purple with rage the young emperor hangs up a comforter at the window, and taking a hurried bath begins to dress for the day by wrapping himself in the folds of a purple Turkish towel of cunning workmanship to the soft music of the bass drum and the "dance corners" and "chasse all" of the ballet. Even though we cannot see Nero read his home life in the pantomime of a ballet. Any one can do it who will make a study of it and go every evening.

Now Nero has morning prayers to a large sycamore god which has been carved out with a jackknife by a man condemned to death by Tiberius. Next to the lascivious pleasures of the style phone we read from the ballet that Nero has gone to his mother to obtain funds for the day and a largess or two for the voters of the Ninth ward.

And now the music becomes more fortissimo, and the elderly ballet dancer in the extreme right begins to brace up and dance with more vigor, seeking to earn her salary as conscientiously as though she really expected to receive it. This means that Agrippina, the mother of Nero, is putting on more thickening in the plot, and that in a little while Nero's stepfather will be ready for the eulphaler. One can almost hear the protest of Octavius as he murmurs and kind at the idea of taking point just as he is feeling comfortable on the throne.

And now we follow the strange story as the front row of yellow headed dancers in Dr. Jaeger costumes and with putty in the crevices of their countenances begin to circle to the right, and we gather from the Terpsichorean remarks made by the premiere with the bewny look that Octavius has croaked to the low wail of the ophicleid and the shrill wail of the piccolo.

Thus Nero becomes emperor of Rome, with a chance at the surplus and an invitation out to dinner almost every day. All now forward and back; the premiere danseuse turns eight cartwheels across the stage and picks a torch out of the hand of a vestal virgin from Hunters Point. This means that flush times have again returned to Rome, and on the Rue de Seneca there is a strong bull movement in stocks.

Nero now gets married to a plain, but well connected girl whose father owns the lending paper there. He does not really love her, and so the result born gives an air of pain and the bass fiddle is soon to shudder as the walk-around on the stage indicates that Nero has fallen in love with Acte, a freedwoman who dresses plainly, but looks first rate. It is plain now from the diction de ballet that Nero is leading a double life at least, and that he is out nights a good deal, d'carr'ing on at a great rate.

Oh, why will men, especially emperors, do that way? They must know that some day the populace will drop on it, and shame cover their otherwise luminous careers. Acte of course knows that her parents would not approve of this style of cutting up on her part; but there is a sort of romance about living in a pleasant flat overlooking the Champagna without paying rent for it, and so she goes on, knowing that Nero's wife is at home alone sewing carpet rag or upholstering the throne while Acte is at route and balls almost continually.

It is hard sometimes for one unaccustomed to these things to readily distinguish between a ballet d'action and a divertissement. I will try to make that clear, so that no one need ever bother about it any more. A ballet d'action is one in which one is able to readily follow the anecdote by paying attention to the dancing, whereas a divertissement is simply a sort of festival where everybody is apparently feeling first rate, and all sorts of chipper little figures are danced, from a plain jig to leoprog and prisoners base.

The ballet d'action was introduced into civilized life about the sixteenth century, and was used for the celebration of great events, such as eminent victories and the marriage of princes. Tights had not then been introduced, as the climate was mild and very little inconvenience from cold felt on the part of the dancers. We are told by the historians that "the cooler the air the higher kicked the premiere." The first ballet to obtain much recognition occurred in the sixteenth century, at the time of the marriage of the Duc de Joyeuse with Mlle. de Vandemont, the sister of the queen.

CHARGES OF PROFESSIONALISM.

Scuttler Corbett on Trial Before His Club.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Whether James P. Corbett, the noted Chicago scuttler, and member of the Iroquois Boat club, of Chicago, is an amateur or a professional is to be decided by the executive committee of the National Association of Amateur Chessmen today. Corbett proposes to make a stubborn fight and the case will prove one of the most interesting in the history of amateur athletics.

Other charges are to the effect that he conspired with a number of Canadians to "throw" the senior single championship at the last national regatta on Lake Calumet at Pullman, and that several races which he won, particularly the one in which he beat Kovt were crooked.

Another matter to receive discussion will be the length of courses at regattas under the auspices of the association. All the clubs have sent in opinions as to whether the races in future shall be over the regular mile and a half, a mile straight away, or over a mile with a turn.

THE REALTY MARKET.

Not Much Trading But a Gradual Improvement

IN THE FEELING OVER MONEY.

The St. Louis Company's Plat the Feature of the Coming Weeks.

The real estate market has not been at all active during the past week, but there has been a decided improvement in the feeling over the week before. There has been no faith lost in values in any respect. It is the lack of confidence in the money situation alone which has resulted in putting a lull on all speculative and permanent investments.

Several reasons have operated during the week to relieve this feeling in some measure. In the first place, the excellent showing made by the banks regarding their financial condition at the end of the last half of the year, all having declared dividends and having increased their surplus would seem to indicate that all financial difficulties were merely temporary and transitory and do not affect the real financial centers. The financial conditions have changed wonderfully in the last week in Eastern circles. The past two or three excellent bank statements caused a lowering of the rate of interest on call. Stocks have ruled higher and the rate of interest has been nearly as low as before the late stringency.

R. M. Fulton returned yesterday from New York. He states that "the financial difficulties in New York have in no wise affected the real estate market as in the West. If it has made any change, it has rather turned conservative people from speculative stock and grain investments to the more solid and substantial real estate investments. There has been during the last week a great deal of inquiry by the conservative class of investors for Western real estate investments and paper. It is generally believed that the late sudden change in the value of stocks will, more than any other cause, result in turning money into real estate investments. That such is the case regarding Duluth is evidenced by the ease by which money was obtained for the capitalizing of the new National bank here during the time when money, it was supposed, would be the hardest to get.

The activity in real estate here during the last week has, as regards lots, been confined largely to West Duluth. Lots have sold in nearly all the divisions of West Duluth. The greatest demand prevailed in the Seventh division, which is sold on building contracts. In the Second division of Duluth proper a number of sales have taken place. One block of the new plat to the Second addition of Woodland park sold for $8000. Lots have been sold this week in Clover Hill division. Acres have been comparatively quiet, although sales have been made in 30-14 and 51-14. Several good sales of Harringtons addition and Oneota property have been recorded.

The feature of the month promises to be the inaugural sale of St. Louis, the new industrial city at the nearest available point to the Dalles. The outlook for St. Louis is the brightest, and it promises to become one of the most important of the manufacturing and commercial suburbs which are growing so rapidly and substantially. The sale will occur on Tuesday, Jan. 27, and at both Duluth and West Superior. At Duluth the sale will be held at the office of the company in the Phoenix block, and in West Superior at the new office of the company at the corner of Tower and Winter avenues. Choice will be secure by lot, the drawing to begin at 9 o'clock a. m. and the sale to follow an hour later. Great interest is manifested in the sale, and the event promises to be one of the most interesting in the history of real estate transactions. It is understood that the St. Louis Land Improvement company is arranging for four excursion trains to be run on some day previous to the date of sale, which will result in a great many people visiting the townsite.

AT THE LYCEUM.

Work to be Pushed Soon as the Heating System is In.

But little work is being done on the interior of the Lyceum theater. Stone carvers are at work on the exterior, and are working beautiful figures into the rough surface of the brownstone. Workmen are putting the boilers and heating apparatus in, and as soon as this work is done the inside of the stately building will be finished off. The first contract to be let in connection with this is for the ventilation system. This is of the hot blast forced system, and will be put in by Hyatt & Smith, Detroit.

Within a month the contract for the stage, scenery, ornamentation, elevators, etc., will be let. Bids for decoration are already in from New York, Chicago, and Cincinnati houses. It is said that Tiffany will also bid, and should this New York house, undoubtedly the one doing the most artistic work in America, secure the contract, Lyceum theater will be a model of excellence, unexcelled by any other theater in the United States.

BEST PERENNIAL POWER

In the country, is assured in advance the cheapest motive power and the best transportation facilities, and will at once become the head center of the Industrial Development of the Northwest

Whose beginnings are awakening the intelligent appreciation of the world, and whose limit no man can fix.

THE ST. LOUIS LAND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY

Is a corporation having for its object the symmetrical development of a GREAT MANUFACTURING CITY. No pains or expense will be spared to secure this result. Already great manufacturing enterprises have been secured, and one of these, already building, is the greatest flouring mill in the world. A complete terminal system has been planned, and is being rapidly constructed. This Terminal railroad will place St. Louis, in the matter of freight rates, on the same footing as Superior and Duluth. The Northern Pacific railroad already passes through the city, and the SHORT LINE SERVICE, with five trains daily each way, has been extended to this promising industrial center. The Duluth & Southern railroad will here locate its shops and terminals. A new hotel costing $15,000 has already been constructed, and will be opened to the public within sixty days. Arrangements have been made by which the St. Louis River Water Power company is to furnish to all manufacturing enterprises locating at St. Louis electric power at less than ONE-HALF THE COST OF STEAM, insuring to all manufacturers the best and cheapest power to be secured anywhere. The company will reserve in its INDUSTRIAL DIVISION sites for the homes of all artisans and laborers employed in the manufacturing establishments of St. Louis, and lots will be sold to these at very low figures, thus making it possible for every workingman to secure A HOME OF HIS OWN. The policy of the company is so comprehensive, so conservative, that the immediate success of the new city is assured, and when on TUESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1891, the company will put on the market a limited number of lots in the FIRST DIVISION OF ST. LOUIS, and at prices which give every investor a chance, there will be inaugurated what in its future development is to become one of the greatest manufacturing cities of the country.

The Sale Will Occur Tuesday, Jan. 27, 1891,

And will be held at Duluth at the Company's office, No. 7 Phoenix Block;
At West Superior at the Company's office, Cor. Tower and Winter Avenues.

The company will be pleased to negotiate with bona-fide manufacturing institutions seeking a location in the New Northwest, and its policy will be found to be one generously fair and inviting. For further particulars address.

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

Prices in the Wheat Pit at Duluth and Elsewhere.

COURSE OF MONEY AND STOCKS.

Market Notes of the Speculative Commodity Notes Both Here and Elsewhere.

The week closed here with a dull and sluggish wheat market. May sold early at 91¢ advance over yesterday's closing quotations. There was a good demand for milling wheat, but not much disposition to trade in the futures. The weekly bank statement was very encouraging. New York reported fifteen loads and Baltimore six loads taken for shipment. The exports for the last week were lighter than for the corresponding week last year namely 1,044,000 bu to 2,076,000 bu. Winter wheat was reported to be about holding its own with snow in a small section and the crop in a better condition than at this time last year.

Cash wheat in store closed with bids at 91, 80½ and 82 for the three grades and without sales. Cash No. 1 northern sold on track by sample for milling purposes at 89. January wheat closed at 91 bid and 80½ without transactions. May No. 1 hard sold early in 20,000 bu lots at 97½ and closed at the same figure with bids. May No. 1 northern closed at 92½ nominal.

The closing prices today were as follows:

No. 1 hard	80½	82
No. 1 northern	80½	82
No. 2 northern	80½	82

Cars on track: Wheat, 14; flax, 1; last year, 13. Receipts: Wheat, 7317 bu. Inspection: Cars No. 1 northern, 4; No. 2 northern, 2; no grade, 2; No. 1 white winter wheat, 1; total, 9.

Pacific railroads bonds closed as follows: Firsts, 114½ bid; funds, 109 bid; Centrals, 113½ bid.

The advance ranged from 1½ to 2 per cent.

Chicago Live Stock.
UNION STOCK YARDS, Ill., Jan. 17.—Cattle: Receipts, 3,000; firm. Hogs: Receipts, 23,000; weak, 15¢ lower; heavy, $3.40¢@3.35¢; mixed and medium, $3.35¢@3.62½¢; light, $3.25¢@3.55¢. Sheep: Receipts, 3,000; steady.

Chicago Market.
CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The "cure" market for wheat was rather stiff. Sales were made on the open board at 95½¢. The strength had disappeared when the regular sessions of the big board began. Cases Changed.
In district court today the calendar was fixed as follows: Monday, cases 26, 226, 232, 233, 235, 239. Tuesday, cases 240, 243, 244, 245, 249. Wednesday, cases 174, 180, 85, 137, 290.

Too Narrow for Comfort.
A. C. Otis went before the West Superior chamber of commerce this morning in the interest of the building of the St. Louis bridge. Superintendents are dead set against the bridge, and would not give consent that the bills for the two St. Louis bridges, now before congress, both be passed without opposition from the hands of each. No decision was arrived at.

Street Railway Extensions.
Manager A. S. Chase and G. G. Hartley are in the East on street railway business. While away they will purchase iron for the West Duluth extension of the line and probably arrange for the Twenty-fourth avenue line. With the West Duluth line finished the company will probably need double the number of cars now used in the service. It is said, also, that the matter of building on to Lester Park may be settled at a meeting to be held soon in St. Paul.

For Sale Cheap—A Mink Coat.
In this northern climate where the temperature often falls down to the forties, a good fur coat is almost indispensable. When a good mink coat can be purchased for much less than is ordinarily asked it is the time to buy. M. S. Burrows & Co. at their prior to removal sale, are offering all fur coats in stock at greatly reduced prices. All other heavyweight goods are being snapped up quickly by economical purchasers at the Great Eastern.

First Division of St. Louis.
The St. Louis Land Improvement company will put upon the market at both Duluth and West Superior, on Tuesday, Jan. 27, 1891, a portion of the first division of St. Louis. The sale will take place at the office of the company in Duluth, and at the office of the company at the corner of Tower and Winter avenues, West Superior.

The company has decided to accept a drawing by lot as the method best insuring equal opportunity to every one, and at 9 o'clock, a. m., on the day named the drawing will occur, the sale commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m.

Applications of agents who desire to handle property at St. Louis may be made at the office of the company Phoenix block, Duluth Minn., up to and including Saturday, Jan. 24, 1891.

FIRST-CLASS GOODS AT THE LOWEST PRICES.

An infallible test comparison is the only true measure of value, and by comparison only can the greatest purchasing power of a dollar be found. The largest stock of first-class FURNITURE AND CARPETS in Duluth is at our store. By first-class we mean neither the highest priced nor lowest priced, but goods of superior construction and finish in all grades. Not shoddy built goods, not fancy priced novelties; but desirable, sensible substantial FURNITURE. Get our competitors' prices—GET OUR PRICES. Make your comparisons and draw your own conclusions. RESULT: You will leave your order and dollars with us.

EASY PAYMENTS.

Realizing that it will not always be convenient for some of our customers to pay cash down for goods purchased of our house, and while we do not intend to figure strictly as an installment house, which usually carries with it installment prices, we have arranged a method of easy payments, by which you can obtain goods on our one price cash price basis and thereby be enabled to furnish your homes in a comfortable and tasteful manner and pay for your goods as you would a building lot at Lakeside. This privilege we extend to dwellers in Superior or any of the surrounding towns.

An extra force of sales people has been added to accommodate the masses, and we hope it will be unnecessary for us to lock the door and await your turn to gain admission, as we have been compelled to do every day since the sale began.

presence of the preservation of the
the most sparkling humor, the most number of the most chaste and pathetic incidents known to ballad poetry and fiction. This is not defensive of the barmaid. It is merely historic of her effect on and presence in literature. And I have often thought because it was so;
because the public house of old and the barmaid of old became British institutions, unconsciously though universally grounded in the human heart, they have survived civilization and decay.

Because your British nobleman or workman will have his wine or "bitter" from the hand of a tap-room divinity, the prototype of the American "bartender" is here unknown, and 200,000 women serve 20,000,000 British people with their brews and spirits today. There are other effects, such as the rapid national increase in the consumption of liquors; the increasing power in politics and legislation of the liquor interests; and, worse than all, the startling increase of liquor drinking by all classes of British women; upon each of which vast and sad volumes might be written. Rural England is a thing of the past. With the end of coaching days was an end of the inns, and with them faded away the cherry-cheeked Hebe of the rural hostelry. To be sure, if you are a genuine tramp who will seek old nooks of provincial England and Scotland for the very love of adventure, you will now and then still find a gentle being in cap and apron. But if you remain long enough, you find that even this rural rarity is tainted by modern tastes. A farmer's daughter, the child of some one's keeper, of a widow lodge-keeper. She has already her ambition fixed on Edinburgh, Glasgow, Liverpool or London; and a year hence you will find her saucy and pert, straight and trim, and calm, one of the great army of public-house barmaids, at "fourteen bob a week and found." Probably one-half of the whole are recruited from this source. The other half are from the eternal overplus of city-born girls who, without positive immoral tendencies, have overborne restraint, and with much vigor, without sex in sentiment and that saving consciousness springing from the true virtue of the glory of sex, have forced their way into this manner of life and employment.

Some curious facts have developed in my five years' study of these people. As a rule in my wanderings I have sought the humble class of inns; not only from motives of comfort, but, as best furnishing character study; inns on a par with our American hotels of the "second class." There, in the landlord's or landlady's chair of honor or state, while apparently reading my mail or scanning the papers I have been favored at all hours of the day and night with pictures of life, and, during their moments of rest I have received from barmaids themselves innumerable kindly, honest and altogether womanly revelations as to their previous condition, with the mode and motive of their lives.

One of the first series of careful inquiries made was in reference to the sources of supply of females for this vocation. Who were these bright, handsome graceful women? What manner of social condition was that out of which they came? How could 200,000 women, apparently fit to grace respectable and refined homes, assume such questionable employment as this of their own volition?
Of what stuff, in the guise of woman, with all of woman's wit, selfpoise and winsomeness in physical graces, could so vast and anomalous a class be created? These and many similar speculations along with careless personal inquiries resulted in the following facts and figures. Daughters of farmers, villagers, and of various employes on estates, 760; daughters of small tradesmen, 214; publicans' daughters, 187; factory girls 34; seamstresses and milliners, 33;
divorced wives, 11; school error missesses, 72;
drapers' and other clerks, 39; telegraph operators and postal employes, 6; actresses, 13; cashiers, 28; canvassers, 14; singers and music teachers, 41; mission workers, Sunday school teachers and "salvationists," 57; colorists and "artists" generally, 19; "litterary" persons—3 of whom had written poems, 6 pamphlets, 4 ballads and 2 books, all of which "had been published," the balance of whom might be classified as "human various"—33; while 13 had been domestics; 18, seculary maids; 7, governesses;
and 33, nursery maids.

I took these figures to a very noted

English thinker, leader and writer, a man whose name is a familiar one in every newspaper and household throughout the English-speaking world.

"You have a great many women in America at the present time known as
'agitators' and 'reformers,' have you not?"

"And has not each one a mission or scheme, or a divine call, to gallop, plunge and cavort about, shrieking out all manner of notes of warning regarding the enslavement of her sex?"

"And do not these females sound timbre, beat tom-toms and override everything established, tender and sacred, in an effort to attract attention to themselves, until the grand, true wives and mothers of your country are whipped into partial endorsement, the clergy bullied into silence and your editors, through a forgivable chivalry, influenced into lending them a quasi support?"

"Well, sir, precisely the same unfemale qualities which are accomplishing the gradual unsexing of American women and the revolutionizing and destruction of the American home, are at the root of our cursed barmaid system. It is simply a different form of expression of the same original evil—a female passion for some manner of notoriety. Your overshrewd American female who cannot endorse home making, at once enters upon a career of home breaking. She poises and poses, higgles and wriggles along a gamut of 'isms from female suffrage past a score of reforms to Christian Science, theosophy and spiritualism meantime pausing anywhere just so long as she may continue a disturbance element; ever thrilled and ecstatic over any manner of notoriety conducting to what she hysterically imagines has become a 'career.' Our barmaids are just that sort. But we are the most fortunate nation. With us, rigid and healthful social limitations force these characters into their proper place at once."

Many will consider this British comparison and estimate of our suffering sisterhood as a very severe one. Some will be ungallant enough to regard it as an unjust classification of British barmaids themselves.

The modern British bar is practically a walled extension of the ancient British bar window. There is no access to it from the public room. It is as high as your chin. The barmaid herself, behind her silver beer and ale pumps, stands two feet above you, a charming study in black, white and carnation—a black perfect-fitting gown, a dainty white apron, the glory of the rose in, or on, her cheeks and lips. She is, in fact, just as most men love to see women; suggestive of domesticity in her rai-
But after a day and evening of labor and wiles, through which scores of pockets have been emptied, brains beclouded and her master further enriched, the highest and lowest are remorselessly shut from sight of the smiling face. She lives with the publican's family. She goes to a room not fit for a dog's keeping, snatches a few hours' sleep and is again at her post behind the bar to cheer and wheedle the trembling drunkards of the early morning hours. Her meals are snatched between rushes of customers.
She must know everybody; be cognizant of something about everything; have a soothing word for run-bedecked tempers; placidly listen to discussions of herself like those upon an animal; accept direct and infamous insult with invitation in her eyes and honeyed words upon her lips; sympathetically receive confidences of the most sacred or damnable character; in brief, to the end of her days, remain a marble Venus for the worship and slavery of Bacchus' victims.

For all this she receives from six to twenty shillings per week and "keep."
What becomes of her? Many die at an early age of lung diseases. Few drift into the unnameable classes. Some become managers of inns, of cheap museums, and all manner of enterprises at seaside resorts. Many marry reputable men. English nobility's ranks have been recruited from their number; and recently a wealthy young American of Baltimore, wed one of the most beautiful and good of their kind, an Irish barmaid at Cork. The power behind them is responsible for the evil they accomplish. This is incalculable. Because of their presence, countless British women find it easy to become drunkards. Because of their aggressibility, sympathetic kindness and outright blandishments, all grades and conditions of men are more and more enriching the British drum shop with all that should preserve and sanctify the British home.

KILLED BY A RATTLER.

The Bird of Evil Omen Was the Cause.
FREEDOM, Pa., Jan. 18.—Miss Katie Wilkins, 18 years old, was bitten by a pet rattle snake Thursday which caused her death. The snake was kept in a glass jar. A large owl was attracted by the light of a lamp in the place and flew over the top of the door. It struck against the lamp, which it shattered, leaving the room in darkness. The bird seemed frantic, flying about, and a crash of bottles was heard. Suddenly the girl screamed and fell insensible to the floor. Several persons rushed in and were terrified to find the snake wound around one of her legs.

The owl had broken the bottle which contained the snake, and it had bitten
the girl between the ankle and knee.
Every known antidote was administered but without avail. The body of the young woman was swollen and spotted.

To Reimburse Kemble.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 17.—Representative McNelis, of this city, will on Tuesday introduce a bill in the legislature which appropriates $400,000 to reimburse William H. Kemble, of Philadelphia, for the money advanced by him to Governor Beaver to defray expenses incurred by the state board of health in removing the material which the flood of 1889 deposited in the Conemaugh valley. It is expected that there will be little if any opposition to the passage of the measure.

An Aged Soldier Suicides.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Col. Alphonse Thoret, who during the war commanded the Fifty-fifth regiment of infantry, New York volunteers, blew his brains out yesterday at his home in Hoboken, N.
J. He has been despondent since his wife died six years ago and has frequently threatened to kill himself. He was 72 years old.

Two Kinds of Newspaper Men.

Philadelphia Ledger: A few days ago several newspaper reporters were waiting in William O'Brien's room at the Hoffman house for the return of the Irish leader. On the table was an envelope addressed to one of the members of parliament. One of the reporters picked it up, and, remarking that "it was one of the privileges of a newspaper man to get the news in any way he could," opened the envelope and taking out the letter read it aloud. On the day of the Vixenya disaster a number of reporters thronged the office of the steamship company inquiring for information. One of them picked up a writer's list of the passengers—the property of the company—and remarking that "he had all he wanted" made for the door. The agent demanded the return of the paper, but the reporter insisted on retaining the stolen property, holding that his duty his newspaper justified him in the course he was pursuing. Neither of these acts was serious in its consequences. The letter contained no secrets and another list of passengers was found. In fact the two reporters obtained no advantage by pursuing a dishonorable course. But they inflicted incalculable injury on their profession.

The lawyer who would deliberately deceive the court or steal a paper from the opposing counsel would be kicked out of the Bar association and suspended from the privilege of his profession, but it appears that these two offending newspaper men have gone without retribution and the reporter who hid behind the curtain in the Flack juryroom is still active in his profession.

Now, every journalist knows that these practices are the exception, not the rule. The great body of journalists are honest and as self-respecting as they are enterprising. They would sooner cut off their right hand than put their eye to a key hole or do any of these innumerable mean actions which it is the fashion on the stage to represent the reporter as always doing. There isn't a journalist of good standing who doesn't carry weighty secrets that would be worth much money and enhanced professional reputation if he could honorably disclose them. Fidelity is the watchword of the profession.

I would never have thought of making public the two cases cited in this paragraph were it not in the hope that the publicity would do some good. The keen newspaper competition which exists here is responsible for these occasional breaches of decorum and honor, but there can be enterprise without meanness, and news can always be obtained by strictly honorable methods.

HAPPINESS.

[Mary Woodward Weatherbee.]
Is it something bought and sold?
Is the market value gold?
Can we hoard as yellow dust
That will never gather rust?

Is there found, as travelers say,
Some bright country far away,
Down whose peaceful rivers wind
Joy we mortals long to find?

Or has science truly found,
Far as reaches light and sound,
That resident of life's pains
That shall make all losses gains?

Each his neighbor waits to hear;
Shall we find it far, or near?
That weird influence, blending sweet Yearnings for the life complete?

Nay, we know not what we ask.
This not such a mighty task,
For each heart has deeper springs
Than appear outside of things.

If for joy, it overflows
Or depletes from press of woes,
Soon the heart its level finds,
As a pond no barrier binds.

'Tis a growth out from within,
Circumstances hold not in.
These are dead leaves, blown away
From a newer life each day.

Love, believing, wipes out care,
While we mount life's winding stair;
Peace thus overrules all strife,
When we thus accept our life.

A Card to the Public.

There is an announcement made in the public press to the effect that the First addition to St. Louis will be placed on the market Monday, Jan. 19, and this announcement has resulted in confusing in the public mind this so-called "First addition" with the bona fide townsite of St. Louis.

The St. Louis Land Improvement company hereby warns the public that the so-called "First addition" to St.
Louis is no way related to the townsite of St. Louis, that its owners are unknown to this company. The St. Louis Land Improvement company has no
"addition" to its townsite, but on Tuesday, Jan. 27, 1891, will put upon the market a portion of the First division of St.
Louis. Any other time or other property this company knows nothing about.

An Equivalent for Suicide.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide?
Scarcely. For example, the deadly progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly swift in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is the simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication is specially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach and Liver. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is shorn at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow and anticipate the worst. The bitters which annihilates these growing troubles also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malarial and liver complaints.
Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

PERNOCIOUS LEGISLATION.

The country's financial centers are watching Kansas much as did the adherents of freedom and slavery forty years ago. The action of the Topeka legislature upon measures that have the endorsement of the farmers' alliance will be closely watched by financial operators. The legislation that will be enacted in Kansas will give a sure indication of the policy to be adopted in other states that are under control of the farmers' alliance.

The three measures of the alliance that are closest to the heart of the nation are the regulation of railway tariffs, and for the extension of the state law to a period of two years. The first of these measures which provides the penalty of forfeiture for its violation, will meet with the opposition of Eastern investors; the second will be confronted with the power of all the railroads in the state, the third will be withstood by holders of farm mortgages. These interests are represented by agents in the lobby.

The legislature will also act upon measures requiring the railroad commissioners to be elected by vote, prohibiting alien ownership of land and amending the redemption law so that mortgagees shall have three years to redeem from foreclosure sales. Bills have likewise been prepared in favor of state publication of school books, of a general reduction of salaries, of the Australian system of voting, and forbidding the employment of Protestants.

In Kansas the lower branch of the legislature is in control of the alliance, the new party having but one member in the upper house. In Minnesota the alliance-democrat combination holds the keys of both branches. Capital is watching this state as closely as it is Kansas, and while many of the demands of the alliance are just and grantable, it would cost Minnesota millions of dollars if others go through. However, a cool man of business holds the veto power here.

THE TIN PLATE "FAKE".
When The Herald first announced the coming establishment of a plant for the manufacture of tin plate at the head of the lakes, its news obtained directly from inside sources was "jumped" upon by a paper without news whose chief occupation is the chattering of wide-awake newspapers. The Herald was content to wait for the full official confirmation of its statement at the time judged fitting and merely asked its readers to stick a pin in its announcement. Last week it gave further particulars and today it clinches the accuracy of its announcement with the letter given in another column from Capt. Frank Barrett, the secretary and treasurer of the Ironston Steel and Tin company.

The establishment here of tin plate works at an obvious point of vantage is in line with life undertakings in various stages of progress in different parts of the country. In its latest issue the Manufacturers Record of Baltimore, has taken the pains to obtain written statements from Norton Bros. of Chicago, and a number of other firms and companies engaged in the tin plate business to show the folly and falsity of the pretenses that there is no serious prospect of this new industry in this country. They also conclusively the large extent of the undertakings in actual construction, and the turning out finished tin plate in regular running and entirely satisfactory in quality. This Chicago firm has for years been manufacturing cans of imported tin plate and by the invention and introduction of special machinery has reduced the labor cost on this class of goods to one-tenth the cost of the old hand-labor processes. Through the American-made plate costs more at first than the foreign plate, the firm is confident that the reduction in cost by improvements in machinery and processes to less than foreign plate cost, with a betterment of quality, too.

At this the smart Alecks will remark, as they have done, if we can make plates here cheaper than abroad, what is the sense of a protective duty? The rejoinder is straightforward and should shut the mouth of such glib objectors. To embark in the business on a commercial scale requires a large investment of money, a willingness to take some chance of failure for the sake of the possibility of an ultimate brilliant success, and patience to work out the problem of inventing and adapting labor saving machinery to compete with the poorly-paid hand labor of England." That is so and practical business men demand the indemnity for the risk given by a reasonable protective duty, or they will let the venture alone as they have done until the recent enactment of congress. Now, however, unless the new work is recklessly upset by bull-headed legislation, we shall see thriving tin plate plants at scores of points in this country and at the head of the lakes in particular.

La Prairie appears to have the call on Grand Rapids in the matter of newspaper honors and enterprise. The Grand Rapids people got Mr. Stone, a Duluth newspaper man, to take hold of their paper under great promises, but have failed utterly to carry out their offers and the Eagle has ceased to scream. In the meantime the La Prairie paper continues a magnet to the upper country.

Dr. J. H. Gallinger has the nomination for senator from New Hampshire and will fill the place of Henry Blair to the advantage of the state. He has served two terms in congress in the house and has made his mark as a level-headed and trustworthy leader in the state campaigns. He will not leave undone what he ought to do, and he will not do half so many things which he ought not to do as his predecessor has done. He is as honest as Blair without letting himself out as an organ which almost every crank would turn.

The most widely known and honored American historian died suddenly on Wednesday, George Bancroft's ninety years of life have been years of devoted and distinguished labor, and his work was rounded and complete as a man's work can ever be. At the extraordinary age to which he had attained it was natural to look for the closing of his life at any time, but his health and vitality remained so fine that until the last day of his short illness there was no immediate apprehension. The end of such a life was, as it should be, painless and peaceful, an untrodden close of an unswerving career in the public service, as a minister and historian of his country. He has been taken as a full sheaf of corn in its season.

An analysis of the senate vote for the silver bill shows that twenty-five democrats and fourteen republicans voted for free coinage, and twenty-four republicans and three democrats against it. That shows which party is fairly to be saddled with the responsibility for the passage of the bill, and whether it squeezes through this congress or jumps through the next. It is none the less a democratic measure carried by the great majority of democratic votes. This is made the more strikingly patent by the fact that the democrats of the senate were not content even with the bill as amended by the republican senator Stewart, but sprung a free-coinage bill of their own, at the last moment, from the hand of Senator Vest and rushed it through.

A member of the Cranberry Lumber company, speaking to a writer on the staff of the Northwestern Lumberman, corroborates the statement of this paper that the company would move here and that Merrill & Ring, of Saginaw, would probably build a large mill here, as follows: "One of our men was up there (Duluth) the other day looking after some business matters and had a talk with tag men about towing logs from the Cranberry to Duluth. They asked him if our company thought of going to Duluth, and the reply was made that Merrill & Ring were talking about removing their Saginaw mill to Duluth, and if they decided to do so we might get some logs cut there." While this gentleman does not speak with the positiveness used by the informant of The Herald, and naturally The Herald itself, he does use as direct language as do most business men in announcing changes before the time is fully ripe for such changes. The Herald's informant came not only from tag men, but also from the son of the general manager of the lumber company and may be considered authentic.

Commenting on recent Herald articles on the Mesabi range, the Marine Review says: "Just now the new Mesabi range is attracting widespread attention, and negotiations for the lease and purchase of large tracts of the mineral property are being actively carried on. One on this new range is found in an abundance that is astounding to mining experts of the older districts. M. A. Bradley, of Cleveland, who controls a line of lake-boating property that is many times greater than any other individual fleet on the entire chain of lakes, has been investigating properties on the Mesabi during the past two weeks, in company with Capt. Ward, of Iron Mountain, Mich., and has taken an option for a lease on six tracts. Mr. Bradley can undoubtedly carry out more than any concern in the business, and probably means to do so. It is probable that the coming season will present mining developments that may prove a surprise to many of the older companies that have gone on building high-priced steel ships and equipping costly mines on the older ranges."

WHAT PEOPLE SAY.
Rev. E. O. Sharpe: I had someone asking me the other day whether the christian church wasn't "some of those christian science doctrines." It simply shows what the ignorance is regarding a great denomination in a section where it is weak. The christian church has a million communicants; it is the fourth protestant denomination in America, but its chief field of work is in the Central, West and South.

MATTERS FOR BOOK WORMS.

Brentano's have just published what is claimed to be a fac-simile reproduction of Columbus' log-book kept by him on his voyage of 1492. The log-book which Columbus must have kept during his memorable voyage on board the Nina has never been discovered, although the search for it has been arduous and almost uninterrupted. This fact has given rise to the supposition that Columbus must have thrown the record of his voyage overboard, and this surmise has served as a basis to the compiler of this Secret Log-Book, who has spent years in collecting all the available material bearing on Columbus and his discoveries. This version of the log-book is absolutely correct from the historical point of view, and the imitation of the old fifteenth century manuscript is very cleverly executed. It is likely that if Columbus actually kept a log book it must have looked very much like this imitation. The drawings and nautical maps, too, may be true, as Columbus was an artist and a maker by profession. To heighten the effect of the illusion produced, the parchment on which the volume is printed has been stained and discolored as with water, and the cover is overgrown with mosses and shells. Coming as it does on the eve of the fourth centenary of the discovery of America, this "Secret Log-Book" cannot fail to attract wide-spread attention. The exactness of its historical information, the quaintness of its illustrations and the cleverness of its conception must combine with its attractive "make-up" to give this the most prominent place among the notable publications of the year.

Walt Whitman does not believe that we have a national literature. He says so in an article in the February number of the North American Review. The Seligman will discuss free coinage of silver in the Review. Justin McCarthy has written an article on the recent split in the nationalist party for the same number. The extraordinary extent to which pauperism prevails in the United States is shown by Prof. Richard T. Ely of Johns Hopkins University in the same Review, while the article by Mr. Lecky in the January number on "Ireland in the Light of History," will be followed by a further contribution in March.

A new book, in certain features of the same general class with "Looking Backward," will soon be published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. It is entitled "The Crystal Edition," and is written by Channing Thomas of Boston, who describes the possible achievements of science which may be made in the next 1000 years and the results to mankind. He also indicates what benign results would follow from the adoption of the motto of the Order of the Crystal Edition, namely, "to be true and honest in every word, act and deed."

John B. Alden, New York, is making good progress with his Manifesto Cyclopaedia, the latest issue of which is Vol. XXV, bringing the topics down to the 'N's. This is the cheapest cyclopaedia ever published; it costs only seventy-five cents per volume bound in cloth and is bound in half morocco and is sold on easy installment terms. The whole field of human knowledge is comprehensively covered, the subjects have been well brought down to date, and there are numerous illustrations.

The Duluth Tribune annual, a forty-page issue, was out a few days ago. It contains a resume of the industries of Duluth and vicinity and a good deal of statistical matter which represents very considerable labor in compilation. Valuable developments about Duluth, and the two-page map of Duluth and suburbs in the line of pictorial work, is an excellent production of the local craft, and would appear to represent a good deal of profit.

The "American Etcher and Art Review" for 1891 will be issued monthly, each number consisting of letter press, handsomely illustrated, and two art supplements, viz: A full page etching and a full page color plate. The two etchings are made especially for the magazine by twelve American artists, and the color plates are printed in several colors by the French, by the process of color printing. To obtain copies, address the publishers, George F. Kelly & Company, 31 Union square, New York.

Frederic Remington, the artist, has just returned from the scene of the late Indian disturbances, bringing with him a number of sketches illustrating incidents and events on the frontier. Several of these sketches, including a view of the battleground at Wounded Knee creek and the beginning of the fight, together with a descriptive article by Mr. Remington, will be published in Harpers Weekly, Jan. 21.

ARBITRATION OR WAR.

Difficulties of the Settlement of the Hering (Harpers Weekly.)
The letter of Secretary Blaine is conclusive evidence of the desirability of arbitration in the Hering case. The question is of the interpretation of treaties and the historical precedents. Why should we fail to fighting about such a difference? If arbitration is of any use in any case whatever, why is this not precisely the case? If there be some political or party consideration involved, does anyone seriously suppose that the fortunes of the republican party would be improved by precipitating a war with England about the seal fishery in the Bering sea?

The war of 1812 and a least a popular cry. The impression of American citizens on British ships, if not the real cause of the war, was its popular cause. Yet never was a more unpopular war, and an administration which should so wholly misunderstand the national feeling as to contemplate war as a settlement of the present difference about the seal fishery would at once, and justly, incur the loss of public confidence.

THE STEEL AND TIN CO.

Statement Regarding Tin Making from the Manager

FULLY CORROBORATES THE HERALD.

Though the Extra Cost is More Than Was Stated in This Paper.

The following letter was received today from Capt. Frank Barrett, secretary and treasurer of the Ironstone Steel company, concerning the intention of the company to manufacture tin at Ironstone.

"Since The Herald has said as much as it has, you may say we have changed our name to The Ironstone Steel and Tin company."

"While our plant will be worth $1,000,000, we don't intend or want to increase our capital stock. It cost the Neudringhaus Bros. of St. Louis, Mo., $250,000 to make the change, we can do it for $50,000 less than they, on account of the peculiar adaptability of the plant that will be removed to Ironstone. This change was made by the stockholders without one dissenting vote. We shall put in stamping machines that will manufacture all kinds of tin goods as well as sheet iron goods."

FROZEN WATER PIPES.

Hints as to What to do Before the Plumber or Gasman.

To find the water pipes leaking, frozen, or perhaps burst, is no rare occurrence during the winter in modern houses. Nothing more thoroughly demoralizes the domestic machinery than such unlucky happenings. Floors are wet, ceilings leak, the water is shut off, and the whole household is at a standstill, waiting for that vexatious will-o'-the-wisp, the plumber.

Whenever the leak is visible, the housewife can cure the ill herself, at least temporarily. Shut off the water first, and then spread some white lead on a cloth, like a plaster. The thin film over the leak, and the plaster will soon harden, for the water cannot work its way out or prevent the plaster's adhering. Unless the plumber will make some repairs when he does come, the lead plaster is more permanent than any putty joint or weak solder. Let a pound of white lead stand a day or two until it is in a lump, and then cover it with water. It will be soft and ready for use at any time. Strips of rubber cut from old rubber shoes and bound tightly over the leaks in hot-water pipes will close the holes and stop the dripping flood.

When the water freezes in the trap of the bathroom or the kitchen sink, a quart of common salt thrown into them will thaw them out more rapidly than hot water. A lighted lamp placed under a frozen water-pipe is more rapid and convenient in its work than pouring on hot water. A lamp, the flame partly lowered, placed under an exposed bend or length of pipe which is liable to freeze is a simple preventive of trouble in bitter weather.

An Equivalent for Sulfate.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide? Surely. For example, the deadly progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly so—in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is the simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication is especially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is shown at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow and anticipate the worst. The Bitters which annihilates these growing troubles also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malaria and liver complaints. Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she became a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a Woman, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

WEEKLY TOTAL OF GRAIN STOCKS.

Duluth, Chicago and New York Speculative Markets for the Day.

The market opened here today at from 1/4c to 1/2c off from Saturday's closing figures. The market ruled declining but more active than some time heretofore. Toward noon the market ruled somewhat fluctuating. Several of the mill firms at Chicago, it was reported, had endeavored to sustain May there at 1/4c and may hold the market. Several of the larger firms were reported to have several million bushels of wheat. There was not much disposition to buy owing to the sluggish condition of the flour market, and the price remaining unimpaired until the close, with a decline all around from Saturday's figures of 1/4c. The close was from 1/4c to 1/2c below the opening. The close was weak and unsettled, with bids for January 1 hard only. The early hours of the session were quite active on declining prices, while the afternoon session was dull and sluggish with weaker prices.

The dealing was confined to cash and May wheat. Cash No. 1 hard winter in store winter receipts sold early at 90c and later in the season of 89 1/2c closing at 90 1/2c for No. 1 hard in 25,000 bu lots and selling later at 89 1/2c and 90 1/2c in 10,000 and 20,000 bu lots. The close was still lower at 90c nominal. May No. 1 northern wheat sold in lots of 15,000 bu at 92 1/2c in the forenoon, but weakened a great deal in the afternoon session, closing slowly at 91 1/2c.

The closing prices were as follows:

DONNELLY'S PROTEST ADMITTED.

But When Is This Brilliant Set of Servants to Begin the Work its Paid For?

St. Paul, Jan. 20.—[Special to The Herald].—The legislature convened as usual with a very full attendance, while the galleries of both houses were graced by lady visitors. The interesting feature of the morning session in the senate was the final protest, produced and read by Donnelly, which bore the signatures of twenty-eight senators. It denounced the language of the former protest accusing certain members of the minority of misrepresentation and falsehoods, claimed that the president of the senate tried to crawl out of a small hole and is now convinced that he cannot make up stuffed dummies, subject to the call of the gavel, and that he was using power that did not belong to him.

President Ives called Senator Sanborn to the chair and the debate continued until 12 o'clock; it questioned the constitutional provision for the protection of the minority and considered the parliamentary usage of language of both parties. Donnelly quoted poetry, referring to the rat on a tented with one hole as a rat of very little soul—expressed that he had no respect to the chairman, for there was marked difference between chairman and speaker. Keller made the personal speech of the session by asking that the protest might go on record and that all might bury the hatchet forever and do business that might be satisfactory to constituents.

Senator John Day Smith got to the front again, Donnelly grew excited and on a decision against the protest cried: "I appeal from the decision of the chair and order Smith to take his seat."

Keller said it was a kid glove protest, and took us fellows a long time to fix it up and we demand the same privilege as the original protest had. "Chairman Sanborn ruled it was not a protest, nor a constitutional law. Donnelly then offered a resolution denouncing Sanborn for deserving the condemnation of the entire body for so ruling. He then moved for a roll call as to sustaining the decision of the chair and was again overruled.

Donnelly then quickly offered a resolution to elect Ives speaker, and the roll call was taken and the resolution was adopted. Keller, who had been protesting, but little business of importance, dwelling upon contested elections, which are to be decided as to the merits.

The majority of those who have presented themselves for money have thus far been small dealers, speculators, those having large accounts, however, have perfect confidence in the bank's ability to weather the storm. The bank officials assert that they are able to stand a protracted run. It will be some time before the money market is cleared up, work as to the American National, but there is still a possibility that the depositors may be paid in full.

Money sharks are buying the accounts of the savings bank depositors when they are sold at a discount. One account of $800, representing the savings years, sold it for ninety cents on the dollar. Many similar instances are reported.

A TEST CASE.

To Test the Constitutionality of the McKinley Bill.
St. Louis, Jan. 20.—Messrs. Lowell and Ferris, attorneys for Charles H. Wyman & Co., have filed an application in the United States circuit court, praying that court to order the board of general appraisers at New York to produce their records of review. The action is in reality an attack against the constitutionality of the McKinley bill, and is brought in the nature of an appeal from the decision of the general board of appraisers made on importations made to Wyman & Co. last October. The imported articles were classified and assessed by the collector of customs here under the McKinley bill. The importers protested and claimed that the duty should be assessed under the old law. The matter was referred to the general board of appraisers and the collector.

Yesterday's action takes it to a higher court. The application alleges that the McKinley bill is unconstitutional on the ground that the bill signed and approved by the President is not the bill passed by congress.

MOVING THE EQUATOR.

It is Now Located Near Mr. Mills' Seat in Congress.

DON'T APPEAR TO LIKE REED'S RULINGS.

"Treason," "Liar," "Fraud" and Numerous Other Epithets Bandied About Freely.

TON, Jan. 20.—In continuation of the policy of the democratic side of the house made manifest yesterday, Mr. Reed denigrated the reading of the journal in full, and demanded that the various executive communications, resolutions, bills and petitions be read. The speaker directed the clerk to read this portion of the journal, which is ordinarily omitted. This consumed the time until 1 o'clock. A scene of wild confusion then ensued. The speaker having stated the question to be on the approval of the reading of the journal, the affirmative vote, Mr. Mills asked whether the proper question was not on ordering the reading of the journal. Mr. Reed asked the question to be on the affirmative vote, Mr. Mills asked whether the proper question was not on ordering the reading of the journal. Mr. Reed asked the question to be on the affirmative vote, Mr. Mills asked whether the proper question was not on ordering the reading of the journal.

This inquiry was based on the fact that when the clerk had finished reading the first part of the journal, Mr. McKinley demanded the previous question. The speaker said the demand had not been renewed after the reading of the completed journal and Mr. McKinley complied him.

Mr. Mills said he desired to debate the question of the approval of the journal, but the speaker declined to recognize the demand. Mr. McKinley demanded the previous question. The speaker said the demand had not been renewed after the reading of the completed journal and Mr. McKinley complied him.

Mr. Mills, very much excited, strode down the aisle and shaking his fist at the speaker, vociferously denounced him, and accused him of practicing a fraud upon the house. "You are perpetrating a fraud upon the house," he thundered, "and you know it."

His party colleagues burst into a chorus of applause and cheers and gathered around their champion. The speaker was immovable. The uproar continued for a space of 15 minutes. He counted and announced the motion carried. Reed then asked the question to be on the affirmative vote, Mr. Mills asked whether the proper question was not on ordering the reading of the journal.

Mr. Perkins, of Kansas, sarcastically—He (indicating Mills) is a gentleman. He said that the electrician's friends were coming to the front very considerately. AGAINST FREE SILVER.

Movement in Boston to Protest Against the Silver Bill.

THE KING DYING.
KALAKAUA, of Hawaii, Dying Today in San Francisco of Bright Disease of the Kidneys.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—At 6:30 o'clock this morning, Medical Inspector Woods said that there had been "little if any change in King Kalakaua's condition." There was every indication of approaching death, but owing to the marvelous vitality which the patient was displaying, he might live twenty-four hours longer.

King Kalakaua was born at Honolulu in 1824. He was a descendant of ancient kings of the islands and was elected king in 1874. His reign has been quite turbulent, but owing to his energy and vigor a new constitution greatly limiting the prerogatives of the crown. He made a tour of the United States and Europe in 1874-5 and again in 1881. He has always been a great admirer of American ways, and for years his government was practically run by Americans.

Yonkitch San Patch.

When he appeared on the surface he was bleeding and helpless. No one was near him and he fell full of him to go to England to jump. He is 10 years old.

Westinghouse will Fight.
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The counsel for George Westinghouse said yesterday that he thought Westinghouse's financial condition would be a few days. He said that the electrician's friends were coming to the front very considerately. The speaker asked the question to be on the affirmative vote, Mr. Mills asked whether the proper question was not on ordering the reading of the journal.

Three months later Kroukowsky reported at the head of a new band formed in Austria and became more daring than ever. On one occasion the band was informed that he would pass the night in a small inn close to the village of Ewertz. The troops were called out and the inn was surrounded. At this juncture a Russian officer in uniform approached the chief of the band and asked that his card might be handed to the prefect of police. Their commander took the card to the police who found that the sender was Kroukowsky. Kidnapping was his special business. Last October he carried off an aged princess for whom he demanded a ransom of $100,000. He finally decided to ransom her at the figure demanded. A week later he captured a young girl of 18 whose father was one of the state officers. It was three months before the heavy ransom was forthcoming.

NEWS FROM OVERSEA.

Irish Political Situation May be Settled Tonight.

BOOTH SEES THE LAST OF HIS $500,000.

The Usual Siberian Story; Brief Foreign Notes of Real Interest.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Dillon and O'Brien are with the Parnellites unless the McCarthyites come to the terms which Dillon and O'Brien have agreed to consider reasonable. Such is the statement today put forward by one of the best informed men in the Irish party. Parnell is willing to resign, but McCarthy must also resign.

It is thought that by tonight a decision will be arrived at for peace or war. The present indications are not favorable to peace for English liberal influence is being powerfully brought to bear against anything like a surrender to Parnell. Should the decision be in favor of peace, the government is vigorously suppressing the remains of the plan of campaign. Two men, John Connor and Thomas Sullivan, have been convicted of assaulting the caretaker of an estate farm in Kerry and were sentenced each to twelve months imprisonment. Two cattle drovers, for attacking a boycotted man, were sentenced to the same penalty. The police in Tipperary have been instructed to act promptly and unparisally against any interference with the returned tenants of Smith-Barry.

BOOTH IS CONFIDENT.
Will Succeed in Redeeming "Darkest England"; Thanksgiving Services.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Gen. Booth is confident of completing the $100,000 required for his scheme to redeem "darkest England" next week. He has therefore arranged to hold on the 30th a thanksgiving service in Exeter hall, which will also be in some sense a service of exultation over the Times and other agencies that have tried to prevent him from getting the money.

AN EXILED BRIGAND.
He Defied Russian Authority But Was Finally Captured.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—One of the greatest brigands of modern times is now on his way with a convoy of exiles to Sakhaline in Siberia. Kroukowsky, the brigand, was a Russian and came of a wealthy family. Five years ago as the result of high living he found that little more than a remnant of his magnificent fortune remained. Accordingly, he proceeded to organize a band of brigands. At the head of these he invaded the government of Kieff and commenced a system of pillage upon the nobility. Finally the entire band except the leader, was surrounded and captured.

Three months later Kroukowsky reported at the head of a new band formed in Austria and became more daring than ever. On one occasion the band was informed that he would pass the night in a small inn close to the village of Ewertz. The troops were called out and the inn was surrounded. At this juncture a Russian officer in uniform approached the chief of the band and asked that his card might be handed to the prefect of police. Their commander took the card to the police who found that the sender was Kroukowsky. Kidnapping was his special business. Last October he carried off an aged princess for whom he demanded a ransom of $100,000. He finally decided to ransom her at the figure demanded. A week later he captured a young girl of 18 whose father was one of the state officers. It was three months before the heavy ransom was forthcoming.

This decision finally disposes of the question that has caused World's fair directors much worry for some months. MONEY IN DULUTH.

Situation Here as Compared With Other Western Cities.

During his absence in the East M. B. Harrison has been enabled to ascertain the state of business throughout the country.

"Duluth is better off," he says, "than any other city in the Northwest. Kansas City is dead, absolutely dead. Even the best theatrical attractions are not able to draw good houses. Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane Falls and the other Pacific towns are flat. Very little property is doing here. Money is scarce in New York, with the volume of business slightly increasing. All the Eastern capitals have unbounded faith in Duluth."

LEGISLATION ASKED.

Two More Measures that Duluth Will Ask for this Winter.

Among other legislation to be enacted for Duluth this year is a provision making the theft of earth or sand from private property criminal, and the fellows who steal sand and imperil Minnesota Point, will be made examples of.

A measure to give the city power to condemn property on the lake front of Minnesota Point for boulevards purposes will be presented to the state legislature this fall. This will undoubtedly pass without opposition, thus giving the city a splendid drive seven miles long.

The new company is organized to develop a new stone quarry within three miles of Sandstone, within three miles of the St. Paul & Duluth road. A spur track will be built into the quarry by the St. Paul & Duluth road next April. The quality of stone excels the Kettle river stone and is found in thicker and better layers. The quantity is apparently inexhaustible. It is one of the best qualities of sandstone in the state and government inspection. It is quite light in color, almost as light as Kaeska stone and very firm in texture.

Nash, with Miss Lizzie A. Johnson. The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. H. L. McMurray. Mr. Nash is in the manufacturing business in Minneapolis. Johnson, who is well and favorably known in this city having been assistant in the Duluth library for nearly two years.

Capt. Norris Can't Run.

Legal authorities are of the opinion that Capt. Norris would not be eligible to the office of alderman because he is at present under heavy obligations to the city in this manner to the Bell & Eyster bank. ALLEGED SILVER POOL.

House Committee Can't put its Finger on Fraud.

THERE IS HEAT IN THE SENATE.

Live Washington Topics; Political Matters Elsewhere; Some Senatorial Elections.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Representative Dockery, of Missouri, who introduced the resolution for the silver pool investigation was the first witness before the committee today. Mr. Dockery said he had no personal knowledge of the alleged pool. It was finally elicited that he had overheard Senator Vest make some remark as to a silver pool. Francis G. Newlands, of Reno, Nev., mine owner, testified that a friend and himself had associated themselves together for the purchase of bullion but nobody connected with the government had anything to do with the purchase. He knew of no members who had taken part in the silver speculation or whose votes had been influenced. A fund had been raised for settling the silver question. The expenses had been paid by mine-owners and owners of bullion.

Joseph Rickney, of Fulton, Mo., was also examined. He had been interested in silver, but knew of no pool. He had been in Washington off and on during the pending of silver legislation but had taken no part in it.

Harry McKee, of the Washington correspondent for the Cincinnati Times Star, told the committee that he had obtained some indirect information about the existence of a silver pool, in which congressmen were interested, and he had made this information the basis for a dispatch to his paper. He stated that a plan had been formed to get congressmen into the silver speculation in order to influence their votes and that several members had bought shares in the pool. His information was given to the committee. Col. E. M. Hill of Washington had told the witness that he (George) had been approached by a Chicago man and asked to try to influence Southern members to go into the pool. George said the Chicago man had given him the names of several members who had gone into the pool. The witness could not remember the name of the Chicago man.

After recess Senator Vest testified that Senator McKee began to read the synopsis of the journal, and he expressed his opinion of the journal, and he expressed his opinion of the journal, and he expressed his opinion of the journal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—In the senate today the committee on the silver question was held. Mr. Gorman demanded the reading in full with the remark: "I want to hear this journal read." At the conclusion of the reading Mr. Gorman moved to strike out that part of the record which declared that Mr. Aldrich's motion to consider with consideration of the silver question was determined in the affirmative.

The senator from Maryland explained that he made this motion simply to have the record conform strictly to the proceedings of the senate so that an entry could not be made to declare a motion carried when the vote had not been put to the senate. The point was corroborated by the record that the vote Mr. Aldrich's motion was not announced to the senate, the last statement made by the chair being: "The yeas appear to be in the majority." Mr. Gorman referred to the cloture resolution, and maintained that the people would not allow the party that should pass such a measure.

Mr. Morgan said that his motion involved a great question of practical importance. It was a question whether in this great body, the right to amend the constitution of the states shall be stricken down and he desired the yeas and nays on his motion.

The vice-president stated that the decision of yesterday was erroneous in so far as it held that it seemed that there had no right to yield to another senator without unanimous consent, and the ruling was modified to that extent.

IN THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—A storm yesterday has not yet moved away from the skies of the house. There is rumbling in the air and Messrs. Miller, Gland and Rogers are criticizing the conduct and rulings of the speaker. The end is not yet, for the speaker has retorted in kind.

A TEST CASE.

Whether the Right Construction is Placed Upon Violent Throwing.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—The state supreme court will shortly be called upon to determine whether the throwing of vitriol with the result of maiming the body can be legally construed as mayhem. The question comes up in the case of John Fauch, who some time ago threw vitriol in the face of Bertha Kohler. The fluid struck her left eye and penetrated the orbit of her ear. As a result she has totally lost her hearing while the eye is burnt out. Fauch was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for eight years, but has appealed the case.

Sullivan Will Fight Again.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—James W. Kelly, Phil Lynch, and last Thursday visited Chicago to see John L. Sullivan, arrived here last night. Kelly says he had a talk with Sullivan, and that he will fight him. Sullivan has practically made up his mind to have one more fight. This will probably be his last, if he defeats the winner of the Corbett-Jackson fight. If not Sullivan, either of the men mentioned will be the other two.

Chicago's Excessive Patriotism.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—A conference of delegates from American, German, Polish and Swedish organizations in this city is being held this afternoon to consider a project for a combination looking to a celebration of the next Fourth of July in the most magnificent style ever attempted in this country. The organizations represented are both religious and secular, and their total membership comprises nearly one-half of the total male population of Chicago.

TWO CHILDREN OF GENIUS.

Master Leon Marx and Miss Gustie Cotton, of Chicago.

The Bethel church gave Duluth people an opportunity to hear Blatchford Rav-nough, when his voice was at its best, and which has an excellent reputation to sustain, has another treat in store.

The next concert of the Bethel will be given by Mrs. P. A. On that occasion the public will be given an opportunity to hear Master Leon Marx, the violinist, and Miss Gustie Cotton, the 2-year-old Chicago girl whose performances at the piano have won high praise from the critics.

Musical geniuses are born, not made, and genius of tender years is frequently preferable to long-cultivated talent. These two children have been well trained in music, but their gifts appear to be natural rather than the product of hot-house forcing.

Leon Marx, at the age of 14 years has been devoted to his violin for half his life. Already he has done wonders, and a few more years of the unconquerable perseverance he has shown will place him beside the great masters of the violin. If not, those who have watched his career are mistaken. He is a Chicago boy, the pupil of Mr. S. E. Jacobson. His playing is declared to be noticeable for clearness of execution, as well as great mastery over mechanical difficulties, delicacy of shading, and a fire and verve which carries an audience irresistibly with him.

Miss Gustie Cotton, included in her repertory some of the most difficult piano compositions. She plays, according to all accounts, with true musical feeling, astounding in one so young. From the age of 3 years she has practiced faithfully under the tuition of her teachers, Mr. Carl Wolfsohn and Mr. Frederic Grant Gleason, of Chicago.

The past reductions in price are no consideration compared with our great 20 per cent discount sale now on. Twenty cents off on every dollar's worth of merchandise bought.

Put and warm-lined shoes and slippers at a great reduction, as we do not wish to carry any of these goods over.

COLD FAR SOUTH.

Weather and Wolves Make It Uncomfortable for Fenians.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—Shocking accounts of the misery caused by cold have been received from the Southern provinces of Spain. Two shepherds, who were out in the hills near Casares and Alusia, took refuge in a cave. Here they remained in a storm without food for three days until rescued by a searching party. One died as soon as he was brought out to the air. The other may survive. At Medellin Sideron a hungry wolf chased a child in the village and was only driven away when a number of people rushed to the rescue. Packs of wolves are roaming through the more populated districts of Andalusia and are almost as familiar as dogs.

THE TORY OSHEA.

The Trader on the Wolf's Honor Gets Deceitfully Hurt.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—It has transpired that on Dec. 9 Capt. O'Shea addressed a communication to Justin McCarthy de-livering the apology for having hinted at the Leinster hall meeting that a different color might have been given Mr. Parnell's conduct with regard to the city council.

Mr. O'Shea had Capt. O'Shea been vigorously cross-examined during the divorce proceedings. In response Mr. McCarthy is represented to have written shuffling and evasive letters. Finally Mr. O'Shea addressed a peremptory challenge to the city council.

"However funny you must always appear, I am a leader of men, ill-conditioned, dumbly that you are, the straw starting from every seam, I acknowledge that have been your qualifications for your position—meanness and rudeness."

Mr. O'Brien has started for Boulogne to sign a peace treaty with the Irish.

The party will probably remain at Boulogne for several days.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—Relations between Italy and France are again becoming strained, chiefly owing to African rivalry.

France is reaching both for Tripoli and Abyssinia and would have attacked Tripoli before but for the fact that any movement would result in war with Turkey. Italy claims a protectorate over Abyssinia, but French agents have been trying to win the Abyssinians over to France and the evidence shows that they have already succeeded.

WORLD OF COMMERCE.

Wheat Dull But Fairly Steady
After the Opening.

FLOUR STATEMENT FOR THE WEEK.

Duluth, Chicago and New York Speculative Markets for the Day.

The first sales today in May wheat took place at an advance of 1/4c over yesterday's closing figures. After the opening May wheat ruled fluctuating. Private cables were very strong on both wheat and corn. In New York two loads of wheat were taken for export. Here the receipts were light, while the shipments were taken by the Imperial mill. There was considerable complaint among the spot wheat men because the milling men took wheat in store in preference to fresh cars on track paying the extra storage charges which would, they claim, make the cost per bushel of wheat in store fully equal to prices asked for fresh car lot wheat.

The feeling here today was mainly bullish, and although prices fluctuated considerably in the forenoon, a good demand in the futures prevailed in the afternoon. The close was at an advance of 1/4c from 1 1/4c over yesterday's closing figures. The trading was confined almost exclusively to May wheat, which changed hands in large lots. May No. 1 hard sold first at 95 1/2c, advanced to 97c, selling in 15,000 bu lot and alternated between 97c and 97 1/2c till the close, selling in 10,000 to 20,000 bu lots. The close was firm, with bids at 97c. May No. 1 northern sold late in the session at 92 1/2c for a 25,000 bu lot, and gained until the close at 92 3/4c bid under a brisk demand. No sales took place in cash wheat except in No. 2 northern for winter delivery at 82c. The close was firm with bids. No trading was done in January wheat. The closing prices were as follows:

	Cash	Jan. 1891	May
No. 1 hard	94 1/2	95 1/2	97 1/2
No. 2 hard	84 1/2	85 1/2	87 1/2
No. 1 northern	92 1/2	92 3/4	92 3/4
No. 2 northern	82 1/2	82 3/4	82 3/4

Corn on track: Wheat, 11; last year, wheat, 8. Receipts: Wheat, 13,256 bu; fax, 1902 bu. Shipments, 20,000 taken by Imperial mill. Inspection: Cars No. 1 hard, 0; No. 1 northern, 3; No. 2 northern, 1; total, 4.

New York Money and Stocks.
New York, Jan. 21.—Money loaned at easy rates today, ranging from 3 1/2 to 3 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates 45 1/2 @ 48; actual rates, 45 1/2 @ 47 1/2 for sixty days, and 47 1/2 @ 48 for demand. Government steady; currency, 98, $1.00 bid; 4s coupon, $1.20 bid 4 1/2s, do, $1.00 bid.

Stocks were extremely dull. The sales amounted to only 55,800 shares to midday. At the opening the market was very quiet and displayed a reactionary temper. The first prices were generally 1/4 to 3/4 per cent lower, but after the first few dealings there was a firmer feeling and New York & New England came prominently to the front with an advance of 1/4. The rest of the list was 1/4 to 3/4 per cent higher at 11 o'clock than it closed last night. Chicago gas was the only exception, being weak on the announcement that the company was about to wind up its affairs. After 11 o'clock there was absolutely nothing of moment done.

Chicago Wheat.
Chicago, Jan. 21.—Wheat opened rather tame but soon developed an undertone of strength. The snowfall over night led the local crowd to believe that it could break the market. May wheat started at 91 1/2c and sold to 91 3/4c during the first ten minutes. Leggo & Clifford led the buying and Partridge sold on advances. May corn started at 51 1/2 @ 52c, sold to 52c and off to 51 1/2c under heavy sales by Partridge and Hutchinson. Receipts at Duluth and Minneapolis were 240 cars. The breadstreet figures of available supplies of wheat showed a decrease during the week of 810,000 bu west of the Rockies. This caused a bulge to 91 1/2c for May wheat.

Following is the close: Wheat: May, 92 1/2; July, 90 1/2; Corn: May, 52 1/2; July, 52 1/2. Oats: May, 45 1/2; July, 45 1/2. Rye: May, 85 1/2.

English Grain.
London, Jan. 21.—Grain markets opened irregular. At Liverpool wheat had a hardening tendency and corn was in moderate demand at 1/4 advance. Wheat and corn off coast quiet but steady. There was very little inquiry for wheat and corn on passage. At Mark Lane wheat was slow and corn quiet. The French markets were stiff. The weather in the United Kingdom is cold and wet.

Chicago Live Stock.
Union Stock Yards, Ill., Jan. 21.—Cattle: Receipts, 14,000, barely steady. Hogs: Receipts, 40,000 weak, and 10c lower; heavy, $2.25 @ $2.35; mixed and medium, $2.25 @ $2.35; light, $2.25 @ $2.30. Sheep: Receipts, 10,000; weak and 10c lower for poor grades.

Chicago Money.
Chicago, Jan. 21.—The clearings were $12,715,000. Foreign exchange ruled dull at 21 1/4 @ 21 1/2 for sixty day bills and 21 1/2 @ 21 3/4 for sight drafts. Exchange on New York opened strong at 46c discount.

Monte Carlo Suicides.
Galignani Messenger has unearthed a horrible state of things in Monte Carlo. The correspondent of that paper has discovered several suicides in a few days, all due to the victims having lost their soul at the gaming table. The method of dealing with these suicides is interesting. A few days ago a man named C. L. Bour took his own life after losing his money. His mistress applied to the head of the Casino for sufficient money to leave the place. She was given 400 francs upon consideration that she should leave Monte Carlo and give up all Bour's papers. This she did, and although these papers showed who he was and who were his relatives, they were not communicated with and he was buried in the potter's field. A day or two after his death a young Englishman informed a Galignani correspondent that he had witnessed the suicide of a man in the Casino, and that the attendant had thrown the body out of the window and carried it away later. The correspondent found two new graves in the suicide part of the potter's field, showing that still another victim to the gaming table had taken his own life. All this goes to show that suicides in Monte Carlo are not registered in any board of vital statistics, and that their number is far in excess of any dreamed of by the general public. Leopold Graham, manager of the Galignani, informed me that most newspapers and newspaper correspondents are subsidized by the authorities of the Casino at Monte Carlo, in order to keep the awful death record away from the world. His paper has been approached with this end in view, he says, but he will endeavor to let the world know the tragic results of the gaming passions at this place.

An Equivalent for Suicide.

If we allow our bodily infirmities to make away with us through neglect, have we such an immense moral advantage over the deliberate suicide? Scarcely. For example, the deadly progress of Bright's disease, diabetes, acute nephritis and gravel is sure—often terribly swift in the catastrophe. Most people of average information know that this is the simple, unvarnished truth in regard to those widely prevalent maladies. To delay judicious medication is specially suicidal in such cases. The means of restraint is to be found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Give an impetus to the action of the kidneys with this safe and reliable diuretic, and the infant complaint is shown at its birth of the power for evil. Allow it to grow and anticipate the worst. The Bitters which sanitizes these growing troubles also eradicates dyspepsia, rheumatism, malarial and liver complaints. Appetite, sleep and vigor are also promoted by it.

Our English word "paradise" comes from the Greek paradises, the primary signification of which is a pleasure park, such as was attached to the residences of monarchs, in which rare animals were gathered from strange lands, and in which also beasts were preserved for the chase. In this meaning of the word, the southern portion of the United States, particularly the states bordering on the Gulf of Mexico, may fairly be called a winter paradise. While the residents of the Upper Mississippi valley are in the midst of snow and ice, and buffeted by winter storms, the pleasant cities and towns of Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Florida are embosomed in green trees and blooming flowers, while breezes from the salt sea and the blue pools alternate in giving health and enjoyment to the dweller there. The favorite line, giving choice of routes via either Chicago or St. Louis for visitors from the Northwest to the Southern resorts, is "The Burlington." For particulars call on your local ticket agent or address W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, Chicago, Burlington & Northern railroad, St. Paul Minn.
